

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

A New Home Amusement.

The subscriber respectfully invites the attention of all to the late invention of the

which comprises in itself both instruction and amusement. The London Stereoscopic Company are now producing a style of instruments unequaled in this country, which are offered at an extremely low price, putting them within the reach of all. These instruments are so arranged that objects placed within the focus of the lenses, become as distinct in their position as the subjects from which the Pictures are taken, each Building, Tree, or Mountain standing in bold relief, giving a realization to the view never before accomplished. A large and extensive assortment of illustrations have been selected, comprising Pictures of Still Life, views of celebrated Places, Statuary, Oriental Tableaux, etc., etc. Many of these are transparent, showing the effect of an Italian Sunset or a Northern Winter. The large sale of these instruments in Europe, and the universal approbation with which they have been received, is a sure guarantee of their success in this country. A list comprising a few of the many hundred striking subjects, is here added:

Curiosa Americana.

THE great interest that is felt by all, in connection with the name of WASHINGTON, has induced the publisher to produce the annexed engravings, being fac-similes of various articles once in possession of, and used by, the Father of our Country. The Book-Plate used by him is to be found in nearly all of the books in his library, many of which are now owned by the United States, and are placed in the Patent office; others are comprised in a separate collection in the possession of the Athenæum at Boston, where they are looked upon with proper reverence, and guarded with jealous watchfulness. They are thus referred to in the Courier and Enquirer of Nov., 1856: "Of exceeding interest are these volumes, and chiefest those associated with his earliest years. They illustrate the grave, firm, practical boy—the coming man. They tell of the forming purposes of the wise, calm, steadfast, true-hearted republican. It was only by a special effort that this library was preserved to America. Some gentlemen in Boston heard of the extraordinary fact that the books were about being purchased for the British Museum, and they roused to their acquisition for their own city. It was like Boston to do a deed so worthy of being done. It was just like us all, that we came so nigh the peril of losing the treasure altogether. But safe they are, and in the best custody, and the gentlemanly Librarian courteously allows of their examination at reasonable times." Such books containing this plate, as have occasionally appeared at public sales and other places, have realized very high prices—the last book sold, of no value in itself, having brought $30. The seals, of which copies are now given, are from impressions kindly furnished us by Mr. Charles J. Bushnell, of this city, who has in press a work in which they will appear. The smaller of these seals was on a ring worn by Washington, and bears his family coat of arms, with the motto as upon the book-plate, "Exitus acta probat,"—"The end justifies the deed"—certainly, a remarkable motto for such a man. The other two were his watch seals, worn together. Their history is somewhat curious: one of them was lost by Washington himself, at General Braddock's disastrous defeat before Fort Duquesne, July 8th, 1755. The other was lost by his nephew, about twenty years since, in Virginia. Both of these relics, although thus lost at different places and periods, were ploughed up almost at the same time in 1854. They were restored to the Washington family, and are still in their possession. Both bear the initials of Washington in cipher; but there is a difference in their execution, one being a fac-simile of his autograph, while the other is more artistically ornamented.

When the Mint was first established in Philadelphia, 1792, several patterns for coin were prepared, to be decided upon afterwards; General Washington, taking a lively interest in the work, visited the Mint almost every day. On one occasion, he brought with him $100 in silver bullion, which, at his request, were coined into half dimes. Of this coin, we annex a specimen—the profile on the obverse is supposed to have been intended for Lady Washington. These coins are very rare at the present day, not having been used as currency, but intended as presents from General Washington to his intimate friends in this country and in Europe.

The visiting card was the one most generally used by Washington, and it is curious as giving his title of General.

Origin of the Names of States.

MAINE was so called as early as 1623, from Maine, in France, of which Henrietta Maria, Queen of England, was at that time proprietor.

NEW HAMPSHIRE was the name given to the territory conveyed by the Plymouth Company, to Captain John Mason, by patent, Nov. 7th, 1629, with reference to the patentee, who was Governor of Portsmouth, in Hampshire, England.

VERMONT was so called by the inhabitants in their Declaration of Independence, Jan. 16th, 1777, from the French, verd mont (the green mountain).

MASSACHUSETTS was so called from Massachusetts Bay, and that from the Massachusetts tribe of Indians in the neighborhood of Boston. The tribe is thought to have derived its name from the Blue Hills of Milton. "I had learnt," says Roger Williams, "that the Massachusetts was so called from the Blue Hills."

RHODE ISLAND was so called, in 1664, in reference to the Island of Rhodes in the Mediterranean.

CONNECTICUT was so called from the Indian name of its principal river. Connecticut is a Mocheakanneew word, signifying long river.

NEW YORK was so called in 1664, in reference to the Duke of York and Albany, to whom this territory was granted by the King of England.

NEW JERSEY was so called in 1664, from the Island of Jersey, on the coast of France, the residence of the family of Sir George Carteret, to whom the territory was granted.

PENNSYLVANIA was so called in 1681, after William Penn.

DELAWARE was so called in 1703, from Delaware Bay, on which it lies, and which received its name from Lord de la War, who died in this bay.

MARYLAND was so called in honor of Henrietta Maria, Queen of Charles I., in his patent to Lord Baltimore, June 30, 1632.

VIRGINIA was so called in 1584, after Elizabeth, the virgin Queen of England.

CAROLINA was so called by the French in 1664, in honor of King Charles IX., of France.

GEORGIA was so called in 1732, in honor of King George II.

ALABAMA was so called in 1814, from its principal river, it being an Indian name, signifying here we rest.

MISSISSIPPI was so called in 1800, from its western boundary. Mississippi is said to denote the whole river, i. e., the river formed by the union of many.

LOUISIANA was so called in honor of Louis XIV., of France.

TENNESSEE was so called in 1796, from its principal river. The word Ten-asse is said to signify a curved spoon.

KENTUCKY was so called in 1792; the word is of native origin, and signifies the dark and bloody ground.

ILLINOIS was so called in 1809, from its principal river. The word is said to signify the river of men.

INDIANA was so called in 1809, from the American Indians.

OHIO was so called in 1802, from its southern boundary.

MISSOURI was so called in 1821, from its principal river.

MICHIGAN was so called in 1805, from the lake on its border.

ARKANSAS was so called in 1812, from its principal river.

FLORIDA was so called by Juan Ponce de Leon, in 1572, because it was discovered on Easter Sunday; in Spanish, Pascua Florida.

COLUMBIA was so called in reference to Columbus.

WISCONSIN was so called from its principal river.

IOWA was so called from its principal river.

OREGON was so called from its principal river.

MINNESOTA; or, the Wandering Water.

Richmond Hill House.

HISTORICAL associations of the deepest interest are connected with the existence of this old mansion, which, on account of its commanding situation and fine architectural appearance, was a favorite residence of the Commanders of both the American and British armies during the Revolution. It originally stood on a high eminence, and commanded an extensive and diversified view of the surrounding country. In front, was a fine lawn which terminated at the bank of the Hudson; on the north, a thick wood gave a rural aspect to the scenery, which was bounded by quite an extensive stream, known as the Minnetta Water, which, after a sinuous course, emptied itself into the Hudson about at what is now known as the foot of Hammersly street. On the south, after the eye had passed over almost every variety of pastoral scene, it rested at length upon the spires, roofs, and chimneys of the city of New York.

The house was erected about the year 1760, by Abraham Mortier, Paymaster-General of the Colonial forces in America, a wealthy gentleman, who evinced a fine taste in the interior finish of the house and decoration of the grounds. Mrs. Adams, in one of her letters, has given an exceedingly interesting and graphic description of its beauties.

Washington arrived in New York early in May, 1776, from Philadelphia, and must have made this house his head-quarters immediately thereafter, as Col. Burr arrived from Canada on the 20th of May, and waited on the Commander-in-Chief, at his quarters at Richmond Hill, and here he remained until the battle of Long Island, after which the army retreated to Harlem Heights.

While residing here, Washington came very near being a victim to a conspiracy, concocted by some of the tory inhabitants and British officers. Governor Tryon, and likewise the Mayor, were both implicated. Tryon sought shelter on board of one of the English vessels in the harbor, but the Mayor was arrested and imprisoned. The design of the conspirators was to poison Washington and other American officers, and blow up a magazine, and had seduced one of his body-guard, named Hickey, to aid them in their nefarious designs. The plot, however, was frustrated by the faithfulness of the house-keeper, a daughter of Sam Fraunces, who divulged the whole affair to Washington. Hickey was tried and executed, and is remarkable as being the first military execution of the Revolution; he was executed near the present corner of Grand and Chrystie streets. While the British held possession of the city, it was occupied by various general officers, the last of whom was General Sir Guy Carleton, Commander-in-Chief.

Prince William Henry, afterwards William the Fourth, who, at that time, was a midshipman on board of Admiral Digby's ship, frequently visited the house, and generally remained there a few days. Intelligence of one of these visits having been received by some adventurous whigs, they determined to make an attempt to abduct his person; a party composed of some sailors and others who were acquainted with the localities, secreted themselves in the cellar of the house, with the intention of making the attempt at night; but one of the men moving around in the dark, accidentally stumbled over a wine-cask, and in his fall, the trigger of one of his pistols having caught in the edge of the cask, it exploded. The inmates were immediately alarmed, and two or three of the sailors were captured, the rest of the party having made their escape; plunder being the only object, it was supposed, they were in quest of. The prize was worthy of the attempt, and we can only surmise the probable effect if they had been successful.

On the assembling of the first Congress under the Constitution, in New York, John Adams, the first Vice President, made this house his residence; it belonged at that time to a Mrs. Jepson.

In the famous law-suit which has been going on for so long a time between Trinity Church and the heirs of Anneka Jans, who claim to be the owners of this property, Aaron Burr was retained as counsel for the heirs, with hopes of success, but they were greatly surprised at discovering that he had renounced their side of the suit, and gone over to Trinity Church, and acquired from that body a lease of the whole Richmond Hill property. Here he resided until the fatal duel with Gen. Hamilton, surrounded with all the appliances of wealth, and every thing that could render life desirable. In this house his beloved daughter, Theodosius, was married to Gov. Alston, of South Carolina, whose uncertain and untimely fate cast a gloom over the future life of her father, and no doubt, aided materially in precipitating that unfortunate affair of honor which terminated so fatally.

The rapid growth of the city in that direction, and the laying out and cutting through of streets, it became necessary to dig away the hill on which the house stood, in consequence of which, the house was removed and placed in Charlton street, near Varick street. The cut at the head of this article represents the house after undergoing this change in its location, and thereafter its destinies were changed; it no longer was the abode of greatness, wealth, and taste, but became successively a public house, at which ward meetings and elections were held; a theatre for a time, and then a ball room, with a garden attached, and known as the Tivoli Saloon and Garden, which, after a few years of partial success, was again re-opened as a theatre; the attempt, however, was a failure, and resulted in loss to the projectors. It remained closed and unoccupied for some time, and was eventually demolished; not a vestige now remains, and on the site have been erected a number of brick dwelling-houses.

It is pleasant to dwell on these reminiscences of the past; and while memory lingers on the scenes where, in our boyhood, we have frolicked and played, or in more mature years reverted to those happy days, we feel the subduing and genial influence of the retrospection.

Philadelphia, June 11th, 1776.

GENTLEMEN:

The Congress have this day received Advices and are fully convinced, that it is the design of General Howe to make an attack upon the City of New York as soon as possible. The attack, they have reason to believe, will be made within ten days. I am therefore most earnestly to request you, by order of Congress, to call forth your Militia as requested in my letter of the 4th inst., and to forward them with all dispatch to the City of New York; and that you direct them to march in Companies, or in any other way that will hasten their arrival there. The important day is at hand which will decide, not only the fate of the City of New York, but in all probability of the whole Province. On such an occasion there is no Necessity to use arguments with Americans. Their feelings, I well know, will prompt them to their duty, and the sacredness of the cause urge them to the field. The greatest Exertions of Vigour and Expedition are requisite to prevent our Enemies from getting Possession of that Town. I must therefore again most earnestly request you, in the Name and by the Authority of Congress to employ every mode in your Power to send forward the Militia agreeably to the Requisition of Congress, and that you will do it with all the dispatch which the infinite importance of the cause demands.

I have the honor to be

Your most obed^t & and

Very humble Servt,

John Hancock, Presid^t

Hon^{ble} Convention of New Jersey.

CHRONICON NUREMBERGENSE, auctore Hartmanno Schedel. Royal folio, with upwards of 2,250 spirited and curious wood-cuts, by Wolgemutt (the Master of Albert Durer) and Pleydenwurff. Remarkably fine copy, large paper, original binding, with brass knobs, plates, and clasps. Nuremberg, Koberger, 1498. $50

"THE ORIGINAL EDITION, one of the most extraordinary and curious productions of the fifteenth century, which can never fail to be highly interesting to the lover of ancient engraving and printing. The fine wood-cuts present the first successful imitation of the cross-hatchings of a pen drawing. If Koberger had printed only this Chronicle, he would have done enough to place his name among the most distinguished of his typographical brethren; but he has other and nearly equal claims to a very marked celebrity. See the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, of which no less than 26 pages are devoted to an account of it, accompanied by fac-similes of some of the very singular wood-cuts.

THE HOME LIBRARY.

THE PROPRIETOR OF

would invite the attention of all lovers of books to the large collection of valuable information, interesting tales, and political intelligence—comprising the cream of all the Foreign Reviews and Magazines—contained in this valuable Journal, now in its thirteenth year; and the volumes already issued comprise matter equivalent to a large and well-selected library; the same amount of good reading cannot be secured at as little expense in any other form. Public and School Libraries will be particularly benefited by the possession of complete sets of the LIVING AGE, as its contents are adapted to improve and interest the minds of the young. It has, for many years, met with the approval of our best men, some of whose opinions are here annexed.

Extracts of Letters from Judge Story, Chancellor Kent, and President Adams.

CAMBRIDGE, April 2, 1844.
I HAVE read the prospectus with great pleasure; and entirely approve the plan. If it can only obtain the public patronage long enough, and large enough, and securely enough, to attain its true ends, it will contribute in an eminent degree to give a healthy tone, not only to our literature but to public opinion. It will enable us to possess, in a moderate compass, a select library of the best productions of the age. It will do more; it will redeem our periodical literature from the reproach of being devoted to light and superficial reading, to transitory speculations, to sickly and ephemeral sentimentalities, and false and extravagant sketches of life and character.

JOSEPH STORY.

NEW YORK, 7th May, 1844.
I APPROVE very much of the plan of the "Living Age;" and if it be conducted with the intelligence, spirit, and taste that the prospectus indicates (of which I have no reason to doubt), it will be one of the most instructive and popular periodicals of the day.

JAMES KENT.

WASHINGTON, 27th Dec., 1845.
OF all the Periodical Journals devoted to literature and science which abound in Europe and in this country, this has appeared to me the most useful. It contains, indeed, the exposition only of the current literature of the English language; but this, by its immense extent and comprehension, includes a portrait of the human mind, in the utmost expansion of the present age.

J. Q. ADAMS.

THE LIVING AGE is published every Saturday, by LITTELL, SON & COMPANY, corner of Tremont and Bromfield Streets, Boston. Price 13 cents a number, or six dollars a year in advance. Remittances for any period will be thankfully received and promptly attended to.

POSTAGE FREE.

We will send the LIVING AGE, postage free, to all subscribers within the United States who remit in advance, directly to the office of publication, the sum of six dollars; thus placing our distant subscribers on the same footing as those nearer to us, and making the whole country our neighborhood.

I.—THE ABRIDGMENT OF THE DEBATES OF CONGRESS; OR, THE POLITICAL HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES. Edited by Col. THOMAS H. BENTON,

FROM THE ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS.

This History commences with the organization of the Government, 1789, and will comprise fifteen volumes, ending with 1856. Each volume will contain about 750 pages large size double columns, and is furnished to subscribers in cloth, at $8; law sheep, $8 50; half morocco, $4; half calf extra, $4 50.

VOLUME FOUR is now ready. The work is giving good satisfaction among all classes. It is of National interest; it will contain the Wisdom of Congress for Seventy Years, and will be an invaluable history of "what has been done and how it was done." The INDEXING is very complete, and in every way the work realizes a great desideratum.

II.—THE NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA—FORMING A COMPLETE DICTIONARY OF GENERAL KNOWLEDGE. Edited by

CHARLES H. DANA AND GEORGE RIPLEY,

AIDED BY A NUMEROUS SELECT CORPS OF WRITERS IN ALL BRANCHES OF SCIENCE, ART, AND LITERATURE.

The object of the Publishers and Editors is to produce a Cyclopædia of the highest practical character, and to meet the wants of the American people. The work will possess a strictly original character, as far as the nature of a Cyclopædia permits. The information of any importance found in all previous Cyclopædias and Dictionaries, will be comprised in the NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA.

The work will be published exclusively by subscription, in about fifteen large octavo volumes, each containing about 750 TWO-COLUMN pages.

Price, in cloth, $8; leather, library style, $8 50; half morocco, $4; half Russia, $4 50. It is intended to issue the 1st volume on or before the first of December, the 2d early in the Spring, and the successive volumes every two to three months.

To insure uniform Prices and regularity in the delivery of the volumes in all parts of the country, Local Agents are, or will be, appointed in every city and principal town; and we shall aim to employ only such persons as will have the confidence of the people.

Our fellow-citizens in all parts of the country are respectfully invited to co-operate with and aid us in bringing out this series of Standard and useful works.

The Imperial Photograph.

THE latest and most striking movement in PHOTOGRAPHS is illustrated by the Imperial Photograph on exhibition and made only at

BRADY'S GALLERY,

NO. 859 BROADWAY.

It is regarded by eminent connoisseurs as faultlessly artistic, complete, and perfect. Its principal excellences are those of unusual size, elaborate finish, absolute accuracy of form and likeness, and entire durability. It is produced by means of one of the largest in the world; a few minutes only are required to complete the sitting. Since its introduction, Mr. BRADY has received visits from many of the distinguished men of the country, IMPERIAL PHOTOGRAPHS of whom now embellish this Gallery. In addition to the Imperial Mezzotints, his collection contains a great number of specimens in oil and water-color and pastel. Persons possessing may obtain copies of any size, colored and finished as perfectly as if taken from life. Duplicate copies are readily produced at a moderate cost. Historical Societies, Families, and others desirous of having copies of Portraits of Prominent Men deceased, will receive every attention. Families or Clubs desirous of interchanging Portraits will receive especial attention. Academy or University classes Photographed on liberal terms.

SOUTHERN AND WESTERN VISITORS

The Eclectic Magazine,

1857-1858.

THE Editor of the ECLECTIC MAGAZINE, desirous of extending its usefulness as a literary journal, respectfully solicits the patronage and attention of the public, to its merits:

I.—For thirteen years the ECLECTIC has found favor with the public, and high commendation from the press, for the sterling worth and permanent value of its pages. It is now in its 43d volume.

II.—Its design and purpose is to present to its readers the choicest treasures of thought, and the ablest productions of European writers, as they appear in the Reviews and Periodicals of Great Britain and the Continent.

III.—Its combined excellences and permanent value give it a just claim to a place in every well-selected public and private library. A very large portion of the contents of the ECLECTIC is derived from periodicals not reprinted in this country.

IT IS THE BEST MAGAZINE PUBLISHED.

IV.—It is embellished with twelve or more costly and beautiful portraits of eminent persons, or other engravings, annually. The year's issue of twelve numbers makes nearly 1,800 pages, double columns. So much choice literature and art is cheap at so small a price. The twelve or more splendid portraits of distinguished men, or beautiful engravings, in a year, are worth full half the price of the ECLECTIC, as works of ART.

V.—The January number for 1857, is embellished by four fine portraits, by SANTAIN: 1st, the Emperor of Russia, Alexander II., from a photograph taken at St. Petersburg—a striking likeness—with thirteen pages of marvelous description of the Coronation Ceremonies at Moscow; 2d, a Portrait of the late Rev. Dr. Chalmers, of Scotland; 3d, Humboldt, the greatest traveler of the age; 4th, Prince Orloff, of Russia.

VI.—The ECLECTIC for 1857 will contain sixteen splendid portraits, such as Lord Clarendon, Hugh Miller, Dr. Kane; Handel, the greatest musician of the world; Jenny Lind; The Shah of Persia, sparkling with diamonds; Prof. Agassiz, the great naturalist; Miss Pardoe; Charlotte Brontë; Agnes Strickland, and others.

1858.

The January number for 1858 will be embellished with fourteen fine portraits of eminent persons, and twenty-five portraits or beautiful engravings, in the year, surpassing all the other magazines. There is no mistake here. It should be on the parlor table of every intelligent family, and in their library, to enlighten the mind, cultivate the literary taste, and invigorate the intellect of young and old. Try it—you will like it.

COMMENDATIONS.

FROM REV. DR. BACON, OF THE CENTRAL CHURCH, NEW HAVEN.

"The selections for the ECLECTIC are made with much judgment and good taste, from the whole range of British periodical literature. No publication of the kind, within my knowledge, affords so rich a supply of miscellaneous reading for an intelligent family.

"NEW HAVEN, July 1, 1857.

LEONARD BACON."

FROM REV. FRANCIS WAYLAND, D. D., LATE PRESIDENT OF BROWN UNIVERSITY.

"I have for many years been conversant with the character of the ECLECTIC MAGAZINE, and consider its selections to have been made with excellent judgment, with a fixed desire to improve the taste of its readers, and direct the attention of the public to subjects which cannot fail to be of interest to all educated persons. I cheerfully recommend it to the patronage of my fellow citizens.

"PROVIDENCE, July 20, 1857.

FRANCIS WAYLAND."

TERMS:

The ECLECTIC is issued on the first of every month. Each number has 144 large octavo pages, on fine paper, neatly stitched in green covers. Twelve numbers, three volumes, with titles and indexes. Twelve or more embellishments, and nearly 1,800 pages in a year. Price, $5 00.

The ECLECTIC will be promptly sent by mail to any address, as ordered. The postage is only THREE CENTS a number, prepaid, at the office of delivery.

Any post-master is authorized by law to order the work, and remit the subscription free of charge, to the subscriber. Current and back numbers for sale by the booksellers, to whom is made the usual discount. Orders received at the office of publication.

Curiosa Americana.

IN continuation of our article upon the relics of Washington, we take pleasure in presenting our readers, in this number of our catalogue, with engravings and description of two very remarkable coins which have been kindly furnished us from the collection of Winslow J. Howard, Esq., of this city. The first is a silver coin, which can, with propriety, be entitled the "Washington Half Dollar of 1792." This curious and interesting relic of history had long been in the possession of a gentleman in this city, by the name of Bosuet. He took it in way of change for a half dollar, 27 years ago; and had kept it carefully stowed away, only occasionally bringing it out to show to the curious, refusing many offers for its purchase, until lately he was persuaded to part with it, at a large price, to the present owner; in whose hands it will, without doubt, remain, as one of the valuable gems of his collection.

On the obverse is represented a fine bust of Washington, facing the left, dressed in military costume. Legend—"G. WASHINGTON, PRESIDENT I, 1792." Reverse—An Eagle with spread wings, bearing on its breast the American shield, and holding in one talon a bundle of thirteen arrows, in the other, an olive branch. Legend—"UNITED STATES OF AMERICA." There is a line which runs across the piece from the letter M to the tip of one of the wings, which shows that the die was broken at the time this coin was struck.

How many coins like the above are in existence at the present time, it is impossible to say; but the present owner considers it unique. If, however, any one of our readers should happen to have an original genuine, we would be most happy to know it. The weight of the coin is at the present time, 206 grains. The half dollar ordered by Congress, was to weigh 208 grains.

In 1791, Congress offered inducements to artists for designs for the new coins, "bearing an emblematic bust of Liberty." Some one more patriotic than the rest, placed upon his pattern the likeness of Washington, the father of his country, and protector of liberty. The device was quickly passed by the Senate; but when it came to the House, it was disapproved of, and by Washington himself, who believed that it would be viewed as "the stamp of royalty," and that it would not only wound the feelings of many friends, but would "gratify his enemies;" besides, the President's delicacy would not allow him to sign a bill of the kind, which might blast his reputation, and the compliment be extended to his successors.

The next coin is in pure copper, and is truly a well-executed design. On the obverse is a bust facing the right, which resembles that of an Indian chief or warrior; on the shoulder, within a small circle, are to be seen a flag and sword crossed, and the fleur de lis of France; on the breast is a small head with wings. Legend—"NON-DEPENDENS STATUS." Obverse—Full length figure of an Indian seated on a globe, around the loins is an apron of feathers; in the right hand he holds a branch of tobacco, in the left a shield, with the American flag and sword crossed, and fleur de lis the same as on the shoulder-knot of the obverse. Around the whole is the Legend—"AMERICA, 1778."

This piece is without doubt unique, and is supposed to be one of the many pattern pieces engraved and designed by Paul Revere.

Autographs and their Prices.

IN sending forth to our numerous patrons this, the largest Catalogue of Autograph Letters ever published in America, it may not be inappropriate to say a few words on the very interesting subject of "Autographs and their Prices." Collections of various kinds, such as Portraits, Coins, Rare Books, &c., by private individuals, as well as public societies, have long been in vogue within the precincts of the civilized world. And the collectors of these, and other rarities, have, by the enthusiastic zeal they have manifested in the pursuit of their darling object, subjected themselves alike to the sneers of the prosy critic and the keen satires of the poet. But the taste for collecting the Autographs of great men, is comparatively a modern one. The world, daily growing wiser, has at last discovered that such collections are not only deeply interesting as mementos of departed worth, but highly valuable as materials of history, to the statesman, the biographer, and the historian. Attractive as other collections undoubtedly are, it cannot be questioned that collections of Autographs are of pre-eminent interest and importance, inasmuch as they constitute a part of the works of those whose memory we fondly cherish, and whose virtues and heroic deeds we love to praise and celebrate. To the man of taste, the man of sympathy, whose heart throbs responsively to the audible beatings of the great heart of humanity, what can be more interesting, what more elevating, than to look with loving eyes on the lines traced by the hand of a Washington, a Burke, a Franklin, a Howard? Time, with unsparing diligence, may ruthlessly have swept away the patriot from the stage of existence; death, with unrelinquishing grasp may have laid its hand on the philosopher and the statesman. But the few precious lines we love to look upon and to cherish with jealous reverence, yet remain. And as we read them again and again, imagination carries us back to the time when these heroes of the past lived, and breathed, and acted, leaving us their example as a glorious inheritance, and urging us to imitate, as far as possible, their patriotism and virtue.

We have taken some pains to collect from various reliable sources the following facts relating to autograph collectors, and the prices for which rare autographs have sold at recent sales:

Sir Richard Phillips claims to be the first collector of Autographs; but a writer in Notes and Queries says that collections of Autographs had their origin in Germany about the middle of the sixteenth century, "where travelers carried with them white-paper books to obtain the signatures of eminent persons, or of new acquaintance. Such a book was called an Album, Hortus Amicorum, or Theaurus Amicorum. The oldest in the British Museum is dated 1578, and appears to have belonged to a lady." Whatever Sir Richard may claim, "it is certain," writes Catherine Hutton, "that he was in possession of reams of these precious relics, each arranged by the alphabetical name of the writer. He was so well aware of their value, at a time when they were little thought of by others, that he has been heard to say he would as soon part with a tooth as a letter of Colley Cibber's; and that he expected a grant of land in America for a manuscript of Washington's."

The same writer adds: "William Upcott has been styled the emperor of Autographs. He had printed, mostly for private distribution, a magnificent catalogue on royal 4to., containing 82,000 items of autographs, principally bound in volumes, and illustrated with portraits, etc., without regard to expense."

"Thomas Thorpe, bookseller, of London, has been the merchant of Autographs." It is probable he bought and sold more curiosities of this description than any other dealer. He has been known to publish, in four years, catalogues containing collectively 25,222 autographs.

Francis Moore, for fifty years a resident of Paris, was also an extensive collector of Autographs and manuscripts. His collection was particularly rich in letters and documents relating to France and England. The collection, together with other important autographs, was sold by auction, in London, in April, 1856. Among the prices realized may be named the following:—Letter of Catherine of Aragon, first queen of Henry VIII., with seal, $68; Mary, Queen of Scots, and Francis II., king of France, her husband—signatures of both to a document, $70; Edward IV., king of England, letter subscribed and signed, $80; Richard III., letter subscribed and signed, $174; Henry VII., letter subscribed and signed, $61; Henry VIII., ditto, $80; Queen Elizabeth, short letter in French, $70; Prince Rupert, letter, $81; Cardinal Wolsey, letter, $119; Archbishop Laud, letter, $80.

At the sale of C. Meigh's Autographs, London, February, 1856, a letter of Talleyrand's sold for $80; letter of General Wolfe's, $84; Fenelon's Autograph Instructions for his Defense against the Accusations of Bossuet, $100; Brown's Britannia's Pastorals (1816), with marginal notes in the autograph of Milton, $109; Twelve pages in the autograph of Tasso, $150.

At the sale of Richard C. Lamb's collection, London, August, 1856, forty-four letters of the poet Cowper's were sold, each in a separate lot. One, consisting of four pages 4to. sold for $53. The rest also realized high prices.

At other recent London sales the following prices have been obtained: Southey, letter, $20; Jonathan Swift, letter, $26; Henry IV., of France, love-letter, $80; Oliver Goldsmith, letter to Garrick, with his answer on the reverse, $36; Sir Richard Steele, letter, $80; Byron, $22; O. Cromwell, letter to "Mr. Cotton, pastor to the church at Boston, in New England," 1651, $178; the autograph MS. of Sir W. Scott's "Peveril of the Peak" (sold 1857), $248; Dryden's Virgil, 3 vols, 8vo., with autograph of Dr. Johnson in each volume, $24; Spenser's Faerie Queene, 2 vols. 4to., 1590-96, with numerous MS. notes by Ireland, which this noted forger passed off as the genuine productions of Shakspeare! $85.

And, to close this list, we may add that the highest price ever realized for an autograph signature, was that paid by the British Museum for the autograph of the immortal Shakspeare. It was written on the fly-leaf of the first edition of Montaigne's Essays, translated by Florio, 1608. The sum paid for it was $500!!

As to manuscripts, the prices realized for some of the rarest at recent sales have been almost fabulous. At an important sale in London, in 1856, a Greek MS. of the 12th century, on vellum, viz., "Dioscoridis Opera," folio, with several hundred painted designs in Byzantine style, sold for $2,945; a MS., on vellum, of the 10th century, viz., "Evangelia Quatuor," folio, with portraits, colored capitals, &c., $348; "Evangelia Quatuor," Byzantine MS. of the 11th century, 8vo., $408; "Dante, La Divina Commedia," small folio MS. of the 15th century, $260; "Officiorum Liber, cum Calendario," decorated MS., on vellum, with paintings, &c., 8vo., $1,195; Offices of the Virgin, on vellum, with paintings, 8vo., $448; "Biblia Hebraica," MS. on vellum, of the 18th century, written in uncial characters, folio, $848.

From the Original, in the possession of T. H. Morrell, Esq.

To the Officers of the late American Army and Navy, assembled on the 1st of July, 1798, in the Society of the Cincinnati of the State of New York:

ENTLEMEN:

Your respectful Address has been presented to me, by your Senators in Congress, Mr. North and Mr. Lawrence, who are also Members of your Society.

The interesting and critical situation of our Country, threatened, as it is, by a very powerful foreign Nation, could not fail to command the attention of gentlemen of your characters and habits of life.

I am happy to find that your opinions coincide with mine upon all the cardinal points: that our essential rights, as a free and independent Nation, are at every hazard to be maintained; that the Constitution of our Country, as established by the choice of the people, is in every event to be defended against all foreign control and interference; that invasion from abroad, from whatever quarter, is to be repelled by united and vigorous exertions; that our Government never ought to subscribe to national degradation; that the evils of war are bear no comparison to the sacrifice or abandonment of those great principles.

It has ever been a maxim with all sound republics, that to give way to injustice is the most flagrant, and to submit to insult is the most pernicious, effect of cowardice. It is impossible, therefore, that you, who fought the battles of our Revolution with so much reputation, upon such principles, should not dedicate your lives to the maintenance of them.

John Adams

Philadelphia, July 9th, 1798.

A few words about Coins.

COIN collecting is a pursuit as yet in its infancy in this country. So deeply engaged in the business of the counting-house, of the farm, of the workshop, have the people of these United States been, that they have as yet devoted very little of their time to collecting and studying the chaste and beautiful medals of Greece and Rome; the interesting and ever-varying coins of England, or even the hastily-struck pieces on which the brave pioneers of American independence impressed their quaint but significant devices. And yet the study of coins and medals is at once entertaining and instructive, not alone to him who loves to collect rarities because they are rare, and who revels in the idea that he possesses that which his neighbor does not, and cannot possess; but also to the poet, the sculptor, the painter, and the architect. All these may study with advantage the ancient coins of Greece and Rome, which, for beauty of design and excellence of finish, have never yet been surpassed, or even equaled. To the student of History, the inspection and careful study of coins is of great benefit and importance. "It gives us, so to speak, a personal acquaintance with the rulers and great men of the past; it brings their actions, in a manner, before our eyes, and we sit, as in a theatre, with the actors before us." Pope truly says:

"The medal, faithful to its charge of fame,
Through climes and ages bears each form and name;
In one short view, subjected to our eye,
Gods, Emperors, Heroes, Sages, Beauties lie."

Probably in no country in the world has such a host of coin collectors sprung up as in England. Besides the immense collections accumulated in the British Museum, and in other public institutions, the innumerable number of private collectors constantly adding to their treasures, can hardly be realized. Numismatic books, many of them modern, and in most cases reliable, are to be found in every well-selected library. Coin collections of vast extent, from various parts of the kingdom, from France, from Germany, and other parts of Europe, are disposed of by auction weekly in London. And the whole business has attained a dignity and importance that cannot be misunderstood or overlooked. We give on the next page a few of the prices that rare and curious coins have sold for at London auctions during the last few years. We quote from priced catalogues of the following sales:—Pembroke sale, 1848; Devonshire, 1844; Stewart, 1841; Thomas, 1844; Dimsdale, 1824; Moore, 1856, &c., &c.

THE SECOND VOLUME

OF THE

Historical Magazine;

AND

NOTES AND QUERIES CONCERNING THE ANTIQUITIES, HISTORY, AND BIOGRAPHY OF AMERICA.

THIS Magazine was commenced in January, 1857, for the purpose of furnishing a medium of intercommunication between historical societies, authors, and students of history in different parts of the country; and thus supplying a want that had long been felt in the literary world. The work is the organ of the various historical societies and kindred associations in the United States, and contains condensed official reports of their proceedings, and the most valuable and interesting papers read before them. In more than one half of the States in the Union, there are State societies, besides many county, town, and family associations, instituted to investigate and perpetuate our history. It is evident that the proceedings at the meetings of these societies, and the essays and discussions delivered before them, are of interest to all students of history now, and will form a valuable source of information to future inquirers. The principal societies of this kind furnish authentic reports of their meetings for the Magazine.

Another department of this work is devoted to "Notes and Queries," on the plan of the English periodical of that name; which, as comprising many subjects not strictly historical, such as bibliography, and local customs, will interest the general reader. This section will be found very useful to historians and others, who, while tracing an historical investigation, or ancestry of New-England, Southern, or Western derivation, may be unable to prosecute their inquiries in person, upon the spot. Every item relating to our early customs or history,—every fact to be gleaned from English town or county histories,—bearing upon the settlers of this country or their colonial history, will be diligently sought for.

The co-operation of all gentlemen engaged in literary and historical pursuits, in every part of our country, is earnestly requested. The work is the organ of no party, section, or clique; but is devoted to the encouragement of historical inquiry in every portion of the United States, from all parts of which contributions have been received.

Among those who have contributed to the first volume, are: E. B. O'Callaghan, of Albany, N. Y.; Pliny H. White, of Amherst, Mass.; S. F. Streeter, Brantz Mayer, and G. L. L. Davis, of Baltimore, Md.; John Reynolds, of Belleville, Ill.; Edward Everett, S. G. Drake, R. C. Winthrop, Francis Parkman, Chandler Robbins, James Savage, Joseph B. Felt, Thomas Aspinwall, B. Homer Dixon, James S. Loring, Dean Dudley, Jeremiah Colburn, William H. Whitmore, Frederic Kidder, J. Wingate Thornton, and John G. Locke, of Boston, Mass.; J. C. Brevoort, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Jared Sparks, Charles Lowell, Charles Deane, J. L. Sibley, and John Bartlett, of Cambridge, Mass.; W. Gilmore Simms, of Charleston, S. C.; William Barry, of Chicago, Ill.; E. P. Sanford, of Onitiothe, O.; H. A. Babbitt, of Columbus, O.; C. H. Morse, of Cambridgeport, Mass.; William B. Frisk and Ebenezer Clapp, Jr., of Rochester, Mass.; Barnice D. Ames, of East Dorset, Vt.; J. H. Trumbull and Charles Homer, of Hartford, Ct.; Chandler E. Potter, of Hillsboro', N. H.; J. T. Tucker, of Holliston, Mass.; A. H. Quint, of Jamaica Plain, Mass.; S. Alston, of Jersey City, N. J.; Horatio G. Somerby, of London, Eng.; Lyman O. Draper, of Madison, Wis.; Buckingham Smith, of Madrid, Spain; Albert J. Pickett, Montgomery, Ala.; Philip Eastell, of Middlebury, Vt.; W. A. Whitehead, of Newark, N.J.; Henry Jackson, of Newport, R.I.; George Folsom, John W. Francis, E. A. Duyekink, John G. Shea, Benson J. Lossing, Theodore Dwight, E. G. Squier, and W. Y. Wells, of New York; Thomas Balch, William Duane, C. J. Biddle, Henry O. Baird, Horatio G. Jones, John McAllister, W. McAllister, J. A. McAllister, Henry Bond, F. M. Ething, G. M. Connarroe, and Howard Edwards, of Philadelphia; Charles Campbell, of Petersburg, Va.; Neville B. Craig, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; William Willis, of Portland, Me.; John E. Bartlett, Usher Parsons, C. W. Parsons, and Henry T. Beckwith, of Providence, R. I.; Conway Robinson and G. A. Myers, of Richmond, Va.; J. M. Peck, of Rock Spring, Ill.; Sylvester Bliss and Edward Holden, of Roxbury, Mass.; Augustus D. Rogers, of Salem, Mass.; L. J. Gogerty, of Shakerford's, Va.; Mortimer Blake, of Taunton, Mass.; Benjamin H. Hall, of Troy, N. Y.; Henry R. Schoolcraft and J. O. Welling, of Washington, D. C.; W. S. Perry, of Watertown, Mass.; William Darlington, of West Chester, Pa.; D. W. Patterson, of West Winsted, Ct.; S. F. Haven and S. Jennison, of Worcester, Mass.; and Rufus K. Sewall, of Wiscasset, Me.

The work is printed in small quarto form, and published in monthly numbers of thirty-two pages each, of the size of the London Notes and Queries, at two dollars per annum. Gentlemen who are willing to encourage the work by becoming subscribers, will confer a favor by remitting to the publisher.

IMPORTANT TO LITERARY MEN.

The North-American Review.

THE Publishers would commend this Review to the attention of the American public, as a work which, dating almost from the commencement of the literature of our country, has always sustained its high reputation wherever our language is known.

It is to America what the Edinburgh and London Quarterlies are to Great Britain, and takes rank with them both in Europe and America.

Nearly all the great authors of our country were first brought before the public through this Review. WEBSTER, EVERETT, SPARKS, FREMONT, BANCROFT, with scores of other noted men, of whom our literature is proud, have been among its contributors; and its pages continue to reflect the best talent of our times.

THE NORTH-AMERICAN REVIEW is published Quarterly, in numbers of nearly three hundred pages each, at Five Dollars a year.

THE RECORD OF THE YEAR.

The American Almanac.

AND REPOSITORY OF USEFUL KNOWLEDGE FOR THE YEAR 1858,

12mo. Nearly 400 pages. Price, $1 00 in Paper; $1 25 Bound.

. WILL BE SENT BY MAIL, POST-PAID, ON RECEIPT OF THE PRICE.

THE AMERICAN ALMANAC is too well known to require more than a simple announcement, having been regularly published for twenty-nine years, and having become, on account of the extent and reliability of its information, an indispensable companion to scholars and men of every profession and business. No library is now complete without it.

The volume for 1858 will be found to be a complete record of the government, finances, legislation, public institutions, internal improvements, and resources of the United States, and of the several States.

"It surpasses, in comprehensiveness and value, any similar compend in the world."—National Intelligencer.

"One of the most useful and valuable publications of the country and the age. As a book of reference, we should hardly know how to spare the American Almanac from our table; there are few professional or business men who will not find their account in drafts upon the endless variety of useful knowledge with which its pages are crowded."—Pittsburg Journal.

"Every page is worth the price of the work. As a general reference book, it has no equal."—Troy Whig.

"My object is to call attention to the fact, that a Policy of Life Insurance is the cheapest and safest mode of making a certain provision for one's family."—BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.

"One should insure in health, as sickness may suddenly overtake the most robust, and disqualify him for insurance."

"Life Insurance the best investment. If long-lived, the insured obtains a good interest on the premium paid, in cash dividends, and in most instances a very large return for a small outlay. In case of death there is a great advantage over Savings Banks."

Reference to parties in New York will be given, when desired, upon application at the Branch Office.

The surplus is divided among all the policy holders, in CASH, thus affording a good and certain rate of interest upon the outlay of premiums, and avoiding the large and unnecessary accumulations of unpaid dividends of uncertain tendency, and erroneously called capital.

One-half of the first five annual premiums on life policies loaned to insurers if desired; the remaining half may be paid quarterly.

The premiums are as low as those of any reliable Company.

This is the oldest American Mutual Life Insurance Company, and one of the most successful, and is purely Mutual, dividing all the surplus profits among all the Insured.

Insurance may be effected for the benefit of married women, beyond the reach of their husbands' creditors. Creditors may insure the lives of debtors.

Blank forms of application for Insurance, or the Company's Pamphlet, containing the charter, rules and regulations, also the annual reports, showing the condition of the Company, will be furnished gratis by addressing the

The Stamp which led to the American Revolution.

HE annexed engraving represents one of the famous Stamps which the British Government ordered to be affixed to deeds, promissory notes, etc., in the American Colonies, the resistance to which imposition was the preliminary step to our Declaration of Independence; and hateful as its sight may have been to our forefathers, Americans of the present day should regard it, on account of the glorious Revolution which it produced, with a feeling of admiration. The original of our engraving exists in the rooms of the Connecticut Historical Society, at Hartford, to which Association it was presented by James Brown, Esq. It was received by Mr. Brown from his brother, Wm. Brown, Esq., M. P., of London. The following memorandum accompanied the donation:—"John Woods, Esq., Chairman of the Inland Revenue, London, found a box of these stamps in August, 1850, being a part of those issued and prepared to send to America. The act compelling their use in the colonies after the 1st of Nov., 1766, being resisted, led to the independence of the United States."

Description.—This stamp is composed of two pieces of paper, each impressed on one side, and pasted together, back to back. On one is the crown, with the initials G. R. and figure 3, and a double cipher of G. R. underneath. On the upper right-hand corner is the number of the stamp. This is on white paper, and is printed from a copper-plate in the ordinary way. The other side is properly a stamp, impressed not very deep yet quite distinctly, by a die, on blue paper. It contains a crown, with the word America at the top, and two shillings six pence—the value of the stamp—at the bottom.

The Literature of American Numismatics.

[A PAPER READ BEFORE THE AMERICAN NUMISMATIC SOCIETY AT THE SECOND NOVEMBER MEETING.]

HE progress of numismatic investigation and record in the United States has of late been truly remarkable. In the general increase of attention bestowed upon all subjects of an artistic or scientific nature, which has been perceptible among us during the last seven or eight years, the important subject of the national coinage has fully shared; and while a laudable anxiety is now evinced, in many quarters, to acquire for private or public collections specimens of every accessible coin, the history of our own numismatic undertakings has received especial attention, and each successive writer undoubtedly stimulates new students to inquiry.

It is a fortunate circumstance for the American beginner in numismatic investigation, that the period to be traversed is one of little more than two hundred years. We are favored in this respect more highly than the archæologists of other countries—the students of English, French, or German numismatics, for example, or the collectors of Roman and Grecian coins or medals. One is appalled at the consideration which is involved in a resolve to master the history of any of these coinages, extending over periods five and six times longer than our own, with a really inconceivable profusion of types and variations to be studied; so that no outlay can procure a complete collection of any one national series, and no amount of inquiry reveal all the mysteries of the ill-recorded coinage. Widely different from these, our own numismatic history lies, compact and accessible, within the range of original record; and there are comparatively few facts relating to it which cannot be vouched for by contemporary authority, though, strange to say, there are some points regarding the coinage immediately following the Revolution which will in all probability never be elucidated, while we are perfectly familiar with the Mint Regulations in force during the lifetime of Oliver Cromwell.

The first coinage which took place in the American colonies of Great Britain was ordained by the authorities of Massachusetts in 1652, when it was provided that shillings, sixpences, and threepences should be coined, "for forme flatt, and square on the sides, & stamped on the one side with NE, and on the other side XII^d, VI^d, & III^d, according to the value of each peece."

This issue was shortly followed by the more elaborate Pine Tree money, and very few specimens of it are known to exist. Most of these are in English collections. Twenty dollars is a low price for the NE shilling or sixpence, and the threepence has entirely disappeared.

Beside Massachusetts, others of the Colonies were endowed with especial currencies during the 17th century, though by no means to the extent that was really demanded by the exigencies of trade; and among the rarest and most interesting of these early colonial coins may be mentioned the Carolina token, or Elephant piece, so named from the design—a large elephant—on its obverse. The reverse had the legend, God : Preserve : Carolina and : the Lords : Proprieters : 1694. This piece exists in a few collections, and is worth, in moderate preservation, from twelve to fifteen dollars. Beside these there were, as is well known, the Maryland currency, the Massachusetts Elephant piece, the Rosa Americana coppers, and one or two other colonial pieces, all of which are now quite rare.

Fifteen years ago the knowledge of American numismatics was confined to a very few individuals in the United States, and was principally to be found among English coin-collectors. England, pre-eminently the land of moneyed leisure and of energetic study, has long been distinguished by the learning of her numismatists, and the wealth of their collections; so that it is not strange if the history of our coinage could once be studied to better advantage on the banks of the Thames than in our own libraries and cabinets; but the last decade has seen a vast improvement in this respect. The number of American coin-collectors has received greater and greater accessions annually since 1850, and already Numismatic Societies have been successfully organized in New York and Philadelphia, while a third is contemplated in Boston. The awakening interest has naturally created a class of writers who especially devote themselves to the agreeable and instructive investigation of our coins, medals, and tokens, and the nucleus of an American numismatographical collection is already formed, to which, we have no doubt, valuable works will now be frequently added.

The early history of American coinage is naturally to be sought in the minute detail of facts presented by Ruding, in his Annals of the British Coinage, which work, an amplification of the preceding one by Martin Folkes, affords particulars, drawn from official sources, of the successive colonial issues, and also of the proposals which were made from time to time for the supply of the colonies with convenient coins. The engravings in Ruding (republished in three volumes 4to., London, 1840) comprise every coin struck in England for the American settlements down to the period of the separation. It is only within a few years that Ruding has been superseded as the only standard authority on American numismatics, although his brief notices of our coins cease at the Revolution, since no other writer made the important subject his own. True, a work published at London in 1761, entitled "The American Negotiator; or, the Various Currencies of the British Colonies in America," by J. Wright, Accomptant, purports to give a description of colonial coins, but it is of no value as a record, and was, indeed, intended only for reference in commercial matters. At the time of the adoption of the Federal Constitution, Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Hamilton, Rob't Morris, and other of our Revolutionary heroes, took a deep interest in the affairs of the national coinage, and memoranda still exist, drawn up by several of the individuals we have named, upon the establishment of the currency which is now in vogue, and a resumé of these and other propositions was given in a small pamphlet published in 1789, entitled "Monies, Coins, Weights, and Measures proposed for the United States, &c." As yet, however, the true numismatic spirit was wanting, and the first actual attempts at systematic classification and record of the coins struck in or for the American colonies and United States, appear in the shape of papers to be found in the collections of State Historical Societies.

At a time when "coin-collectors" in the United States were popularly considered little better than monomaniacs, two or three gentlemen—Dr. J. B. Felt, of Salem, Mass., Mr. J. Francis Fisher, of Baltimore, and Dr. Jas. Mease, of Philadelphia—were deeply interested in the subject, and communicated the results of their investigations to societies of which they were members, or published them in a separate form. In the 3d vol. of the New York Historical Society's Collections (pp. 387—404), will be found a highly interesting paper by Dr. Mease, giving a description of 17 medals struck with reference to America; and this paper the Massachusetts Historical Society republished (Coll., vol. 4, 3d Series, 1834), together with additional particulars from the same hand concerning 33 medals presented to the officers of the war of 1812—14; and also of 4 other miscellaneous American medals.

In Vol. VI. 3d Series of the Mass. Collection, Mr. J. F. Fisher communicates a detailed description of 38 American medals, 14 of which bear the head or the name of Washington; and in Vol. VII. (1838) of the same series, a paper on Old American Coins gives some particulars regarding the Fugio, New Jersey, and Connecticut cents, the Rosa Americana series, &c., &c. These we believe to be the first distinct essays in American numismatography. In 1839, Dr. J. B. Felt's admirable work on the Massachusetts Currency was published, affording a full history of the N. E. and Pine Tree money, the Continental notes, and the coinage at Boston subsequent to the Declaration of Independence; and in 1840, Wm. W. Gouge published at New York his "Paper Money and Banking in the United States," containing some valuable information on the coinage and paper money. In the ensuing decade the interest in numismatics steadily increased, and the work of Eckfeldt and Dubois, of the Philadelphia mint, appeared in 1851, presenting a general tableau of the United States coinage, together with a glance at the contemporary coins of all other nations, the whole illustrated with very fine colored plates. A smaller work, on American Coins and Coinage, was published by the same parties at New York in 1852. It had previously appeared in successive numbers of the Bankers' Magazine. In 1850, Dr. O'Callaghan presented illustrations, in his "Documentary History of New York" (Vol. III.), of the copper coins struck for this State circa 1790, together with an engraving of the great Libertas Americana medal, and the Washington Cent of 1783; and in the Transactions of the American Antiquarian Society, Vol. III., Boston, 1857, the Diaries of John Hull, Mint-Master and Treasurer of Massachusetts Bay in 1652, are reprinted, together with a memoir of the diarist and engravings of the Pine Tree coins. Within the last few years, moreover, American numismatics have been the subject of frequent discussions in the periodical press. Not until 1858, however, did a work appear devoted exclusively to American coins. The "Historical Account of American Coinage," by John H. Hickox, was published at Albany, N. Y., in August last. This work contains plates of early American coins, and was gladly received by numismatic students. The mention of one more work will complete our catalogue. This is the "History of American Tokens," published in 1858, by Mr. Bushnell, of New York, containing plates and much very valuable descriptive matter. We understand that a very elaborate and comprehensive work on American Coinage is to appear shortly at Philadelphia, and that Mr. Bushnell has a similar treatise in preparation; but these cannot yet be considered as portions of our subject. A few catalogues have of late been issued by dealers, which are valuable as standards of price; and Mr. Mickley, of Philadelphia, recently published a list of American copper and silver coins, with degrees of rarity attached, which is a useful vade mecum to the collector. We understand that a more extensive catalogue is in preparation. A few years more will undoubtedly greatly enlarge our list, and fill up the deficiencies still existing in American numismatography.

American Medals.

O the educated mind the study of Medals is a peculiarly fascinating pursuit. Aside from the very natural desire of collecting and possessing that which is, of itself, rare or unique, there is an inexhaustible source of pleasure in the information contained in these little souvenirs of the past. "A cabinet of Medals is a body of history," and Addison's graceful essay, entitled "Dialogues on Medals," affords us a pleasing example of the vast amount of learning and even poetry connected with their study. To them, indeed, more than anything else, are we indebted for our knowledge of the men, customs, actions, and history of the ancient world. The painter's brightest colors may fade from the canvas, the sculptor's art may be destroyed by violence or marred by time, but

"The medal, faithful to its charge of fame,
Through climes and ages bears each form and name."

Medals, moreover, are sure exponents of a nation's progress in the politer arts and sciences of civilization, in which we trace the dawns of genius as well as the development of principles. We would ask for no better text-book, from which to teach a class in History, than a well-selected cabinet of medals. Take, for example, the fine series illustrative of the Sovereigns of France. Beauty of design, and accuracy of portraits and costume, are here combined with the historical data of each reign in a concise and attractive form, which is well calculated to make an ineffacable impression upon the memory. One such medal, properly studied, is tenfold more instructive than the usual drill of a recitation.

In this country, the science of Medallurgy is comparatively in its infancy. The number of amateurs, however, is increasing, and we can boast of several fine collections, chiefly of American Medals. The recent establishment, also, in this city of the American Numismatic Society is a pleasing evidence of a growing taste in this direction. Nor are we, as a nation, so destitute of medals commemorative of events in our history, as might be imagined. An evidence of this is found in the list which we present below, which comprises only such as by their origin, design, or the event which they were designed to commemorate, are fairly entitled to be considered as National Medals of the United States.

We have classed them as follows:

1st. Medals of the War of the American Revolution.

Many of these were executed under the supervision of Franklin and the American Commissioners in France. The great men of the Empire took pleasure in designing them, and the best skill of the French artists was employed upon them. They are not only beautiful works of art, but pleasing examples of the cordiality which animated the two countries during the progress of our struggle for national independence.

2d. Medals of the War of 1812.

This war was as prolific of medals as of heroes, and of both it may be said that they are very creditable to our nation.

3d. Medals of the Mexican War—of which there are but few, yet those are very fine specimens of the medallist's art.

4th. Miscellaneous. Such as Presidential medals and those in regard to whose origin or purpose we lack information.

Webster's Quarto Dictionary.

THE ENTIRE WORK UNABRIDGED.

Dr. WEBSTER devoted thirty years of the vigor and maturity of his life to the preparation and perfection of this his great work. The salutary changes and improvements he introduced have been essentially adopted by the great mass of his countrymen, and are making sure and steady advances to the universal recognition. Five times as many of his various Dictionaries are now sold in this country as of all others combined. Nine-tenths, it is believed, of all the Text-Books used in our public schools recognize Webster as their standard of ORTHOGRAPHY, while not one in a hundred recognize any other. In ETYMOLOGY, George Bancroft says: "It surpasses anything that has been done for the English language by earlier laborers;" and Daniel Webster—"I know nothing on the great head of Etymology to supply its place." In PRONUNCIATION, one of our most distinguished American scholars, with a thorough opportunity for observation here and in England, declares it more correctly represents the best usage than any other; and Professor Wm. Russell, the distinguished Elocutionist, declares that the critical labors of Professor Goodrich in this department have "left little room for the scrupulous objections of some instructors to certain forms of orthoepy;" while in DEFINITIONS, the great and all-important feature of a Dictionary—more important than all others combined—Webster's immeasurable superiority to every other American Lexicographer, has ever been conceded. He who buys Webster will always

"GET THE BEST."

Brief extracts, and a very small proportion in number of those received, can only be given here as

TESTIMONIALS.

It is constantly cited and relied on in our courts of justice, in our legislative bodies, and in public discussions, as entirely conclusive.—[HON. JOHN C. SPENCER.]

Never feel that I am entirely armed and equipped in this respect, without Dr. Webster at command.—[DANIEL WEBSTER.]

Beg to adopt, in its utmost strength and extent, the testimonial of Daniel Webster.—[RUFUS CHOATE.]

"A NECESSARY TO EVERY EDUCATED MAN."—[LORD BROUGHAM, High Chancellor of England.]

The most complete Dictionary in the English Language that has ever been published, and AGES WILL ELAPSE before any other dictionary of that language will be required.—[DR. THOMAS DICK, of Scotland.]

THE MOST COMPLETE, ACCURATE, AND RELIABLE DICTIONARY IN THE LANGUAGE.—[THOS. H. BENTON, LEWIS CASS, THEODORE FREELINGHUYSEN, ROBERT C. WINTHROP, and others.]

Is a work of profound investigation, and does infinite honor to the philosophical learning and general literature of this country.—[CHANCELLOR KENT.]

Far excels all others in giving and defining scientific terms.—[PRESIDENT HITCHCOCK.]

Surpassed in fullness and accuracy by none in our language.—[PRESIDENT WAYLAND.]

May now be recommended, without reserve or qualification, as the best extant.—[PRESIDENT OLIN.]

THE BEST AND MOST USEFUL DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE EVER PUBLISHED.—[LONDON TIMES.]

A noble monument of erudition and indefatigable research.—[LONDON LITERARY GAZETTE.]

While you are about it, get the best: that Dictionary is Noah Webster's, the great work unabridged.—[PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL.]

Recommend it to all students, AND ESPECIALLY ALL THOSE WHO ARE MAINLY DEPENDENT ON SELF-CULTURE OR

SELF-EDUCATION, TO KEEP A COPY OF THIS WORK BY THEIR SIDE AS A HAND-BOOK. So far as I know, there is an unanimity of opinion that Mr. Webster's is the best defining Dictionary in the English language.—[HON. HORACE MANN.]

A library is as incomplete without WEBSTER'S QUARTO DICTIONARY as the solar system would be without the Sun.—[SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.]

Every scholar knows its value.—[WM. H. FRESCOTT.]

Unrivaled by any work of the kind in the English language.—[PRESIDENT FISK.]

It is acknowledged, both in this country and in America, to be the most copious and most excellent at present in circulation.—[EDITOR of the London Imperial Dictionary.]

Dr. Webster's great work is the best Dictionary in the English language.—[LONDON MORNING CHRONICLE.]

When this work is as well known in Britain as it is in America, it will supersede every other book of the kind in the same department of letters.—[CAMBRIDGE (ENGLAND) INDEPENDENT PRESS.]

Dr. Webster has entered more deeply into etymological researches, and with greater success, than any of his predecessors in the same vocation. * * Indeed, on this ground, he stands not only unrivaled, but alone.—[NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW.]

May be regarded as bearing the same relation to the English language which Newton's Principia does to the sublime science of Natural Philosophy.—[ELIHU BURRITT.]

No American scholar who does not feel proud of the labors of Dr. Webster.—[PRESIDENT HOPKINS.]

Indispensable for the library of every American or English student.—[PROF. PARK, Andover.]

If called upon to sacrifice my library, volume by volume, the book which I should preserve longest, except the Bible, is the AMERICAN DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE, by Dr. Webster.—[PROFESSOR HAYEN, of the University of Michigan.]

Other and similar testimony might be adduced from among the most honored names which distinguish American scholarship, or adorn the bench, the bar, the pulpit, and the medical, and (last not least) the editorial professions of the country. Some of these are Rev. Doctors Milnor, Knox, De Witt, Matthews, Ezra Stiles, Ely, Bacon, Taylor, Skinner; Professors Silliman, Olmsted, Moses Stuart, Leonard Woods, Emerson, Stowe, Kingsley, &c., &c.

The Autocrat of the Breakfast-Table.

A Series of Papers, Reprinted from the First Twelve Numbers of the ATLANTIC MONTHLY.

The success of this series has been unexampled in Magazine literature; no articles in American periodicals, and, it is believed, none from English pens, unless it may be the Noctes Ambrosianae, have ever attained such a wide-spread popularity. The publishers believe that this book will have a permanent interest, and will take its place with the works of the few humorists whom the world agrees to call great.

For nice and almost affectionate appreciation of nature; for knowledge of what is most subtle in human thought and feeling; for a genial humor that makes even satire amiable; and for poetry by turns witty, tender, graceful, and imaginative, these "table talks" may fairly challenge comparison in the whole field of literature.

In one vol. 12mo., about 350 pages, with Characteristic Illustrations by Hoppin, and a copious Index.

Price $1 00.

THE FIRST EDITION OF TEN THOUSAND COPIES ALREADY SOLD!

IN PRESS:—A fine edition of the AUTOCRAT, on tinted paper, in beveled boards, gilt.

THE NEW PRIEST IN CONCEPTION BAY.

A NOVEL.

Two vols. 16mo., in elegant Style. Price $1 75.

The events upon which this story is founded took place in Newfoundland. The grand scenery of this barren island makes a framework of singular picturesqueness for the simple yet affecting narrative. All is new to American readers. Life has a strange charm; manners and customs are peculiar; the dialect is marked and full of character; and the simplicity, bravery, and heroic endurance of the hardy fisherman form a fine subject for the novelist's pen.

The publishers believe that this work will make a deep impression, not only on account of its bold and decisive pictures of scenery, the poetic graces of the style, but from the absorbing interest of the story. It is deeply imbued with religious feeling, full of a natural piety that commends itself to the best feelings of the heart. Just published.

The most brilliant collection of Aphorisms, Poetical Similes, and Illustrations of Religious Truths in the Language.

LIFE THOUGHTS.

By HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The avidity with which the public have called for edition after edition of this remarkable book furnishes a sufficient proof of its hold upon the popular heart.

Its liberal and anti-sectarian spirit, its genuine piety, its forcible presentation of truth, its sparkling and felicitous illustrations, and its poetical images, combine to make a work which it would be difficult to parallel in the whole field of religious literature.

It is not a book of mere temporary interest, but will be read by coming generations with a pleasure equal to our own.

In one vol. 12mo., with a copious Index. Price $1. Copies sent by mail post-paid.

A fine edition on tinted paper, elegantly bound, ready in November.

. The following Historical Works are printed in uniform octavo volumes, on fine paper, good type, and bound in a substantial manner. In ordering any of these works, to insure "the genuine edition," it will be well to designate the octavo edition.

The Hon. Daniel Webster, in his "Discourses before the New York Historical Society," speaking of the authors of these histories, says:—

"Our great teachers and examples in the historical art are, doubtless, the eminent historians of the Greek and Roman ages. In their several ways, they are the masters to whom all succeeding times have looked for instruction and improvement. They are the models which have stood the test of time, and like the glorious creations in marble of Grecian genius, have been always admired, and never surpassed."

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC.

THE NATIONAL MEN of the United States now constitute a vast majority of the American People. They contemplate with pride and gratitude the achievements of the Founders of the Republic; they congratulate each other on the wide and universal prosperity of the Nation to-day, and they look forward to the future with exulting confidence and hope. They feel that they have a common country, and they have no sympathy with sectionalism. They wish to see all broad National Men firmly bound together, in the resolute purpose of making this Republic all that Washington, or Jefferson, or Jackson, or Clay, or Webster desired. And leaving all narrow issues, sectional strifes, and intrigues of cliques and factions aside, they wish to see our Administrations and Legislatures, our Home and Foreign Policy, our Literature and Arts, and our whole system of Social Life pervaded by the spirit of National Union, illuminated Statesmanship, and the highest private and public virtue.

It is for such men, and for such objects this Review is founded. Its politics will be National Democracy, and this is the only policy of the country. It has long been apparent, that the political system of Jefferson must control the policy of our Government. That system has been the guide of the Democratic Party, and it has ceased to be disputed that this party is the only one which can govern the Nation. No other party has ever been able to do it. But this Review will not be limited to the political field. It will be a universal Journal, and in every department of life, the ablest talent of the Nation is engaged for its pages.

The lack in this country of that bold, honest, and discriminating literary criticism, which so honorably distinguishes British Journalism, is deeply felt by every Scholar and Author in America. We shall endeavor to do something to supply this want.

A New Age is on us. The hand which now holds the pen must feel the shock of the Telegraph in every pulsation. The arrangements of the Review have contemplated this New Period, and we are prepared to respond to the fresh demands which are made on Journalism by the electric progress of EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-EIGHT.

TESTIMONIALS TO

Allibone's Critical Dictionary

OF

ENGLISH LITERATURE, AND BRITISH AND AMERICAN AUTHORS.

From Washington Irving, Esq.
SUNNYSIDE, Aug. 23, 1855.

MESSRS. CHILDS & PETERSON:

Gentlemen:—Accept my thanks for the specimen you have sent me of Mr. Allibone's Critical Dictionary of English Literature. The undertaking does honor to that gentleman's enterprise; and the manner in which, from the specimen before me, (464 pages,) he appears to execute it, does honor to his intelligence, perspicuity, wide and accurate research, impartiality, and good taste. When completed, the work cannot fail to be a valuable library companion and family book of reference. The beautiful manner in which the work is got up is highly creditable to American typography.

Very respectfully, gentlemen,
Your obliged and ob't servant,
WASHINGTON IRVING.

From Wm. C. Bryant, Esq.
NEW YORK, Aug. 29, 1855.

TO MESSRS. CHILDS & PETERSON:

Gentlemen:—The specimen of Mr. Allibone's Critical Dictionary of Authors, which you sent me, has given me a high idea of the industry, exactness, and various reading of the author. I think it promises to be one of the most valuable works of references which have been produced in the present century. The plan appears to me excellent, though difficult; but the difficulty has been happily overcome by the author's extraordinary research.

Truly yours, W. C. BRYANT.

From Jared Sparks, LL. D.
CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 1, 1855.

Gentlemen:—I have examined, with great satisfaction, the part of Mr. Allibone's Dictionary of English Literature which has already been published, (464 pages.) The plan appears to me an exceedingly good one; comprising, as it does, a notice of all the English and American authors down to the present time, with biographical incidents, an enumeration of their several publications, and frequent critical remarks.

An undertaking so comprehensive in its design requires vast diligence and research. As far as the author has proceeded, he seems to have executed his task with ability, good judgment, and success. When completed, the work cannot fail to be of great utility to all readers who would acquire a knowledge of books, and a most valuable accession to every library.

I am, gentlemen, very respectfully yours,
JARED SPARKS.

From Hon. George Bancroft.
NEW YORK, Nov. 17, 1855.

MESSRS. CHILDS & PETERSON:

Gentlemen:—The examination of articles under the letter A, in Mr. Allibone's Critical Dictionary of British and American Authors, has led me to form a high estimate of the comprehensiveness and the utility of his design, as well as of the fearless and indefatigable industry, the candor, and the general ability with which he is executing it. His work bids fair to take a very high rank in its own peculiar department. His plan has, moreover, a special attraction, for it not only presents appropriate information respecting each author, but also a general picture of the impression which he may have made on the public and on his critics. I wish the deserved success to this great undertaking, and Remain, very respectfully yours,

GEORGE BANCROFT.

From Wm. H. Prescott, Esq.
LYNN, Aug. 14, 1855.

Gentlemen:—I should sooner have replied to your note requesting my opinion of Allibone's Dictionary of Literature. I have rarely seen so large an amount of matter condensed into so small a compass. The work is conducted on what to me is an entirely novel principle, and presents the reader not simply with the opinions of the author, but with those of the best critics on every writer whose character he deusses. This is opening the best sources of information, while the original contributions of the editor, which connect the extracts together, are of a piquant kind that gives vivacity to the discussion.

The index of subjects will form a sort of catalogue raisonné, that cannot fail to make the book as useful in a bibliographical as in a biographical view. If the rest of the work is as ably executed as that embraced under the first three letters of the alphabet—all I have seen—it cannot fail to be an important contribution to English literature.

I remain, gentlemen, your ob't servant,
W. H. PRESCOTT.

From the Hon. Edward Everett.
BOSTON, Sept. 20, 1855.

Gentlemen:—I have received the volume you were good enough to send me, containing the first three letters of Mr. Allibone's "Critical Dictionary of English Literature, and British and American Authors, living and deceased." The plan of the work is extremely comprehensive, and requires laborious research in the collection of the materials, and great care and discrimination in putting them together. As far as I have been able to examine the specimen contained in the volume sent me, Mr. Allibone is performing his task with great fidelity and success. In giving, in the words of the authors, the judgments which he cites from approved sources, he has made a great improvement over former biographical dictionaries, which are, for the most part, unacknowledged compilations. Mr. Allibone's work appears to be, to a very unusual degree, the result of original investigation, and, if completed as begun, will, I am confident, be found a most useful work of reference, and an important addition to the literary apparatus of our language.

I am, gentlemen, respectfully yours,
EDWARD EVERETT.

From Prof. Lieber, LL. D.
SOUTH CAROLINA COLLEGE,
COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 5, 1855.

Gentlemen:—In judging of this work, it is necessary to keep in mind that the resolute title, "A Critical Dictionary of English Literature," ushers in a work which the author and publishers found themselves obliged to restrict to one volume, containing, nevertheless, "thirty thousand biographies and literary notices." Having myself edited an Encyclopædia, (Americana,) I am better able to give an opinion upon some points than I should have been otherwise; and an examination of many of the larger articles under the letters A, B, and C, has convinced me that the author has brought to his task what may be called the Encyclopædic virtues, in a high degree—a painstaking love of detail and conscientious accuracy, and an unvarying desire of collecting; a self-forgetting disposition to give what others have done, and a certain taste and tact, which, in many cases, alone can draw the proper line of admission and omission. I make no doubt that this work will be a welcome aid to all that handle books—scholars, general readers, and booksellers.

Your ob't servant, FRANCIS LIEBER.

EXTRACTS FROM SOME NOTICES OF THIS EDITION.

From the Boston Atlas.

The new edition of the works of Benj. Franklin, with Sparks' Memoir of the Author, which we announced as in the press, has just been published, and claims the favorable regard of all who honor the memory, cherish the principles, and value the productions of the illustrious Bostonian. This collection of the political, historical, economical, and miscellaneous writings of Franklin, inclusive of his voluminous correspondence, both official and private, is indeed the noblest monument that can be erected to his memory.

The statue which is to adorn the city grounds, is, indeed, a most fitting and commendable enterprise, but it would be meaningless and worthless without the evidences these volumes afford of the qualities and achievements, in honor of which, more than of the man, we pay homage to the memory of Franklin.

From Rev. W. R. Alger.

The seventeenth of September, eighteen hundred and fifty-six, will always be remembered as a rare and a proud day for the good old city of Boston. A colossal bronze statue of her greatest son, Benjamin Franklin, was inaugurated in her chief public square amidst circumstances of extraordinary pomp and joy—more than a hundred thousand persons partaking in the votive pageant of the day. It was a deserved and magnificent tribute to the peerless Mechanic, Inventor, Writer, Statesman, Sage, and Philanthropist of the Revolution. The occasion was in truth a glorious one; and everything was admirably done from the ornamentation of the streets, which were hung with appropriate emblems and mottoes, to the oration of Mr. Winthrop, which was an elaborate and handsome performance; from the vast procession, which represented all classes and professions of the country, to the crowning address by Dr. Chapin, which was a masterpiece of felicity and eloquence. The statue itself, "the cynosure of all eyes," is a happy achievement alike in historic fidelity to likeness and costume, and in total effect of combined simplicity and impressiveness.

We seize the present timely opportunity to recommend to public attention and patronage, in the most emphatic manner we can, the monument of industry, learning, and good judgment which Mr. Sparks has reared to the memory of the great American Father, in the volumes designated at the head of this article. The work of recording Franklin's life, and editing his numerous writings, is here done with consummate ability and thoroughness. These volumes form a standard classic which can never lose its high place and value. Every American who prizes the memory of the immortal Father of his country, ought to possess a copy of this work. Certainly, no public library can afford to be without it. We congratulate the young and meritorious firm whose imprint is on the new edition of these rich and popular volumes, upon the enterprise and liberality which have led them to issue so sterling a work in such a handsome style, and at so low a price. We cordially wish them the remunerative returns which they so well deserve.

May the fresh honors lavished on the name of our Franklin, the great Mechanic and Philosopher, lend a new force to the benign influences of his life and the grand lessons of his example!

This edition is elegantly printed from large type, bound in cloth, gilt, and illustrated with twenty-two steel plates, comprising portraits of Franklin and Mrs. Franklin, Fac-similes and Philosophical Plates, for the low price of $15 for the ten volumes, or bound in half calf, price $25; sheep, library style, $18. For sale by all Booksellers, or by the publishers, ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA.—The Encyclopædia Britannica; or, Dictionary of Arts, Sciences, and General Literature. Eighth edition, revised, enlarged, and brought up to the present time. Edited by THOMAS STEWART TRAILL, M. D., F. R. S. E., Professor of Medical Jurisprudence in the University of Edinburgh. With upwards of five hundred Engravings on steel, and many thousands on wood. To be comprised in 22 vols. 4to. Vols. 1 to 18 now ready. Cloth, $5 50 per vol.

. This edition has undergone careful revision and extensive alterations, so as to accommodate it to the improved taste and advanced intelligence of the times. The editor has secured the co-operation of the most eminent living authors, who have contributed treatises in the various departments of Science, Literature, the Arts, Manufactures, Commerce, Statistics, and General Knowledge, to supersede those now rendered obsolete by the progress of discovery, improvements in the arts, or the general advancement of society. One thousand copies of this great work are already ordered to supply the subscribers in this country, and the number is continually increasing. It is believed that no publication of the kind, so extensive, has hitherto commanded so large a sale, or been so deserving of the patronage of the reading community.

SHAKESPEARE'S COMPLETE WORKS.—The Works of William Shakespeare. New and Elegant Edition. The Plays, edited from the Authentic Folio, with Various Readings from all the Editions and all the Commentators, Notes, Introductory Remarks, an Historical Sketch of the Text, an Account of the Rise and Progress of the English Drama, a Memoir of the Poet, and an Essay upon his Genius. By RICHARD GRANT WHITE. To be comprised in 12 vols. post 8vo. Vols. 2, 3, 4, 5, now ready, cloth, $1 50 per vol.

BRITISH POETS.—A Complete Collection of the British Poets, from Chaucer to Wordsworth; embracing the whole Works of the Most Distinguished Authors, with Selections from the Minor Poets; accompanied with Biographical, Historical, and Critical Notices.

. This series of the British Poets has secured the unqualified commendation of the press and the public in all parts of the country, so that the success of the undertaking is firmly established. It is universally acknowledged to be the best edition ever issued, both in point of editorship and mechanical execution, placing it out of the reach of competition. Each separate work is sold by itself; and the price of each volume, 16mo., bound in the Aldine style, or in black cloth, gilt-lettered, is 75 cents.

One hundred volumes are now ready, comprising the following:—

AKENSIDE, ...	1 vol.	GOLDSMITH, ...	1 vol.	SHAKESPEARE, ...	1 vol.

Worcester's Quarto Dictionary.

We have the pleasure to announce that WORCESTER'S QUARTO DICTIONARY is now rapidly approaching completion, and we hope to publish it in May next. It will be comprised in about eighteen hundred pages, and will contain a full vocabulary of the words now used in Literature, Art, and Science.

We propose to publish a library edition for subscribers. It will be printed on extra fine paper with large margin. Literary men who have examined it unite in declaring that it will be the best Dictionary of the English language ever published. More than ten thousand words have been added to Dr. Worcester's previous Dictionaries.

To all who want an accurate, comprehensive, and complete Dictionary of the English language, we say,

Horton's Literary Letter.

Humboldt in his Library.

From a Water-color Drawing by E. Hildebrandt.

Professor Edward Hildebrandt, Painter in Ordinary to His Majesty the King, has represented the Traveller, his friend of many years' standing, at work in his Library. The familiar objects, which daily surround the person represented in his wonted haunts, are so apt to heighten the interest of his picture by their characteristic individuality, that we are induced to mention a few of the most easily recognized among them :—the bust in bronze of the King of Prussia, by the great master, Christian Rauch ; the statuette of Her Majesty the Queen, in classical style, seated ; the very rare bust of the renowned navigator and discoverer, Don Henrique, Duke of Visco, after a miniature painting of the Infante, discovered in a Spanish MS. of the fifteenth century, at Paris, by M. Ferdinand Denis ; a model of the Obelisk of Luxor, now at Paris, executed by the able sculptor Sussmann, after a drawing by Dr. Brugsch, the ingenious Ægyptologist. Among the oil-paintings we would notice :—a very faithful representation from nature, by Professor Bellermann, of the picturesque entrance to the Cave of Caripe (Cueva a del Guacharo), in South America, in the Missions of the Chaymas Indians, westward of the mouth of the Orinoco, first described by Humboldt; the design for the grand historical composition, the Death of Leonardo da Vinci, a gift of the celebrated Dominique Ingres; an excellent design for Gustav Wegener's great historical landscape (in His Majesty's collection), the hermitage of St. Basilius, on the Armenian river Iris; and the attractive likeness of the accomplished artist, Signora Emma Gaggiotti-Richards, painted at Ancona, and presented by herself. In the small apartment in front of the library, the further wall of which is ornamented by the grand Panorama of Rome (an engraving by Giuseppe Vasi), we observe a portion of the Collection of Birds, and among them the Nightbirds (los Guacharos, Humboldt's Steatornis Caripensis), found by thousands in the above-mentioned Cave near Caripe, remarkable on account of their extreme scarcity in zoological collections. The same apartment, which serves as ante-room, contains eighty-three folio volumes of the "Chalcographie du Musée Royal, the splendid gift of His late Majesty, King Louis Philippe. A portion of the magnetic, astronomical, and meteorological instruments, the Traveler's faithful companions in the basin of the Orinoco and Amazon rivers, in the Cordilleras, in the Mexican Tableland, and in Northern Asia, remind us of long years of varied travel and research. It gives us a high idea of artistic genius, to see how well the unity of effect is preserved, notwithstanding the multiplicity of objects surrounding the principal figure, which naturally tend by their detail to disturb the general impression;—and how, in the original (*), repose and harmony are spread over the whole by means of a masterly gradation of color, to which even the best reproduction can not without difficulty attain.

(*) The original has been exhibited since the 14th of September, 1856, in Baron Humboldt's apartments, at Berlin (at the house, No. 67 Oranienburger-Strasse, purchased in the year 1844 by Mr. Joseph Mendelssohn). It is the friendly gift of the artist to Mr. John Selfert, who accompanied the Traveler on his Siberian Expedition under the government of the Emperor Nicholas.

"BOOK OPENETH BOOK."

The Duty of Owning Books,

BY HENRY WARD BEECHER.

WE form judgments of men from little things about their house, of which the owner, perhaps, never thinks. In earlier years, when traveling in the West, where taverns were either scarce or in some places unknown, and every settler's house was a house of "Entertainment," it was a matter of some importance and some experience to select wisely where you would put up. And we always looked for flowers. If there were no trees for shade, no patch of flowers in the yard, we were suspicious of the place. But, no matter how rude the cabin, or rough the surroundings, if we saw that the window held a little trough for flowers, and that some vines twined about strings let down from the eaves, we were confident that there was some taste and carefulness in the log cabin. In a new country, where people have to tug for a living, no one will take the trouble to rear flowers, unless the love of them is pretty strong; and this taste, blossoming out of plain and uncultivated people, is, itself, like a clump of hare-bells growing out of the seams of a rock. We were seldom misled. A patch of flowers came to signify kind people, clean beds, and good bread.

But, other signs are more significant in other states of society. Flowers about a rich man's house may signify only that he has a good gardener, or that he has refined neighbors, and does what he sees them do.

But men are not accustomed to buy books unless they want them. If, on visiting the dwelling of a man of slender means, I find the reason why he has cheap carpets and very plain furniture to be that he may purchase books, he rises at once in my esteem. Books are not made for furniture, but there is nothing else that so beautifully furnishes a house. The plainest row of books that cloth or paper ever covered is more significant of refinement than the most elaborately carved étagère, or sideboard.

Give me a house furnished with books rather than furniture! Both, if you can, but books at any rate! To spend several days at a friend's house, and hunger for something to read!

you are treading on costly carpets, and sitting upon luxurious chairs, and sleeping upon down, is as if one were bribing your body for the sake of cheating your mind.

Is it not pitiable to see a man growing rich, and beginning to augment the comforts of home, and lavishing money on ostentatious upholstery, upon the table, upon everything but what the soul needs?

We know of many and many a rich man's house, where it would not be safe to ask for the commonest English classics. A few garish annuals on the table, a few pictorial monstrosities, together with the stock religious books of his "persuasion," and that is all! No range of poets, no essayists, no selection of historians, no travels or biographies, no select fictions or curious legendary lore; but then the walls have paper which cost three dollars a roll, and the floors have carpets that cost four dollars a yard! Books are the windows through which the soul looks out. A house without books is like a room without windows. No man has a right to bring up his children without surrounding them with books, if he has the means to buy them. It is a wrong to his family. He cheats them! Children learn to read by being in the presence of books. The love of knowledge comes with reading, and grows upon it. And the love of knowledge, in a young mind, is almost a warrant against the inferior excitement of passions and vices.

Let us pity these poor rich men who live barrenly in great, bookless houses! Let us congratulate the poor that in our day books are so cheap that a man may every year add a hundred volumes to his library for the price of what his tobacco and his beer would cost him. Among the earliest ambitions to be excited in clerks, workmen, journeymen, and, indeed, among all that are struggling up in life from nothing to something, is that of owning, and constantly adding to, a library of good books. A little library, growing larger every year, is an honorable part of a young man's history. It is a man's duty to have books. A library is not a luxury, but one of the necessities of life.

A good book is a thing as separate and distinct from all other creations, as a bird is from a flower, or a jewel from a stone. Books are at once our masters and our servants. They have a silent independence, an unchanging voice, a calm declaration of truth, as they will. But they are unobtrusive. They wait for our moods and our leisure. They are never jealous if we neglect them, nor quarrelsome when we are familiar. They wait upon us in youth, in manhood, and in old age, with a vivacity that time never chills, and an instructiveness that repetition never wearies. Men grow old, and children are the only reprints allowed. The same volume is never reproduced. But books come again, in successive editions, with the same life, the same disposition, the same offices of love and goodness. Their joints never stiffen. Their heads never grow gray. All hinges but book hinges at times grate. But the unrolled pages turn smoothly forever.

Books gradually lose their inert and dead form, and become to us like persons that have pulse and articulate voice. We feel more intimately acquainted with authors, two hundred years dead, than we do with our daily companions. We never let living creatures enter into our soul with such universal liberty as authors assume. And a scholar is never alone among books, nor is he ever lonesome, except among crowds of talking, trading, trifling men. A book is better for weariness than sleep; better for cheerfulness than wine; and it will hold out with the longest night that watcher ever saw. It often is a better physician than the doctor, a better preacher than the minister, a better sanctuary than the drowsy church.

Masonic Numismatics.

Few persons, even members of the Fraternity, in this country are aware of the number of Masonic medals which have been struck during the last hundred and twenty-five years by the Lodges of Freemasons, or by individual members of the Society; nor of the interest taken in this subject, more especially by the European Lodges, many of whom have large and valuable cabinets. We propose to give a brief sketch of this branch of Numismatics.

The oldest Masonic medal known, is mentioned by Schröder, in his "Materialen," I. 37; by Ridel, in his article on "Medals;" by Zacharias, in his "Numotheek Numismatica Latomorum," I.; and by Merzdorf, p. 116; and is a silver medal of Lord Charles Sackville, Duke of Middlesex, who in 1733, without authority, founded a Lodge at Florence, in commemoration of which event this medal was struck. Zacharias asserts that the Lodge Minerva, at Leipzig, was in possession of a specimen; but Merzdorf, who had a leaden copy of it, states that it has disappeared, and that the only original specimen is preserved in the Hammerstein Collection. Merzdorf also mentions a Roman medal of 1742. Hamburg next claims priority in regard to the antiquity of her Masonic medals. The oldest, bearing the legend "Facies supremi eadem," has no date, but in the Essen Catalogue is attributed to the year 1740; a second dates from 1742, a third from 1743, and a fourth from 1745,—all of silver. Besides these Hamburg medals, Merzdorf mentions a bronze Frankfort medal, of the Lodge "Einigkeit," of 1742; a Brunswick medal of silver and gold, of 1744; and one of 1745—which, under the name of "Freemasons' Ducats," appear to have been used as school premiums. He also mentions three from Halle, of 1744, 1745, and 1747, the only ones ever struck in that city. The above comprise all the German medals struck during the first half of the eighteenth century.

According to Merzdorf, the oldest English medals are—one of 1760, without name of place of coinage; one of Exeter, 1766; one of London, without date, and another of 1766.

France contributes four of Paris,—1760, 1769, 1773, and 1776; and one of Rheims, 1776.

Belgium furnishes one of 1757, with the impress of Brussels.

Holland, one from the Hague, of 1779.

Sweden has medals of 1746, 1758, 1762, 1768, 1780, 1785, 1787, 1792, and only two others since the commencement of the present century.

The Russian medals are limited to four, of the dates 1775, 1780, 1781; and in Moldavia we find one struck at Jassy, in 1774.

Italy offers but two medals of the eighteenth century,—the Florentine medal of 1733 and the Roman of 1742, both before alluded to.

Two Spanish medals were coined at Madrid, in 1809 and 1811, according to Merzdorf.

North America has but one medal of the last century,—struck in 1797.

The Masonic medals of Asia are all very modern, and are derived from the Lodges established by the English in the East Indies.

In regard to the total number of Masonic medals, Thory, in his "Histoire de la Fondation du Grand Orient de France," p. 386, estimates it at 200, commencing with the year 1720. Zacharias, in his "Numotheca," gives drawings of 48 different medals. Merzdorf mentions in all 384, besides 9 others which cannot be strictly termed Masonic,—as, for instance, a medal of Melancthon. This total is made up as follows:—Germany, 96; England, 14; France, 161; Holland and Belgium, 26; Denmark, 1; Sweden, 11; Russia, 4; Moldavia, 1; Italy, 9; Spain, 2; America, 5; Asia, 4.

The first cabinet of Masonic medals was commenced by the Lodge "Eintracht," at Vienna, about the year 1784. Other collections were subsequently made at Rostock, Leipzig, and Hamburg. Private collections were also in the possession of Bros. von Eck, Zacharias, von Hammerstein, and Merzdorf. The largest cabinet at present is that of the Prov. Gr. Lodge of Mecklenburg, at Rostock, and contains 324 specimens of medals, exclusively Masonic, besides a number of mystical and other medals. The next in importance are the cabinets of the Lodges Apollo and Minerva, at Leipzig. In this country, the Lodge Pythagoras, at Brooklyn, L. I., has a collection of about 200 specimens.

This Masonic Halfpenny Token, of 1790, commemorative of the election of the Prince of Wales as Grand Master, appears to have been in circulation as money, and is mentioned by Appel, Thory, and Zacharias. There are several varieties of it extant, four of which differ only in the inscription around the edge, viz.,—

1. Masonic Token, I. Scetchley fecit, . . . x.
2. Half-penny, payable at the Black Horse, Tower-hill.
3. A Masonic Token, J. Sketchley, Birmingham, fecit.
4. Masonic Token, Nitchley fecit, 1794.

A fifth variety has on the obverse a square and compass, with the legend "Pro bono publico." On the reverse, the initials "T. H. B.," the date "1795," and the legend "East Grimstead Half-penny." Around the edge, "Payable at T. H. Boorman."

Colleges, Public Libraries, Literary Institutions, AND BOOK-BUYERS GENERALLY.

HAVING completed new and satisfactory arrangements, Mr. NORTON intends to make his third visit to Europe in May next, and will be happy to receive Orders for the purchase of BOOKS AND APPARATUS FOR PUBLIC AND PRIVATE LIBRARIES, &c., &c. As he purposes visiting the principal Book Marts of Europe, he will be enabled to purchase from first hands, upon the best terms. Being already the accredited Agent of many of our most important institutions, and taking out large orders, all parties intrusting commissions to his care may feel assured of his strict attention to their interests, and on having their orders executed on the most favorable terms.

Having given his undivided attention, for the past ten years, to the interests of the Libraries of America, Mr. NORTON respectfully solicits a continuance of the connection he has so long and pleasantly enjoyed, believing that in a consolidation of the Library interests of the country, a large saving may be made in the purchase of Books, &c.

The experience of his previous visits abroad, enables Mr. NORTON to speak with the fullest confidence of the advantages to be gained by personal inspection and purchase of such Works as can be advantageously procured only in Europe; and he has no hesitation in promising satisfaction to any who may require his services in the capacity indicated.

If necessary, a personal visit will be made to any part of the Union, previous to the 1st of May next. For further information address

Local Bibliography.

THE importance of securing at once exact transcripts of the Titles of all works relative to the History of our Country, is beginning to be appreciated. It is doubtless true that very many pamphlets, orations, discourses, and sermons, prepared with care from facts within the reach of their authors, have entirely disappeared, never to be again brought to light. The undersigned, with the object, in some measure at least, to preserve for future reference this class of valuable lore, proposes to publish, in each number of his Literary Letter, the Bibliography of a separate State, compiled by some careful hand, the best qualified for the work. In the present Number is given the Bibliography of Maine, very kindly prepared by HON. WM. WILLIS, of Portland. No. 5, in consequence of the absence of the undersigned in Europe, will not be issued till November 1st. It will contain the Bibliography of New Hampshire, by S. C. EASTMAN, Esq., of Concord. The series will be continued until every State is completed.

It is to be hoped that Historical Societies will give a liberal support to this plan, which cannot but be of great service to future historians.

 A limited number of impressions of the State Bibliographies will be printed separately, and can be obtained of the Subscriber at 50 cts. per copy.

CHARLES B. NORTON.

. It is particularly requested that all omissions be pointed out, and the titles in full sent to the Publisher who has taken out a copyright.

MAINE.

A Descriptive Catalogue of Books and Pamphlets

RELATING TO THE

HISTORY AND STATISTICS OF MAINE, OR PORTIONS OF IT.

PREPARED BY WILLIAM WILLIS, OF PORTLAND, 1859.

America Painted to the Life. A true history of the original undertakings of the advancement of Plantations into those parts, with a perfect relation of our English Discoveries, shewing their beginning, progress, and continuance, from the year 1628 to 1658. * * * More especially an absolute Narrative of the North parts of America, and of the discoveries and plantations of our English in New England. Written by Sir Ferdinando Gorges, Knight and Governor of the Fort and Island of Plymouth in Devonshire, one of the first and chiefest promoters of those plantations. Published since his decease, by his Grandchild Ferdinando Gorges, Esq., who hath much enlarged it, and added several accurate descriptions of his owne. * * * For the reader's clearer understanding of the Countrys, they are lively described in a compleat and exquisite map. Vivit post funera virtus. London. Printed by E. Brudenell, for Nathl. Brook, dwelling at the Angel, in Cornhill, 1658. 4to. pp. 60.

America. A briefe Narrative of the original undertakings of the Advancement of Plantations into the Parts of America, especially showing the beginning, progress, and continuance of that of New England. Written by the Right Worshipfull Sir Ferdinando Gorges, Knight and Governor of the Fort and Island of Plymouth, in Devonshire. London: Printed by E. Brudenell, for Natt. Brook, At the Angell in Cornhill, 1658. Republished in 2 Me. Hist. Col. pp. 65.

. This valuable tract was not published until after the death of its author, and was then included in the more general work, whose title is given first above, published by his grandson. Many of the facts contained in the publication of the grandson relate to other countries than New England. And many of those peculiar to the latter country are taken from Johnson's "Wonder Working Providence," and other sources within the reach of the compiler.

The work described in the first article of this Catalogue also contains "A brief description of Laconia, a Province in New England;" also a short description of Gorges' "Province of Maine." The author makes Laconia, which he says is "so called by reason of the great Lakes therein," to be on the northeast side of the rivers Sagadahoc and Myramneck; but his description is so vague and indefinite, that it cannot be located. His information seems to have come from the Indians.

Androscoggin River. Some account of the early settlements at Sagadahoc, and on the Androscoggin river. By John McKeen, Esq., of Brunswick. 3 Me. Hist. Col.

Abnaquies. The language of the Abnaquies, or Eastern Indians. By Wm. Willis. 4 Me. Hist. Col.

Arnold's Expedition to Quebec (Through Maine in 1775). By Wm. Allen. 1 Me. Hist. Col. pp. 29.

Arnold's Letters, written on his expedition to Quebec, 1775. 1 Me. Hist. Col.

. These original letters were attached to the Journal of Col. Montross, a British officer, whose explorations into Maine about fifteen years before, suggested the route.

Augusta. Bills of Mortality of Augusta, from 1852 to 1856 inclus. 5 Me. H. Col.

Ancient Dominions of Maine: Embracing the earliest facts; the recent discoveries of the remains of aboriginal towns, the voyages, settlements, battle-scenes and incidents of Indian warfare, and other incidents of history; together with the Religious Developments of Society within the Ancient Sagadahoc, Sheepscot, and Pemaquid Precincts and Dependencies. By Rufus King Sewall, author of Sketches of the City of St. Augustine. Portland: published by Sanborn and Carter, 1859. pp. 366. 12mo.

A Voyage into New England. Begun in 1623 and ended in 1624. Performed by Christopher Levett, His Majesty's Woodward of Sommersetshire, and one of the Council of New England. 2 Me. Hist. Col. pp. 36. Also in Mass. Hist. Col.

Acadie. Penobscot Bay and River. By Joshua Whipple, 1816. 8vo. pp. 102.

Bowdoin College. "Our Alma Mater." An Address delivered before the Alumni of Bowdoin College. By Alpheus S. Packard, Aug. 5, 1858. Brunswick: published by J. Griffin. 1858. 8vo. pp. 49.

Bradford, Alden. A description of Wiscasset and of Sheepscot river. By Alden Bradford. 7 Mass. Hist. Col.

Bridgeton. An Address delivered by Hon. Marshal Cram, at the Dedication of the Town House in Bridgeton, January 8, 1852. With an Appendix. Portland: Brown Thurston, Printer, 1852. pp. 42.

Bristol, Boothbay, Newcastle, Edgecomb, and Nobleborough, Petition and Memorial of the towns of, in the county of Lincoln, to the General Court of Massachusetts, 1810. 8vo. pp. 24.

. This relates to the conflicting titles to land in that extensive district. The Legislature passed an order, appointing "Commissioners to investigate the Causes of the Difficulties in the County of Lincoln." The Commissioners made a full and able report, giving the history of all the titles from the Indians and the English proprietors, from the earliest period of the settlement, with the various occupations under them, depositions of old settlers, &c. A very interesting and valuable document.

8vo. pp. 174.

Brunswick. A Description of Brunswick in Letters By a gentleman of South Carolina, to a friend in that State. Brunswick: Joseph Griffin, Printer, 1820. 8vo. pamphlet, pp. 28.

Buxton. History of the Narraganset Towns, by Charles Coffin. See Narraganset.

— An Address delivered at Buxton, Me., being the First Centennial Celebration of the Settlement of this town. By Rev. Nathl. West Williams, 1850. Printed by Brown, Thurston & Co., Portland, Me., 1850. pp. 34.

Bowdoin College. Charter of Bowdoin College, together with various acts of the Legislature, and the decision of the Circuit Court, and the By-Laws of the Overseers. Brunswick: printed by J. Griffin, 1850. 8vo. 60 pp.

. The case before the Circuit Court above referred to was, Wm. Allen, the President of the College, v. Joseph McKeen, the Treasurer, for certain perquisites; and was ably argued by Simon Greenleaf for the plaintiff, and Stephen Longfellow for the defendant. The case involved, among other points, the constitutional power of the Legislature over the College. Judge Story, in his learned opinion, clearly defined the authority of the legislature in the case.

Pamphlets, Titles of, on the controversy relating to the titles of the Plymouth and Pippscot Companies.

1. A statement of the title of the Proprietors of the township of Brunswick, with extracts of deeds and a plan.

*. This is what was called the Pippscot title, extending from the mouth of the Kennebec river northward, including Brunswick, Topham, and other towns on the Androscoggin and Kennebec rivers, 1752.

2. Remarks on the plan, and extracts of deeds lately published by the Proprietors of the township of Brunswick (as they term themselves), agreeably to their vote of January 4, 1753. 8 pp., Jan. 31, 1753.

3. A conspectus or clear view of the laws in any way affecting the titles and conveyances to lands in the eastern part of the Province, which have occasioned controversies and disputes, being claimed by virtue of ancient grants from the native Indians. pp 4, 1753.

4. An answer to the remarks of the Plymouth Company, or (as they call themselves) the Proprietors of the Kennebec Purchase from the late colony of New Plymouth, published by virtue of their vote of 31st January last, on the plan and extracts of deeds, published by the Proprietors of the township of Brunswick, &c. pp 33, March 28, 1753.

5. A Defence of the remarks of the Plymouth Company on the plan and extracts of deeds published by Proprietors (as they term themselves), of the township of Brunswick. pp 50, Sept. 5, 1753.

This controversy was carried to London in 1755, the opinion of eminent lawyers obtained, and an appeal taken to the courts. Florentius Varrall was appointed of the Plymouth Company to attend to its interests in London. The controversy was afterwards settled by compromise.

BOOKS AT AUCTION.

NEW BOOKBUYERS, COMPARATIVELY, ARE AWARE OF THE FACILITY WITH which a GOOD LIBRARY may be completed at a very small cost. At the various Auction Sales which are held in New York through the winter, often entire Libraries, well selected by persons of mature judgment, are distributed to all parts of the United States. Thus, new buyers are enabled to profit by the experience of others, and at the same time make such selections as they think best. For the better co-operation in this plan, the Subscriber proposes to forward, by mail,

Catalogues of all Sales that take place in NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, or BOSTON, and RECEIVE ORDERS TO PURCHASE.

To cover the actual expense of postage, which is required to be prepaid, he will hereafter charge the small amount of One Dollar per annum, which will not only cover the expense of all Auction Catalogues, but also of

ENGLISH, FRENCH, AND GERMAN

Second-Hand Book Lists,

a full supply of which will be regularly mailed, and from which orders will be carefully attended to. Any gentleman forwarding One Dollar, in stamps or otherwise, may feel assured of receiving a satisfactory supply of Catalogues for one year. The Subscriber has been compelled to adopt this plan, from the great increase of his correspondents, and the necessity of somewhat limiting the supply of Catalogues.

LEAVITT & Co. will sell a valuable Private Library commencing the 15th of May; also, a Theological Library about the 8th of the same month.

BANES, BRO. & Co. have in progress a large sale of Books, selected in England, to be sold in April; also, Dr. GRISWOLD'S LIBRARY, to be disposed of in May, Catalogues of which will be supplied on application.

Parties replying to this notice will please send their address in full.

PROSPECTUS

American Bibliographer's Manual.

The undersigned respectfully announces to Librarians and Bookbuyers in general, that he has in preparation and will proceed to publish, if the proposition meets with the co-operation and support such a project requires,

A BIBLIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY

Of all Books relating to America,

From its discovery to the present time, also of Books printed in the United States before A. D. 1800, with their current or approximate value.

The work will be arranged after the plan of Brunet and Lowndes, i. e. an alphabetical arrangement of Authors and the first word of anonymous publications, the articles a, an, or the excepted; to be followed by an analytical or finding index, which will make the work at once general and special, & c. Supposing the following work:—

(25 ABBOTT, JOHN, Natural History of the rarer Lepidopterous Insects of Georgia, edited by J. E. Smith, M. D., illustrated by numerous plates of butterflies in their various states and of the plants on which they feed; 2 vols. folio. London, 1796, 7.) to be No. 25, in the general order; it will appear in the Index under various headings thus:—

Botany—Abbott & Smith,	No. 25
Entomology—Abbott & Smith,	" 25
Georgia, Insects of—Abbott & Smith,	" 25
Natural History—Abbott & Smith,	" 25
Insects vide Entomology,
Smith (J. E.) Natural History, Ga. ,	" 25
Plants vide Botany,

Thus every book will be so analyzed as to its contents, that the searcher for books on a given subject, or by a given author, cannot fail to find them.

The Materials used as sources of information are the various works of Faribault, Rich, Terneaux Compans, Asher, Aspinwall, Jewett, White Kennett, Boucher de la Richardiere, Pinelo, Ludewig, Thomas, Munsell, Poole, Roorbach, Warden, Muller, &c.; also, catalogues of various public and private collections; while the Dictionaries of Brunet, Lowndes, Ebert, Cailleau and others, will be searched for all they have on the subject; indeed no pains will be spared to make the work as complete and thorough as possible.

The extent of the work cannot at present be estimated; but it is proposed to issue it to subscribers in octavo volumes of the size and style of the Oxford edition of Ebert's Bibl. Dict. at $5 00 per volume, of 500 pages, and pro rata; this price to be increased to non-subscribers 20 per cent.

Gentlemen having the titles of any very uncommon book or books, are respectfully requested to furnish a transcript of the same, and suggestions and subscriptions will be alike thankfully received by

JOSEPH SABIN,
27 South Sixth Street, Philadelphia.

J. SABIN will visit Europe this summer, partly with a view to obtain material to make the above work as complete as possible.

THE LIFE

OF

Frederick William Von Steuben,

MAJOR-GENERAL IN THE ARMY OF THE REVOLUTION.

BY FRIEDRICH KAPP.

WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY GEORGE BANCROFT.

CROWN 8VO. 715 PAGES. PRICE, CLOTH, $1 75; HALF CALF, $3 00.

"The Life of Steuben IS ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING AND EVENTFUL OF THE MANY BRILLIANT and stirring scenes of the eighteenth century.

"Sprung from an old, noble, and military family of Prussia, as a child he accompanied his father in his campaign in the Crimea, and during his sojourn in Russia; as a boy he was present at the siege of Prague; and, as a youth, he entered the service of Frederick the Great, the greatest commander of the age, and fought with distinction in the bloodiest engagements of the Seven Years' War. Taken prisoner by the Russians, he spent some time at the Court of St. Petersburg, and when set at liberty by Peter III., he remained, until the end of the war, attached to the personal staff of the great King. The calm which succeeded the stormy events of his youth was not destined to be everlasting. As soon as prospects of fame and active exertions were opened to him at Versailles, he threw up his agreeable but inactive appointment at home, and hastened to America, to devote his military knowledge and experience to the conquest of American liberty, and to fight under George Washington for the independence of the United States. His efforts were crowned with success; and, after the termination of the war, Steuben finally retired into private life, to end a career devoted to the public good, in honorable but unassuming poverty, in a rough log-house in the back woods.

"Prague and Kunersdorf, Petersburg and Berlin, Versailles and Philadelphia, Yorktown and New York, are the landmarks of this existence, which, however checkered and beset with difficulties, has left brilliant traces behind it, and justly deserves to be added to the records of American history, so that, from a solitary example, the student may learn what efforts and sacrifices were necessary to found and protect the state of things in the enjoyment of which the American nation lives happily and undisturbed."—Life of Steuben, p. 38.

"The memory of Steuben has many claims upon the present generation. To the cause of our country in the times of its distress, he, at the sacrifice of a secure career, devoted the experience and skill which had been the fruit of long years of service under the greatest master of the art of war of that day. He rendered the inestimable benefit of introducing a better rule into the discipline of the American army, and stricter accountability in the distribution of military stores. He served under our flag with implicit fidelity, with indefatigable industry, and a courage that shrunk from no danger. His presence was important both in the camp and on the field of battle; from the huts of Valley Forge to Yorktown; and he remained with us till his death."—Introduction by Hon. GEO. BANCROFT.

In a letter to the author, Mr. Bancroft writes: "I have read your life of Steuben with admiration and instruction. * * * Your book must succeed, for it is thoroughly well done, and is deeply interesting, and a most valuable and now necessary contribution to the history of our Revolution."

Characteristics of The New York Saturday Press.

- I. THE SATURDAY PRESS is, in every respect, an INDEPENDENT JOURNAL, connected with no party or sect, and tainted with no kind of "Isim."
- II. THE SATURDAY PRESS is irrevocably opposed to the whole system of Puffing, and never allows its reading columns to be used for the purpose of serving any private ends.
- III. THE SATURDAY PRESS is not the organ of any Bookseller, Publisher, Theater Manager, or other Advertiser; nor of any clique of Authors or Artists; nor of any other persons except its avowed Editor.
- IV. THE SATURDAY PRESS is the only journal in the country which gives a COMPLETE LIST OF NEW BOOKS, or anything like a COMPLETE LIST OF BOOKS IN PRESS.
- V. THE SATURDAY PRESS is the only journal in the country which furnishes a COMPLETE SUMMARY OF LITERARY INTELLIGENCE.
- VI. THE SATURDAY PRESS circulates exclusively among thinking and intelligent persons, and is, therefore, the Best Advertising Medium in the Country for all persons who wish to reach that portion of the community.
- VII. For these and other reasons, the Publishers feel justified in saying, that for all intelligent and cultivated gentlemen and ladies, there is no more interesting or valuable journal in the country than

THE WORKS OF THE GREATEST AMERICAN NOVELIST,

ILLUSTRATED BY THE Greatest American Artist!

ELEGANTLY ILLUSTRATED EDITION

OF

COOPER'S NOVELS.

WITH DRAWINGS ON STEEL AND WOOD,

BY F. O. C. DARLEY.

ENGRAVED IN THE HIGHEST STYLE OF THE ART BY THE MOST EMINENT ENGRAVERS IN THE COUNTRY.

ACCORDING to PREVIOUS ANNOUNCEMENT, the PUBLICATION of the NEW and ELEGANT edition of COOPER'S NOVELS, illustrated by Steel and Wood Engravings, from original designs by DARLEY, was commenced February 1, 1859. The flattering reception by the public and the press, of the volumes already issued, gives cheering evidence of the high esteem in which the writings of COOPER are held by his countrymen.

The works of few modern writers have been so extensively translated into other languages, or so widely read in their own; and although they have had large sales in various cheap popular styles, no complete edition, suitable for the library, and containing all the author's revisions, has before been offered to the public.

This edition will contain all the latest improvements and revisions made by the author, and will be printed from clear, open type, in Crown Octavo, on beautiful cream-tinted and highly calendered paper, manufactured expressly for it; elegantly bound in embossed cloth, with beveled edges, and stamped in gilt upon the side and back, with new and appropriate designs. A volume will be published monthly. Each volume will contain a novel complete, averaging about five hundred pages. PUBLISHED BY SUBSCRIPTION, at ONE DOLLAR AND A HALF PER VOLUME.

THE WAYS OF THE HOUR.

THE WATER WITCH.

Additional value attaches to this edition from its being illustrated by DARLEY, an artist who has, for years, made the pages of Cooper a congenial study. In the judgment of the best critics, at home and abroad, he ranks as one of the first designers in the world. A high English authority declares that "his plates exhibit a boldness and refinement worthy of Retsch himself;" while the London Athenæum, calling upon him to illustrate the pages of Cooper, says, "We shall then enter a new region of art, as dramatic, picturesque, and vivid as any artist lover has had the pleasure of first attempting."

The entire series of steel and wood engravings in this edition, all after drawings by DARLEY, numbers nearly FIVE HUNDRED, the aggregate cost of which will exceed

TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

The volumes now ready are THE PIONEERS, RED ROVER, LAST OF THE MOHICANS, and THE SPY. Either will be sent by mail, prepaid, for $1 50.

A CIRCULAR giving detailed particulars of the plan of publication, and a Biographical Sketch of Mr. Cooper, copied, by permission, from "Allibone's Critical Dictionary of Authors of Literature," will be mailed to the address of any one desiring it.

Plymouth Burial Hill---Its Epitaphs and History.

WITH NOTES AND ILLUSTRATIVE ENGRAVINGS,

BY WILLIAM S. RUSSELL.

Should sufficient encouragement be obtained, by subscription from the public, the undersigned proposes to publish, as early as may be practicable, a volume containing an EXACT COPY of all the being nearly TWO THOUSAND in number, with appropriate Notes and several Illustrative Engravings.

To accomplish this object, Ancient Records both of the Town and Colony, and the earliest Historical Works and Traditional Statements relating to the subject, have been carefully explored, which afford ample materials for a RELIABLE SKETCH in detail, respecting the spot consecrated by the ashes of the PILGRIMS and of their immediate descendants through successive generations. A separate chapter will be assigned for references to other ancient Burial Hills in the Town and within the Plymouth Colony bounds.

This undertaking may justly claim the favorable regard of all persons engaged in Antiquarian research, from the fact that our Town Books are deficient, to a considerable extent, in the record of deaths occurring at different periods of New England History, which can only be supplied by inscriptions from Grave Stones, many of which are in such progress of decay, that unyielding time must soon render them unavailable for practical use.

It may be proper further to state, that strong encouragement in the prosecution of this work has been liberally offered, by gentlemen of high Historical eminence, in various quarters of the country.

The work will contain from 250 to 300 pages, printed on fine paper with good type, and bound handsomely, at $1.00 per copy to subscribers.

The Standard French Classics.

NEW AMERICAN EDITIONS,

(Uniform with DERBY & JACKSON'S Standard British Classics.)

Edited by O. W. WIGHT, A. M.

Translator of M. Cousin's Philosophy, and Editor of Sir William Hamilton's Philosophical Works.

THERE having long been felt among bookbuyers and scholars generally, the need of library editions—convenient in size and reasonable in price—of the greatest and best FRENCH AUTHORS, the undersigned have undertaken to supply this desideratum, by the publication, in uniform style of print, paper, and binding, of translations of the works of those celebrated French Writers which have become classic in the History of Literature. At least twelve volumes will be issued this year, and in the following order:—

VOL. I.—ADVENTURES OF TELEMACHUS. BY FENELON.

This volume contains a Life of Fenelon, by Lamartine; an Essay on the Character and Genius of Fenelon, by Villemain; Critical Notices of Fenelon, from various sources; an account of the different editions of Fenelon's Works; and Dr. Hawkesworth's Translation of Telemachus, carefully revised throughout. There are added, in the shape of foot-notes, literal translations of those fine passages in the ancient authors imitated by Fenelon.

VOL. 2.—PASCAL'S PROVINCIAL LETTERS.

This will be the finest edition of the PROVINCIALS ever published in English. It contains a very eloquent Life of Pascal; a fine Essay on his Genius as a Writer and Moralist, by Villemain; a copious Historical Introduction, giving an Account of the Port-Royal Controversy out of which the Letters sprang; a Bibliographical Notice of all books treating of Pascal's Life and Writings; and the Letters, in the translation of Rev. Mr. McOrie.

VOLS. III., IV., V., VI.—THE COMPLETE WORKS OF MONTAIGNE.

This edition of Montaigne's Works is a reproduction, with corrections and important additions, of Mr. William Hazlitt's edition, published by Templeman in London. Hitherto, the edition of Mr. Hazlitt has been the best in the English language. Our edition will be incomparably superior to his in typography, besides being more complete and more correct. Our editor and the Cambridge printers have verified the classical quotations of Montaigne (nearly three thousand in number); new Letters of Montaigne have been added, Bibliographical and Critical Notices have been extended, and the fourth volume pre-faced with a Biography of Montaigne (200 pages long), abridged especially for this edition from the recent work of Mr. Bayle St. John. This edition will also contain a Portrait and copious Index. For beauty of typography, convenience of form, correctness and completeness, the publishers can confidently promise an unequalled edition of the quaint old Gascon Essayist.

VOL. VII.—VOLTAIRE'S CHARLES XII.

This is the first volume of such of Voltaire's Works as we think it advisable to reproduce. Besides a carefully revised translation of the Charles XII., this volume contains Lord Brougham's Life of Voltaire, the defects of which have been supplied by copious editorial notes; a narrative of Voltaire's relation to Frederick the Great, from Macaulay; an estimate of Voltaire's Genius and Character, by Carlyle, etc., etc. The introductory matter of this volume, if we are not mistaken, contains the best Life and Judgment of Voltaire to be found in the English language, perhaps in any language. We shall issue none of Voltaire's irreligious works. The purely historical productions, some of the poems, and the dramas of Voltaire, have received universal praise and approbation. This is the first edition of Charles XII., whether French or English, in which the proper names have their correct orthography.

VOLS. VIII., IX.—MADAME DE STAEL'S GERMANY.

(To match her "CORINNE," which is now ready.)

The works of Riehl, Gervinus, Julian Schmidt, Wilmar, and others, have been drawn upon for editorial notes, in order to make this book of Madame de Stael's one of the most authentic, as it certainly is one of the most agreeable on the subject of Germany.

VOL. X.—VOLTAIRE'S HENRIADE, AND SOME OTHER POEMS.

It is not necessary to say anything about the Henriade, which has been a text-book in half the schools of the land. We reproduce the once famous but almost forgotten translation by Lockman; and, from the latest French editions, an abundance of historical notes are added.

VOL. XI.—THE THOUGHTS OF PASCAL.

This volume will be a new translation of the Thoughts, embracing all the discoveries recently made in France by an examination of Pascal's MSS.

VOL. XII.—THE MARTYRS. BY CHATEAUBRIAND.

In due time will follow the Works of Mollere, Montesquieu, Massillon, Bossuet, LeSage, Corneille, La Fontaine, Racine, St. Pierre, etc., etc.

The whole Series will be uniform in price and style with our Edition of the British Classics, viz.: Price in Cloth, $1 25; Sheep, Library Style, $1 50; Half Calf, Gilt or Antique, $2 25. Any of the above sent by mail, postpaid.

Fairbairn's Hermeneutical Manual.

HERMENEUTICAL MANUAL; or, Introduction to the Exegetical Study of the New Testament. By PATRICK FAIRBAIRN, D. D., Principal and Professor of Divinity in the Free-Church College, Glasgow, and author of "Typology of Scripture," &c. 12mo. pp. 524. $1 50.

From the Rev. T. V. Moore, D. D., Richmond, Va., author of the able Commentary on "The Prophets of the Restoration."

I have for a number of years been familiar with the critical writings of Professor Fairbairn, and I regard him as one of the finest exegetical writers now living. He combines Scottish good sense and German erudition to a very remarkable degree. Hence, he has precisely the training that would enable him to give a fresh and suggestive work on Hermeneutics. Such a work I consider his Manual to be. Without going into any tedious detail, it presents the points that are important to a student. There is a breadth of view, a clearness and manliness of thought, and a ripeness of learning that make the work one of peculiar freshness and interest.

From Rev. A. C. Kendrick, D. D., Professor of Greek in the University of Rochester (Baptist), and editor of the American edition of Olshausen's Commentaries:

I regard Fairbairn's Hermeneutical Manual as an excellent work, sound in its principles, evangelical in its tone, and evincing all the necessary learning. It occupies a ground which no other work in our language adequately covers, and must therefore be extremely acceptable and useful to students of the New Testament. With a few of the author's special interpretations, I might not, perhaps, concur; and I think it unfortunate that, by his argument on the word baptism, he has given a partially sectarian character to a work which should be strictly catholic. In the main, however, I can commend the work most cordially, and shall feel it a duty to do what I can to promote its use among Biblical students.

From the Rev. George B. Miller, D. D., Professor of Theology in Hartwick Theological Seminary, New York (Lutheran).

I consider Fairbairn's Hermeneutical Manual one of the most valuable additions lately made to the helps for theological students, and a great advance upon previous works of this kind that were accessible to such as read English. It is just such a work as I have long desired to see, combining the results of modern investigations and original inquiries with a reverence for the inspired character of the Scriptures, which we sometimes miss in German authors, even such as are in the main evangelical.

THIS is pronounced by all critics to be the most interesting series of biographies ever published. The subjects are very attractive in themselves, and each life has been written by a master-hand. The type is large, the printing clear, the paper good, the binding neat. It is believed that these precious volumes will be welcomed in all American homes where a taste exists for something better than fictitious trash. These biographies are the BEST and CHEAPEST to be found on the subjects of which they treat. Price of each vol., 50 cents. The whole set (12 vols.) will be sent to any address in the United States, not more than 3000 miles, pre-paid, on the receipt of five dollars.

ENGLAND'S GREAT EPIC POET.

JUST PUBLISHED BY

GOULD & LINCOLN,
LIFE OF JOHN MILTON.

Narrated in Connection with the Political, Ecclesiastical, and Literary History of His Time.

BY DAVID MASSON, M. A.

Professor of English Literature in University College, London.

VOL. I.—FROM 1608—1639; 8vo. $2 75.

This work has received the highest praise from English critics, and is admitted to be one of the finest biographies in the language. It contains two admirable portraits of Milton, one in his 10th and the other in his 21st year, and two pages of fac-similes of his hand-writing at different periods of life. It is altogether a fascinating volume, and a worthy tribute to the great poet of England.

It contains two admirable portraits of Milton, one in his 10th and the other in his 21st year, and two pages of facsimiles of his hand-writing at different periods of life. It is altogether a fascinating volume, and a worthy tribute to the great poet of England.

ANNUAL OF SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY; OR, YEAR-BOOK OF FACTS IN SCIENCE AND ART, FOR 1879. By DAVID A. WELLS, A. M. With a Likeness of Prof. O. M. MITCHELL. 12mo., cloth. Price, $1 25.

LECTURES OF SIR WILLIAM HAMILTON, ON METAPHYSICS AND LOGIC. Edited by Prof. MANSSEL of Oxford, and Mr. VEITCH of Edinburgh.

An entirely new exposition, and the only complete one, of the Views of the prince of Scotch philosophers.

THE LIMITS OF RELIGIOUS THOUGHT—THE REMARKABLE BAMPTON LECTURES of Prof. MANSSEL, Oxford. With Notes, translated for the American edition.

These Lectures excited more attention and enthusiasm at Oxford, than any course of lectures since the advent of Dr. Arnold. They are regarded by judicious critics as a defense of revealed religion, unsurpassed in ability and importance since the immortal Analogy of Butler.

"GET THE BEST."

Webster's Quarto Dictionary,

THE ENTIRE WORK UNABRIDGED.

"Save the Bible," WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY has received more special recommendations of its high practical importance, than any other book in the world. The author is acknowledged to be the greatest lexicographer the world has produced. No man is armed cap-a-pie unless he has put on Webster. No family or public library is complete without a copy of Webster's Dictionary. It is a library itself, and no man is too poor to own one. We could not get along a day without it."—Freeman's Journal.

The Publisher, in presenting No. I. of the New Series of the Literary Letter, would express his obligations to his friends and the reading public, for their support during the past year. With the Series now commencing, it is his intention to give the work a permanent value, and he trusts that it may prove of service to the Librarian and Literary man. The articles on "State Bibliography" will be regularly supplied in each number; and prepared as they all are by careful and reliable hands, they must become great aids to the future historian. A series of articles upon Early Printed Books, with specimen pages, will also be given, together with much other valuable matter. In No. 2 will appear a complete resumé of the Books issued during the months of January, February, and March, specially noting such as are of value for Libraries, Reading-rooms, &c. This article will be prepared with great care, and it is hoped that it may prove in some measure a guide and assistant in the selection of Books for Libraries. This list will be regularly kept up in future numbers. The Publisher trusts that the various advantages thus offered will make it an inducement for all interested to subscribe themselves, and also to secure, as far as possible, the names of their friends.

The Publisher regrets that, owing to the delay in furnishing the Plate from the BIBLIA PAUPERUM, he has been compelled to postpone the issue of this Number. No. II. will appear April 1st.

printed with some brownish-colored matter, altogether unlike printing ink; the blocks were smeared over with this substance, then laid down, and paper placed upon them; after which, the impression was obtained by friction—a very tedious, slow process. Now, when it is considered what a length of time it must have occupied the draughtsman to draw the pictures, and write the text, and the engraver to cut them on the block, then the time required to get off even one impression, it is palpable all this could only have been effected at a very considerable expenditure of time and labor, requiring, beyond all question, far different purchasers than the poor men, or poor preachers, for whom, respectively, various authorities have affirmed the work was solely compiled. Heineken alone seems responsible for the name given to the work, which is undoubtedly erroneous, and one which is not applied to it either by Schelhorn, Schœpflin, or Meerman. The probability seems to be that this singular production, consisting as it does of pictorial representations of striking portions of the New and Old Testaments, had no distinctive appellation, the subject-matter being deemed sufficient to show its sacredness. When we remember also that, at the time when it first made its appearance, the price must have been so high that none but princes and people of great wealth could have afforded to purchase it, as is proved by the very small number of copies ever printed or known to be in existence, and that the knowledge necessary to decipher the cramped character and interminable abbreviations of the closely written Latin sentences was possessed by very few, whether of the laity or clergy,—the conviction is more and more forced upon the mind that the term Biblia Pauperum is an entire misnomer. However this may be, certain it is, that, with or without title, this unique gem of the fifteenth century will ever form a most rare and interesting study to the artist and the bibliophile.

Owing to the liberality of the Trustees of the British Museum, who permitted fac-similes of this antique rarity to be published, Mr. John Russell Smith has been enabled to lay it before the public. The work was one of those contained in the magnificent library of his Majesty George III., one of whose chief delights consisted in collecting all the noblest and best editions of ancient and modern literature, the result being such a library that no more priceless heir-loom could have been devised to the British crown. His Majesty Geo. IV., who made no pretensions to literary taste, we will hope possessed the quality of patriotism, since he presented this truly Royal collection to an Institution where it is at all times accessible to the British people.

Libraries :

THEIR IMPROVEMENT, &c.

THE history of American Libraries is a history of rapid strides through progress towards perfection.

From the foundation of the first American library, at Harvard, in 1636, down to the present time, the tale has ever been the same; a grand system of enlightenment, ever adding to, ever spreading. In no case has a public library been in need, that there has not come forward some generous individual or body to its succor. This state of things is in the highest degree creditable to us as a nation, and it is fit and proper that some results which have been reached should be placed before the public that they may receive their due credit. In the year 1848, the number of public libraries in the United States, of 5,000 volumes and upwards, was 81,—containing 974,662. Ten years later, in 1858, the number containing over 5,000 volumes is 234; number of volumes, 2,849,713;—trebled in a decade. The number of public libraries of every size in the United States at present is 2,892; number of volumes, 4,280,866. In 1848 the number of public libraries in Great Britain, exceeding 10,000 volumes each, was 29; number of volumes, 1,542,400. The whole number of public libraries of this size in Europe, including Great Britain, was 383; number of volumes, 20,012,735.

But in 1857, in the Encyclopedia Britannica, Vol. XIII., Mr. Edwards gives the following statistics :

In Great Britain.....	68 Public Libraries.
" " ".....	2,560,741 Printed Books and MSS.

There are 27 principal libraries in Great Britain and on the Continent containing upwards of 150,000 volumes each, and forming in the aggregate a grand total of 8,358,582 volumes.

By these few figures it will be seen that in the Old World the tendency has been to consolidate, while, in the New, it has been to scatter and spread widely.

Thus, while we have forty times as many public libraries as Great Britain, we have only twice as many volumes. While in the latter country there are in four libraries 1,254,268 volumes, in this we have but two libraries of more than 100,000 volumes in extent. The true route of bibliothecal progress in America has been in spreading great numbers of collections, all containing the same volumes, before the public for their free use; rather than in forming a few grand establishments in a single locality, where they could only be beneficial to a small minority of the great, earnest public, so needing to be educated.

Perhaps the plan having the largest design for usefulness is that of the Public Library of Boston, which, after seven years' progress, publishes its Seventh Annual Report, containing among others the following interesting facts:

Increase during the past year	7,192 volumes...1,817 pamphlets.
Whole number of volumes in Library	78,043
" " Tracts	19,255
Volumes worn out in seven years.....	184
" missing " "	180
Average number of volumes circulated per diem	588½

Thus, this library, with a child's age, has taken a man's place in the world of benevolent institutions. The good which its perfect freedom of action allows it to do is incalculable. With the mushroom's growth, it has attained to the toughness of the oak and the wide spread of the Banyan.

The Mercantile Library Association of New York now numbers more than 51,000 books, and subscribes to 120 Newspapers and 150 Magazines, in five different languages.

The Astor Library, of New York, in a decade of years, has accumulated 110,000 volumes,—being the most extensive on the Western Continent.

These three are types of classes.

The first, the absolutely free library, blending in its contents the useful and the entertaining, having for its object the instruction and amusement of the masses.

The second, the growth of a want of relaxation on the part of the mercantile community, is self-supporting, and self-regulating; it is American in its birth and establishment.

The third, the only representative on this continent of the libraries of the Old World. The place for deposit of such works as are not to be obtained elsewhere, it must be guarded with jealous care by its keepers; accident or loss, in this instance, cannot be replaced. It teaches through the teacher; it enlightens the educated, and through them its treasures are digested and scattered broadcast over the world. It seems aristocratic because it is lofty in its aims, and sturdy in its progress; yet in its results it is eminently democratic.

Such are the ways in which the library element is diffused in our country. They are suited to the many different features of character and composition of our people; they are all wise and good, and their results cannot be foretold.

Revolutionary Correspondence.

FFICIAL DOCUMENTS, Local Correspondence, and, indeed, manuscripts of every sort, are the landmarks of history. Perhaps more disputed points have been settled, more errors corrected, by the chance appearance of letters or documents, than in any other way. In our own country and its history, of course, those relating to the Revolution are more interesting and of greater importance than any others, and, in this article, we wish to refer particularly to two collections, each possessing special intrinsic merits of its own, and both highly valuable as having served to elucidate many doubtful problems. These Collections are known among collectors as the "Hartley and Franklin Mss." and the "Livingston Correspondence."

The first of these consists of papers left by David Hartley, Esq., his Majesty's Commissioner to the Peace Congress, held at Paris, in 1788; they comprise letters and documents to the amount of nearly two hundred, all copied neatly in the handwriting of David Hartley, and extending from April 18th, 1788, to the final ratification of the Treaty.

Contained in this collection are the directions of the king to his Commissioners; the long and extremely important letters of Fox, Wm. Fawkener, W. Temple Franklin, Washington, Geo. Clinton, Col. Trumbull, Benj. Franklin, and others; the powers granted to the English Commissioners, powers granted to the American Commissioners, with the signatures of Adams, Franklin, Jay, and Laurens; letters of congratulation on the birth of a princess, &c., &c., &c.

These form a complete history of the treaty, and also include copies of the treaty itself, both in its progressive and finished state. The collection serves to show the management of politicians of the period, and the extreme difficulty found in obtaining a treaty upon the desired basis. But perhaps the most valuable and remarkable curiosity, is the map used by the Commissioners; it was drawn in pen-and-ink, by Benjamin Franklin, and, although discolored by age, is still in good preservation. It is not impossible but that it may hereafter become an important witness.

The Livingston Correspondence is comprised in a series of letters, mounted and elegantly bound in seven volumes folio, half Russia. Among others, there are 29 Autograph Letters of Washington, interesting as well for the information they convey, as for their rarity. Letters of Generals Arnold, Lee, Wayne, Gaines, Greene; Col. Moultrie, Baron DeKalb, Lafayette, Count de Rochambeau, Sir Henry Clinton, Lord Rawdon, Lord Cornwallis, Baron Steuben, Duke Lauzun, Col. Trumbull, Aaron Burr, Boudinot, and many others from parties more or less acquainted with the occurrences of the period. In them the war, its causes and progress, the disaffection of officers, the weakness of the army, exchanges of prisoners, &c., are all familiarly and confidentially discussed. Our space does not permit extended illustration, but we give below a few selections, taken at a cursory glance through the volumes :

Jon. Trumbull writes, on the Finances of the Country, "We shall be carried through our present confusion, and landed on happy ground."

Gen. Washington—In relation to Exchange of Prisoners.

The same—Demanding supplies from New Jersey.

Wm. Churchill Houston—On necessity of relief for the Army.

Robert Morris says, "The American Navy will most certainly become, one day or other, respectable on the ocean, however depressed now."

Gen. Knox invites Gov. Livingston to dinner.

Jos. Reed speaks of the "fall of Charlestown and capture of the garrison and stores."

Baron Steuben writes discontentedly, and intimates his intention of resigning.

John Jay—Announcing the birth of a daughter.

Gen. Greene writes about "grain and forage for the army."

Gen. Washington announces his determination to proceed against New York.

The same—Warrant to impress forage for the army.

Letters of Wm. Churchill Houston, of which there are many, give more information than those of any other writer in the collection. To the historian, they will be found of inestimable value. We would specially recommend them to the attention of New Jersey and New York, as they contain information particularly valuable to these States. These Mss. can all be seen at the office of the "Literary Letter."

Local Bibliography.

THE importance of securing at once exact transcripts of the Titles of all works relative to the History of our Country, is beginning to be appreciated. It is doubtless true that very many pamphlets, orations, discourses, and sermons, prepared with care, from facts within the reach of their authors, have entirely disappeared, never to be again brought to light. The undersigned, with the object, in some measure at least, to preserve for future reference this class of valuable lore, proposes to publish, in each number of his Literary Letter, the Bibliography of a separate State, compiled by some careful hand, the best qualified for the work. In the present Number is given the Bibliography of New Hampshire, very kindly prepared by S. C. EASTMAN, Esq., of Concord. No. 2 of the new series will contain the Bibliography of Vermont, by B. H. HALL, Esq., the Historian of that State. The series will be continued until every State is completed.

It is to be hoped that Historical Societies will give a liberal support to this plan, which cannot but be of great service to future historians.

 A limited number of impressions of the State Bibliographies will be printed separately, and can be obtained of the Subscriber at 50 cts. per copy.

CHARLES B. NORTON.

. It is particularly requested that all omissions be pointed out, and the titles in full sent to the Publisher, who has taken out a copyright.

Tobacco. A Proclamation issued by James I. to protect the Planters and Adventurers of Virginia, and the Sommer Islands, against "unlicensed tobacco imported from beyond the Seas." A very curious document on four folio sheets, black letter, of extreme rarity. By the King: Bonham Norton, and John Bill, Printers, 1624. $25 00

. This is a very singular and remarkable document. King James, it appears, detested tobacco, but did not object to receive a little money from the sale of the much-abused weed. He says, "And whereas we have upon all occasions made known our dislike, we have ever had of the use of tobacco in general, as tending to the corruption both of the health and manners of our people, and to that purpose, have at several times heretofore prohibited the planting of tobacco, both in England and Wales, as utterly unfit in respect to the climate, to cherish the same for any medicinal use (which is the only good to be approved in it). And at other times have also prohibited the disorderly trading for tobacco into the parts beyond the Seas, as by Our several Proclamations, published to that purpose, it may appear. Nevertheless, because we have been earnestly and often importuned by many of our loving Subjects, Planters and Adventurers in Virginia, and the Sommer Islands, and lately by our Commissioners for Virginia, that we would be pleased to take into Our Royall care that part of our Dominions, by our Royall Authority, and by the Industry of Our loyal Subjects added to the Rest of Our Empire, for the Propagation of Christian Religion, and the ease and benefit of this populous Realme, and to consider, that those Colonies and Plantations, are yet but in their infancy, and cannot be brought to maturity and perfection unless we will be pleased for a time to tolerate unto them the planting and venting of the tobacco, which is and shall be of the growth of those Colonies and Plantations."

Oh! Yea! Oh! Yea! Oh! Yea!

Know all Men, by these Presents,

That we, the undersigned, feeling deeply our grave misfortune in having no just, faithful, and correct portraiture of the most thrilling scenes in American History, and that the efforts of Bancroft, Prescott, and Hildreth, although well intended, are, in our humble opinion melancholy failures, do propose, and hereby promulgate our intention to the world in general, and VANITY FAIR in particular, to bring forth, and publicly distribute, for an appropriate compensation, a work which shall present those particulars which we think other historians have failed to embody in their lucubrations.

This work will bear the following title:

SCENES

FROM THE

Comic History of America,

IN VERY BLANK VERSE,

And will take a comic view of those incidents which have become of importance in the past, as

LESSONS FOR THE FUTURE.

Psychologically speaking, the world has two sides,

The Comic and the Pathetic, and although our countrymen have become polysided in their opinions upon political economy, politics, and polygamy, they will not perhaps fail to look with interest upon one of their original divisions possessing so much and such varied interest, and heretofore so greatly neglected.

Let us, then, look from Columbus crushed with the callousness of his countrymen, to his picture painted in the pigments of pungent portraiture; from the Puritans panting under the pinchings of painful poverty, to the funny fancies of their farcical famishings; from Franklin the philosopher to Franklin the funny fellow;—an accurate accompaniment of amusing anecdote, bringing us bodily back to the curious customs of our distinguished and energetic forefathers. Follow us! gravely yet humorously interpreting Indian massacres, and the joyous release of John Smith. Kindly listen, while we minutely narrate the origin of the odoriferous pipe, with quaint Raleigh smoking; then turn to the union of vanity and wisdom in the ancient Yankee, zealous & indefatigable in the cause of his country.

Discreetly daring dangerous discussion,

And secretly seeing surly sages coldly criticising correct conviction,

We sign ourselves soberly,

B. FLAT.

C. SHARP.

 The above valuable publication will be issued on or about the 1st of March, by the undersigned, to be published in one volume, 4to., with plates artistically executed in photo-lithograph, price $3 00. As only a limited number will be issued, it is important that all parties desirous of securing it should forward their names immediately.

Two Great Bibliographical Curiosities,

Just published, in royal 4to., with 40 Plates, half bound in morocco, Price $10.

"BIBLIA PAUPERUM."

(THE POOR MAN'S BIBLE.) One of the Earliest and most Curious BLOCK-BOOKS, reproduced in fac-simile from a Copy in the British Museum. By J. PH. BERGEAU.

The Biblia Pauperum, known also by the title of Historia Veteris et Novi Testamenti, is a set of woodcuts, in which the Old and New Testament are both brought to memory by pictures, and some lines of text in Latin. This name Biblia Pauperum is derived from its use by Monks of the poorer orders, commonly called Pauperes Christi.

As a specimen of the earliest woodcuts and of printed block-books, destined to supersede the manuscripts, anterior to the valuable invention of Guttenberg, the Biblia Pauperum is well worthy the attention of the Amateur of Fine Arts as well as of the Bibliographer. It consists of forty engravings, printed on one side only of the leaves, and disposed so as to have the figures opposite each other;—the blank pages are still, or were, pasted together in most of the copies.

The engravings were printed by friction, with a substance of a brownish yellow color, instead of printing ink, which was unknown at this early period. To imitate, as near as possible, the original, the plates in this fac-simile are disposed opposite each other, and printed in a brownish color. Various Editions of this Block-book have been discovered, without any writer being able to say which is the first one. A review of them is given in the printed Introduction of the book.

Besides the Rhymed Latin Poetry—of which part was given by Heineken, and after him by Ottley—the Introduction gives, for the first time, the whole of the Text printed on both sides in the upper compartment, as well as an English Explanation of the Subjects.

ONLY 250 COPIES HAVE BEEN PRINTED, UNIFORMLY WITH MR. S. LEIGH SOTHEBY'S "Principia Typographica."

In 4to., pp. 184, with 23 curious woodcuts, half morocco, Roxburgh style, $6; or in antique calf, carmine edges, $8.

"THE GAME OF THE CHESSE,"

The first Book printed in England by WILLIAM CAXTON, reproduced in fac-simile, from a copy in the British Museum, with a few Remarks on Caxton's Typographical Productions, by VINCENT FIGGINS.

Frequently as we read of the Works of Caxton and the early English Printers, and of their Black-Letter Books, very few persons ever had the opportunity of seeing any of these productions, and forming a proper estimate of the ingenuity and skill of those who first practiced the "Noble Art of Printing."

THE TYPE HAS BEEN CAREFULLY IMITATED, AND THE WOODCUTS FAC-SIMILIED BY MISS BYFIELD. The Paper and Watermarks have also been made expressly, as near as possible, like the original; and the Book is accompanied by a few remarks of a practical nature, which have been suggested during the progress of the fount, and the necessary study and comparison of Caxton's Works with those of his contemporaries in Germany, by Mr. V. FIGGINS, who spent two years' "labor of love" in cutting the matrices for the type.

On January 10th, one vol. 8vo., 600 pages, half morocco, 75 cts.

THE HISTORY AND GENEALOGIES
OF ANCIENT WINDSOR,
CONNECTICUT, INCLUDING
EAST WINDSOR, SOUTH WINDSOR, AND ELLINGTON,
PRIOR TO 1768.,
(THE DATE OF THEIR SEPARATION FROM THE OLD TOWN.)
AND WINDSOR, BLOOMFIELD, AND WINDSOR LOCKS, TO THE PRESENT TIME.
BY HENRY R. STILES, M. D.

This work is the result of a long and careful examination of everything relating to Ancient Windsor, which can be found in the State Archives; Town, Church, and Parish Records; the MS. Collections of various Societies, Families, and Private Individuals; Newspapers, Graveyards, etc., etc.

The GENEALOGICAL portion (332 pages) comprises the genealogies of all the families within the limits of Ancient Windsor, prior to 1800. These are, as far as possible, arranged and elaborated, and in each case every item is preserved which is found upon the ancient record. Carefully prepared biographies also add to the interest of this department of the work. It thus forms an invaluable magazine of reference to the historian and genealogist.

This work forms a volume of over 900 octavo pages, well printed and strongly bound in cloth, and illustrated with two maps, portraits, autographs, and several illustrations. Price $5.

From the New York Observer.

"This splendid octavo volume is a work that must have cost immense labor, patience, and perseverance, and we are glad there are some men left who are willing to attempt such things as this. The amount of information is wonderful, curious, and valuable, and having been rescued from the stream of oblivion on which it was floating to destruction, it possesses great interest."

From the New York Independent.

"We commend Dr. Stiles's work to the inhabitants of Old Windsor, and to the widely-scattered descendants of the venerable town, as well as generally to the lovers of our early annals, and the patrons of such laborious and deserving explorers. We believe that he will be found an intelligent and faithful analyst, and the results he has reached, after years of conscientious study, are presented in a lively and pleasing style."

As a limited edition of the above valuable work has been printed, it is important that all parties desirous of obtaining should apply at once. Address

Miscellaneous Writings of Washington Irving.

Mr. GEORGE P. PUTNAM announces for early publication several volumes of the Miscellaneous Writings of Washington Irving, hitherto uncollected. They will be published under the direction of a competent Editor. Though these papers will lack the careful revision of the author, given to his more important works, it has been thought expedient, in consequence of the interest frequently expressed in their publication, to present them to the public with all the care which can be attained. The volumes will be issued uniformly with the standard edition in duodecimo, and will include

I.—THE LETTERS OF JONATHAN OLDSTYLE, with the contributions to the "Analectic Magazine."

II.—SALMAGUNDI; or, The Whim-Whams and Opinions of Launcelot Langstaff, and others. With Notes, and Illustrations by "George Cruikshank."

III.—A Miscellaneous Volume of Later Papers.

N. B.—These volumes will not form a part of the Set of IRVING'S WORKS, which are complete in 21 vols., but will be issued as COMPANION VOLUMES.

The New-York Saturday Press,

A JOURNAL OF LITERATURE, ART, AND GENERAL INTELLIGENCE,

IS PUBLISHED

EVERY SATURDAY MORNING,

AT

NO. 9 SPRUCE STREET, N. Y.

PRICE, TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

HENRY CLAPP, JR., AND ROBERT W. PEARSALL, PROPRIETORS.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the New York Daily Times.

The Saturday Press is the ablest of the literary weeklies, and almost the only one which possesses any very salient peculiarities of character and tone.

From the New York Day Book.

We believe everybody, unless he is a sham and a charlatan, likes this spirited, outspoken sheet. The individuals excepted hold it in holy horror; for the manner in which it pitches into nonsense of all kinds in its sharp, sententious, Frenchy way, is as refreshing to the pure-minded and virtuous, as it is distasteful to the humbugs.

From the New York Dispatch.

For our own part, we are free to confess that we take up no paper with more eagerness, and peruse none of all our exchange list, which is over large, with half as much satisfaction as The Saturday Press. Nay, we would willingly pay fifty cents a copy rather than do without it, and the subscription-price is only $2 per annum. The Saturday Press cannot be induced by money or patronage to puff anybody or anything not deserving free favorable mention, and is as free and independent as it is witty, sprightly, and just in all matters of art, literature, and social questions. It is the paper for intelligent and independent people.

From the New York Sunday Times.

It is edited with much sprightliness and ability. Its dramatic feuilleton is particularly lively. Altogether, we hold The Saturday Press and its specialities as a real addition to the best newspaper literature of the day.

From the New York Spirit of the Times.

The New York Saturday Press—a paper always distinguished for its independence and originality.

From the New York Traveller.

The New York Saturday Press, the sprightliest, raciest, frankest, sauciest, sharpest, wittiest, most piquant, original, outspoken, and sententious American literary weekly.

From the New York Sunday Courier.

The Saturday Press contains wit enough, and good writing enough to entitle it to a hearty support from all the cultivated and right-thinking classes.

From the New York Leader.

A spirited embodiment of literary Bohemianism.

From the Philadelphia Press.

We are moved by no consideration save genuine merit to commend to the searchers after a good weekly paper, the Saturday Press, published in New York by Henry Clapp, Jr. It is really the first attempt in this country at a pure, decent, uninfluenced literary journal, and is free from the nauseating traits of the majority of the weeklies. The criticisms of affairs in the artistic and social realm are intelligent, and always hit straight; the bon mots out-sparkle the best things of Punch; and a feature alone worthy the subscription is the weekly Book-List, accurately prepared.

From the Philadelphia Bulletin.

The raciest and most independent of all the weeklies.

From the Boston Recorder.

We know of no literary journal, either in this country or in England, which, on the whole, we should prefer to it; and we heartily commend it to all who desire to keep themselves acquainted with the issues of the American and English press, and other current matters in literature.

From the Boston Congregationalist.

We have been much pleased with the New York Saturday Press, which strikes us as being the spiciest, frankest, and truest in its criticisms upon literature of any journal out. It contains the completest printed list of new books, and books in press.

From the Boston Courier.

A paper which seems to sparkle with new brightness at each appearance.

The Cartoons of Raphael.

EXTRAORDINARY OFFER.

Mr. CHARLES B. NORTON, Appleton's Building, as the agent of DAY & SON, London, offers to subscribers a set of the finest line engravings ever produced for $10 THE SET.

These are copies of the celebrated Cartoons of

RAPHAEL AT HAMPTON COURT.

Description of the Engravings.

I.—ST. PAUL PREACHING AT ATHENS.

"The varied groups—the fine, thinking heads among the auditors—the expression of curiosity, reflection, doubt, conviction, faith, as revealed in the different countenances and attitudes, are all as fine as possible."

"In this one great effort of Art is combined all that is great in drawing, in expression, and in composition."

II.—THE CHARGE TO PETER (Feed My Sheep).

"The figure of Christ is wonderfully noble in conception and treatment; the heads of the Apostles are finely diversified; there is great unity of effect in the design; great harmony and tenderness in the color."

III.—THE DEATH OF ANANIAS.

"The grandeur of the design, heightened on the one hand by the astonishment and terror, and on the other softened by the pity and commiseration of the spectators grouped around the victim of supernatural punishment, affects the mind with an interest that belongs both to the truth of history and the force of the tragic drama."

IV.—ELYMAS, THE SORCERER, STRUCK WITH BLINDNESS.

"A subject so beautifully treated endears the mind to an art which renders permanent evanescent expression of countenance, and exhibits a lasting reference for the forms of dignity and the modes of passion."

V.—THE MIRACULOUS DRAUGHT OF FISHES.

"In this picture a majestic solitude contributes, by the contrast of its tranquillity, to heighten the intensity of human feeling and exalt the sacredness of divinity."

VI.—PAUL AND BARNABAS AT LYSTRA.

"Full of movement and interest; the most dramatic in effect of the whole series."

VII.—THE BEAUTIFUL GATE OF THE TEMPLE (Healing the Lame Man).

"The moral aim of the design, next in importance to its Scriptural purpose, is to inculcate the sentiment of unflinching pity for human suffering, from whatever cause it may arise, and to animate the practice of that benevolence which, apart from the direct interposition of heavenly aid, is its proper attribute."

The Engravings are all of the highest style of Line Engravings, and printed on paper, each of the size of 38x25 in.

The original proof impressions were published at $350.

Messrs. DAY & SON have determined to print a limited edition, to be distributed to subscribers only, and then destroy the plates. Mr. NORTON will have a few sets to dispose of.

When it is considered that these magnificent engravings are such as almost invariably cost $10 each, the surpassing cheapness at which they are now offered will be apparent. Each print is gotten up in the highest style of line engraving, and is on paper of the size of 38 x 25 inches.

Mr. NORTON will furnish a prospectus, giving full particulars, upon application at his office, where specimens may be seen.

On Six Sheets, each 25 by 20 inches, Colored; on Roller, varnished, size 5 feet by 4 feet, $5.

GEOLOGY.

MORRIS'S LARGE GEOLOGICAL DIAGRAMS. A series designed for teaching the principles of this important and practical science in Schools, &c., comprising a large Section of the Earth's Crust; Table of the Order of Succession of the Stratified Rocks; Forms of Stratification; Section of the London Basin; Springs, Artesian Wells, &c.; The Carboniferous Group of Coal and Iron Strata; Mining; Section of a Copper Mine; Interior of a Staffordshire Coal Mine, &c. With explanatory Notes. Edited by JOHN MORRIS, F. G. S., Professor of Geology and Mineralogy in University College. On Nine Sheets, each 25 by 20 inches, Colored; on Roller, varnished, size 6 feet by 5 feet, $5.

SECTION OF THE EARTH'S CRUST, showing the Arrangement of the Strata, and the relations of the various Rocks to each other, with the principal Geological phenomena connected therewith. On a Sheet about six feet in length, Colored, with Description by JOHN MORRIS, F. G. S.; on Roller, varnished, with Description at the foot, $3.

MORRIS'S GEOLOGICAL CHART, showing at one view the Order of Succession of the Stratified Rocks, with their Mineral Characters, Principal Fossils, Average Thickness, Localities, Uses in the Arts, &c. Arranged by JOHN MORRIS, F. G. S. On a Sheet, size 8 feet by 2 feet, Colored; on Roller, varnished, $2. This useful Chart has been lately compiled by Professor Morris, and forms the most recent and complete GEOLOGICAL SYNOPSIS extant.

TABLE OF GEOLOGICAL STRATA, showing the Order of Succession and the Comparative Thickness of the different Formations in Great Britain. Compiled from recent investigations. On a Sheet about 5 feet in length, boldly printed and Colored; on Roller, varnished, $1.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY.

PHYSICAL SCHOOL-ROOM MAPS. A new series of Large Maps, illustrating the principal subjects of Physical Geography. The size of each Map is 4 feet 6 inches by 8 feet.

Colored and mounted on Canvas, Roller, and Varnished, price $2. The series includes the following, any one of which may be had separately:—

MOUNTAIN CHAINS, TABLE-LANDS, LOW-LANDS, &c. This Map illustrates the Natural Features of the Land, showing the position, direction, and extent of the great Mountain Ranges of the Globe, the relative heights of which are strikingly shown by distinctive coloring, their culminating points being indicated, and the exact heights given in figures, on accompanying Diagrams.

VOLCANOES, EARTHQUAKE REGIONS, AND CORAL-REEFS. A complete Map of the Volcanic System of the Globe, showing the Active and Extinct Volcanoes, Hot Springs, &c., &c. The whole of the information brought down to the latest date.

RIVER SYSTEMS, MARINE CURRENTS, AND CO-TIDAL LINES. A comprehensive Diagram, illustrating the entire phenomena and Movements of the Waters. The direction and extent of the great Ocean Currents are shown according to the recent investigations of Lieut. Maury; and Co-Tidal lines indicate the progress of the wave of High Water over the World, &c., &c.

WINDS AND RAIN. A complete Map, showing the Regions of Periodical, Variable, and Trade Winds. Much of the information contained in this Map is entirely new, being the result of modern observation in various parts of the World.

MAP OF CLIMATES; showing the Distribution of the Temperature of the Air. This Map, like the former, is based upon modern meteorological observation.

DIAGRAMS OF PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY; illustrating the principal phenomena of the Earth, Air, and Waters, comprising the following:—Physical Features of the Land, Movements of the Waters, Distribution of the Winds, Distribution of the Rain, Diagram of Climates, Volcanic System of the Globe. Six Sheets, each 20 by 20 inches; on Roller, varnished, size 5 ft. by 5 ft., $5.

VIEW OF NATURE IN ALL CLIMATES. A Large Diagram, illustrating the Physical Phenomena of the various Regions of the Globe, and the cause of the different Climates from the Equator to the Arctic Circle. On a Sheet about 6 feet long, Colored, with copious Description; on Roller, varnished, $2 50. A copy of this pleasing and most instructive Diagram should be in every school-room.

SCHOOL DIAGRAMS.

VIEW OF NATURE IN ASCENDING REGIONS; presenting a view of the chief Mountains and High-lands of the Earth, and illustrating the Vertical Distribution of Animal and Vegetable Life. The whole so arranged and grouped as to form a highly picturesque and instructive Diagram. Size, 8 feet by 2 feet, Colored, with Description; on Roller, varnished, $2.

GEOGNOSTIC PROFILES. A series of Sections of different parts of the Eastern and Western Continents, illustrating their Vertical Configuration, on the plan of Humboldt. With Description, Colored, and mounted on Roller, varnished, size 4 ft. by 8 ft., $2 50.

RANGE OF VEGETATION. A View of the principal Mountains of the World, arranged in order of Latitude, showing the elevation of the Snow-line in various latitudes, and the vertical and horizontal range of some of the chief forms of Vegetation. On Roller, varnished, $1.

BOTANY.

BOTANICAL DIAGRAMS; exhibiting the Structure, Physiology, and Classification of Plants. Boldly drawn and Colored, and affording an easy method of teaching the principles of this interesting science in Schools or Families. Arranged by JAMES STEWART. On Six Sheets, each 25 by 20 inches, with Description, on Roller, varnished, $5.

ETHNOLOGY.

VARIETIES OF THE HUMAN RACE. Fifty full-length Figures, showing the Characteristic Features, Color, Height, and National Costume of the principal Varieties of Mankind. These graphic Illustrations are boldly drawn, and grouped according to the latest arrangement of Dr. Latham. Four Sheets, each 30 by 20 ins., richly Colored, with Description, on Roller, varnished, $4.

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY, MACHINERY, &c.

SCIENTIFIC CHARTS. A larger series of Illustrations of Popular Science, boldly drawn and Colored. The Diagrams and Description presented at one view, each Sheet giving a Synopsis of the subject illustrated. This series will be found of great utility in imparting a correct knowledge of those great Elementary Principles of Science with which every one should be acquainted. The size of each Sheet is 8 feet by 2 feet, on Roller, varnished, $1. The series comprises the following, each of which is complete in itself, and may be had separately:—

1. LAWS OF MATTER AND MOTION. Forty Diagrams and Description.
2. MECHANICAL POWERS. Thirty Diagrams and Description.
3. PRINCIPLES OF HYDROSTATICS. Twenty-five Diagrams and Description.
4. PRINCIPLES OF HYDRAULICS. Fourteen Diagrams and Description.

6. PRINCIPLES OF OPTICS. Thirty-four Diagrams and Description.

7. PRINCIPLES OF ELECTRICITY. Eighteen Diagrams and Description.

8. PRINCIPLES OF MAGNETISM. Sixteen Diagrams and Description.

MACHINERY, MANUFACTURES, &c. A series of boldly executed Diagrams, illustrating the most important Machines, Manufactures, &c. These Diagrams have been expressly prepared to give a clear idea of the Principle and Mode of Operation of the several Machines, and to show distinctly their essential working parts. They are well adapted for Lectures, or the purposes of Teaching, and form excellent copies for Mechanical Drawing. Each Diagram 8 feet by 2 feet, appropriately colored, with brief Description, on Roller, varnished, $1 50. The following are published:—

1. CONDENSING STEAM ENGINE, showing clearly its principle and action.
2. HIGH PRESSURE ENGINE, or Non-condensing, portable Engine.
3. LOCOMOTIVE ENGINE. A Section, showing its ingenious construction.
4. MARINE PADDLE ENGINES of the form now commonly in use.
5. MARINE SCREW ENGINES, Boulton and Watt's highly efficient Engines.
6. ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH. Its principle and action illustrated and explained.
7. MANUFACTURE OF CAST IRON. Blast Furnace in action, with other operations.
8. MANUFACTURE OF GAS, showing and explaining its various processes.
9. PAPER-MAKING MACHINE, converting the pulp into finished paper.
10. PRINTING MACHINE. The Double-Cylinder Machine and its action.
11. PUMPS. Sections of Common Pump, Force Pump, and both combined.
12. FIRE ENGINE. Section of a London Fire Brigade Engine, and its working parts.
13. HYDRAULIC PRESS, showing the principle of this powerful machine.
14. THRASHING MACHINE. Section showing its construction and action.
15. FLOUR MILL. An excellent example of water-power machinery.
16. PRINCIPLE OF THE WATCH, and its beautiful mechanical contrivances.
17. MECHANISM OF THE CLOCK, showing the moving, regulating, and striking apparatus.
18. DISTILLING. A large illustration of this important chemical process.
19. GAS METER, showing the mode of measuring the quantity of Gas consumed.
20. THE BAROMETER AND ITS USES, illustrated and explained.

PAWSON & NICHOLSON, BOOKBINDERS,

519 MINOR STREET, PHILADELPHIA,

Would respectfully invite the attention of Librarians, Public Institutions, and Private Gentlemen, to their capacity and facilities for the APPROPRIATE BINDING OF CHOICE, RARE, OR COSTLY BOOKS.

Strict attention paid to the Arrangement, Mounting, or Inlaying of Plates.

They keep constantly on hand a large assortment of the best qualities of Morocco and Calf of their own importation, and are thereby enabled to bind in accordance with the directions they receive, or, when left to their own taste and judgment, in styles corresponding with the character and contents of the books.

Having received the approbation of many of the most celebrated book collectors in New York, Philadelphia, and throughout the country, they feel confident of giving satisfaction to all who may entrust them with the execution of their orders.

Gentlemen wishing to examine specimens are invited to call. Specimens may also be seen at the office of CHARLES B. NORRIS, Agent for Libraries, New York.

CASSELL'S ILLUSTRATED

Family Bible,

ONE OF THE

MOST MAGNIFICENT PRODUCTIONS OF THE AGE!

This beautifully Illustrated Bible already commands an enormous circulation in England. A special edition for America will be issued in monthly parts, of which full particulars will shortly be given. To give a description of this work through the medium of an advertisement is impossible. Let all who desire to possess

THE BEST AND CHEAPEST ILLUSTRATED BIBLE EVER PUBLISHED, send for the first part, which will be ready shortly, and will be forwarded free by post on the receipt of 15 cents.

Booksellers, Postmasters, and Canvassing Agents should see Cassell's Illustrated Family Bible, Part I., and they will at once perceive that there never was a work produced so eminently calculated to command subscribers as this Illustrated Family Bible.

CASSELL'S ILLUSTRATED FAMILY BIBLE.—We are sure the readers of the LEDGER will feel obliged to us for calling their attention to this work, when they have seen a few numbers of it. This Bible, we understand, is to be issued in parts, at the price of fifteen cents, and we can cheerfully recommend it for its cheapness (the parts before us contain 32 pages large quarto), and also for its artistic and copious illustrations. These illustrations comprise not only the chief events of Scripture History, but the cities, towns, and villages in the land of the Bible; the plants, animals, and minerals; the manners, customs, and arts of the people; the ruins, monuments, coins, medals, inscriptions, and other remains of antiquity appear to be faithfully given; and these are calculated, in our opinion, with the explanatory notes, to elucidate the Sacred Writings.—New York Ledger, Jan. 14th, 1860.

TO PUBLISHERS.

NEW YORK, January, 1860.

Gentlemen,

I have to inform you that hereafter the publication known as "NORTON'S LITERARY LETTER," will be issued bi-monthly; and that I have made arrangements to embody among its contents the following department:

CURRENT WORKS FOR LIBRARIES.

WITH NOTES, CRITICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE.

As its title indicates, under this head I propose to take notice of all books sent to my office previous to each issue, with special reference to their adaptability to the wants of our Public Libraries. Such works only will be mentioned as are considered worthy of such a position, and will receive our recommendation ~~only when~~ considered valuable and useful.

This department will be placed under the personal supervision of a literary gentleman and critic, fully competent to fill the position; and authors and publishers may rely upon having a just, honest, and faithful examination and judgment of all books placed in my hands.

All works offered for notice in next number should be sent to my address on or before the first of March; and thereafter, by the first of every second month.

Respectfully,

CHARLES B. NORTON,

Agent for Libraries.

Horton's Literary Letter.

Earl Rivers presenting his Book, and Caxton, his printer, to Edward IV., the Queen, and Prince. From a curious MS. in the Archbishop's Library, at Lambeth. The portrait of the Prince (afterwards Edward V.) is the only one known of him, and has been engraved by Vertue among the Heads of the Kings. The person in a cap and robe of state is probably Richard, Duke of Gloucester, as he resembles the King, and as Clarence was always too great an enemy of the Queen to be distinguished by her brother. The book was printed in 1477, when Clarence was in Ireland; and in the beginning of the next year he was murdered.

The Game and Playe of the Chesse.

BY WILLIAM CAXTON.

IN our last Number of the Literary Letter, we gave a fac-simile specimen of the Biblia Pauperum, being the first or very nearly the first book printed on the continent of Europe, and we now have the pleasure of presenting to our subscribers an exact fac-simile of a page of the first book printed in England, being "The Game and Playe of the Chesse," printed by the renowned William Caxton, a few particulars of whose life, gleaned from various sources, here follow :

William Caxton, one of those imperishable names which shed a glory on the land of their birth, was born in the Weald of Kent, that southern portion of one of England's most celebrated counties, in or about the year 1410. Having served an apprenticeship to a mercer, he was afterwards employed by the Mercers' Company as their agent in the Netherlands, a position he filled with so much talent and integrity, during the long period of twenty-three years, that he was chosen as the fittest person to negotiate a commercial treaty between Edward IV. and the Duke of Burgundy. He subsequently entered the service of the celebrated Margaret, Duchess of Burgundy, the sister of Edward IV. During his varied career he had acquired the art of printing; and in compliance with the wishes of his illustrious patroness, he translated from the French of Raoul le Fevre, "Recuyell of the Historyes of Troye," and printed it in 1471, at Cologne. This is the earliest typographical production in the English language, and is now so scarce that at the Roxburghe sale a copy of it sold for £1,060. Caxton continued to exercise his new vocation for about twenty years, during which time he produced between fifty and sixty volumes, for the most part composed or translated by himself. His books are printed upon a sort of vellum paper, and the errors of the press are corrected in red ink with his own hand; what are technically called "errata" being then unknown. The year of Caxton's return to England is uncertain, but must have been previous to 1474, as he then had a press in Westminster Abbey, from whence issued the first book executed in that country, viz., "The Game and Playe of the Chesse." Caxton continued his labors throughout his life, and is supposed to have died about 1492; and was interred, according to some, in Campden, Glamorganshire, whilst other state that his remains were deposited in St. Margaret's, Westminster.

The life of Caxton has been written by the Rev. John Lewis, Minister of Margate, in Kent, London, 1787, one volume, large octavo; the reader may also consult Middleton's Dissertation on the Origin of Printing in England. "The Game of the Chesse" contains a description of the Pieces and Pawns, with twenty-four woodcuts, eight of which are repetitions of the others. The following is a correct list of these early production of English art:

1. An executioner with an ax, cutting to pieces on a block the limbs of a man. On the head, which is lying on the ground, there is a crown. Birds are seen seizing and flying away with portions of the limbs. There are buildings in the distance, and three figures, one of whom is a king, with a crown and scepter, appear looking on.
2. A figure sitting at a table with a chess-board before him, and holding one of the chess-men in his hand. This is the cut which Dr. Dibdin says is the first in the book.
3. A king and another person playing at chess. (This is the one here given in fac simile.)
4. The King at chess, seated on a throne.
5. The King and Queen.
6. The "Alphyns," now called "Bishops," in the game of chess, "in the manner of judges sitting."
7. The Knight.
8. The "Rook," or Castle, a figure on horseback, wearing a hood, and holding a staff in his hand.
- From No. 9 to No. 15, inclusive, the Pawns are represented as follows: Laborers and workmen; the principal figure, representing the first Pawn, with a spade in his right hand, and a cart-whip in his left.
10. The second Pawn, a smith with his buttress in the string of his apron, and a hammer in his right hand.
11. The third Pawn, represented as a clerk,—that is, a writer or transcriber, in the same sense as Peter Scheffer and Ulric Zell are styled clerici,—with his case of writing materials at his girdle, a pair of shears in one hand, and a large knife in the other.
12. The fourth Pawn, a man with a pair of scales, and having a purse at his girdle, representing "marchauntes or chaungers."
13. The fifth Pawn, a figure seated on a chair, having in his right hand a book, and in his left a sort of casket or box of ointments, representing a physician, spicer, or apothecary. 14. The sixth pawn, an innkeeper receiving a guest. 15. The seventh pawn, a figure with a yard measure in his right hand, a bunch of keys in his left, and an open purse at his girdle, representing "customers and tolle-gaderers." 16. The eighth Pawn, a figure with a sort of badge on his breast, near to his right shoulder, after the manner of a nobleman's retainer, and holding a pair of dice in his left hand, representing dice-players, messengers, and "currouers"—that is, "couriers."

The following is the description which Caxton gives of the character of the Knight, No. 7: "The Knyght ought to be maad al armed, upon an hors, in suche wise that he have an helme on his heed, and a spere in his right hond, and coverid with his shelde, a swerde and a mace on his left syde; clad with an halberke and plates tofore his breste, legge-harnoyes on his legges, spores on his heelis, on his hands hys gauntelettes; hys hors wel broken and taught and apte to battaylle, and coveryd with hys armes. When the Knyghtes been maad, they ben bayned or bathed. That is the sign that they sholde lede a new lyfe and newe maners; also, they wake alle the nyghte in prayers and orisons unto God, that he wil geve hem grace that they may gete that thyng that they may not gete by nature. The kyng or prince gyrdeth aboute them a swerde, in signe that they sholde abyde and kepen hym of whom they taken their dispences and dignyte."

The cut of the sixth or Bishop's Pawn, No. 14, "which is lykened to taverners and vytaylers," is thus described: "The sixte pawn, which stondeth before the Alphyn on the lyfte syde, is made in this forme, ffor hit is a man that hath the right hond stretched out for to calle men, and holdeth in his left honde a loof of breed and a cuppe of wyn, and on his gurdel hangyng a bondel of keyes; and this resemblith the taverners, hostellers, and sellars of vytayl; and these ought properly to be set to fore the Alphyn, as to fore a juge, for there soundeth oft tymes amonge hem contencion, noyse, and stryf, which behoveth to be determyned and trayted by the Alphyn, which is juge of the kynge."

The engraving at the head of this article will serve to show the estimation in which Caxton was held by Edward IV. and his court.

REV. JUDSON H. HOPKINS, of Ravenswood, L. I., is collecting materials for a Bibliography of the Quakers in America, which will appear in the Literary Letter. Any gentleman possessing rare books connected with this subject, will confer a favor to the cause of Bibliography by sending an accurate copy of the title of the same either to Mr. Hopkins or to Mr. C. B. Norton. Proper acknowledgments will be made in the Bibliography for all titles thus furnished.

The Public Libraries of Paris.

THE BIBLIOTHÈQUE IMPÉRIALE, whose celebrity is world-wide, was founded by King John in the 14th century; but Charles V. [1364-1380] was the first king of France who took actual measures to procure its continuance by his successors. In 1378, this library contained 910 volumes, placed in one of the towers of the Louvre. From this period it was neglected until 1425, when the Duke of Bedford obtained possession of it for a small sum of money, and, as is believed, conveyed it to England. The present collection is based on a library commenced by Louis XI. This collection was increased by means of a law, ordering that one copy of every printed book should be deposited therein. Louis XII. added the books that his father had collected at Blois; and Francis I., in the year 1544, sent the whole to a library founded by him at Fontainebleau, containing at that time 1,890 volumes. In 1595, this library was transferred to Paris, where, in 1684, it contained nearly 40,000 printed books, and 10,500 MSS., many of these having been added to it by Colbert and others. At present, this library contains about 825,000 printed books; 85,000 volumes of manuscripts; 800,000 charters or deeds, and 500,000 pamphlets and tracts. Besides these, it contains a superb collection of coins, medals, and curiosities, originally collected by Louis XIV., and more than 1,500,000 engravings and portraits. The MSS. are especially rare and valuable, including, at one time, Horace, Virgil, Cæsar, Terence, and others among the Classics; Dante, Boccaccio, and Michael Angelo; besides many others acquired from the Vatican Library, and afterwards returned to Rome. The Bibliothèque Impériale is open to readers every day, except holidays, from 10 o'clock A. M. until 4 P. M. Although there have been made various catalogues of its treasures, in MS. and type, there has been no complete catalogue ever made of the whole collection, and the difficulty of obtaining rare or little-known works, is of course very great. Such a catalogue has been undertaken by order of the present Emperor, and has proceeded as far as the fourth volume, in the class of French history.

The MAZARIN LIBRARY was commenced in 1643, by order of the Cardinal Mazarin, and the following year was thrown open to the public; it soon became popular, containing as it did some 40,000 volumes. During the Fronde, about 16,000 volumes were sold, when the King arrested the sale in 1652. In his will, Mazarin bequeathed this library to "men of letters," with the injunction that it should be opened to them twice in each week; this was not, however, done until 1688.

The library contains at present about 130,000 printed books, and 4,000 manuscripts, besides works of art, models of Pelasgic monuments, etc. The books include mostly works of History, Theology, and Medicine, of the 15th and 16th centuries. The library is open every day except holidays, and a vacation from the 1st of August to the 15th of September, from 10 A. M. until 3 P. M. It possesses no modern works, not having purchased anything with the exception of memoirs and dictionaries, since 1789.

The LIBRARY OF ST. GENEVIEVE was founded in 1624 by the Cardinal de la Rochefoucault, an Abbé of St. Genevieve, in the buildings of the monastery. Additions were made to the collection from valuable private libraries, until the period of the Empire, when it received the name of "Library of the Pantheon." It contains at the present day nearly 150,000 printed books and 5,000 manuscripts. The reading-room is the largest in Paris, seating comfortably 420 persons. Among other rarities, the library contains a fine collection of the publications of Aldus and Elzivir; early printed books; Italian books of the 16th century; and one of the best collections of the works of Lope de Vega, known to exist. Also, newspapers, pamphlets, etc., from the 17th century until the Empire.

A unique collection of portraits of the 16th century, adds to the value of this remarkable library.

This library is extremely popular, and visitors are obliged to attend early to secure seats; the regulations are similar to those described above, with the exception that it is open in the evening from 6 until 10. Each department, of which there are six, is superintended by a special librarian, and the whole establishment is thoroughly systematic.

The BIBLIOTHÈQUE DE L'ARSENAL contains 280,000 volumes, of which 6,000 are manuscripts. It is devoted to early French literature, containing a remarkable collection of Poetry, Plays, etc. The regulations of this library are similar to those before mentioned.

The BIBLIOTHÈQUE DE LA SORBONNE comprises 100,000 volumes, including 1,000 rare manuscripts. It was founded coeval with the University of France.

The BIBLIOTHÈQUE DE LA VILLE DE PARIS contains more than 80,000 volumes, including 12,000 presented by the various States of the American Union.

BIBLIOTHÈQUE DU MUSEUM D'HISTOIRE NATURELLE, 40,000 volumes, including rare books and manuscripts, and 5,000 engravings on vellum, referring to natural history.

BIBLIOTHÈQUE DE L'ÉCOLE DE MÉDECINE, 45,000 volumes.

BIBLIOTHÈQUE DE L'ÉCOLE DE DROIT, 10,000 volumes.

BIBLIOTHÈQUE DU CONSERVATOIRE DE MUSIQUE ET DE DÉCLAMATION, 25,000 volumes upon Music.

BIBLIOTHÈQUE DU CONSERVATOIRE DES ARTS ET MÉTIERS. 20,000 volumes upon Technology and different branches of industrial arts.

BIBLIOTHÈQUE NATIONALE POLONAISE, founded in 1839, and contains 30,000 volumes.

BIBLIOTHÈQUE DE LA CHAMBRE DE COMMERCE. Composed entirely of works relating to navigation, commerce, colonies, legislation, finances, etc.

These are all the strictly public libraries of Paris; that is, all which are opened to the public free of expense. The total number of volumes contained in them, is 1,685,000, and about 100,000 manuscripts.

Current Works for Libraries.

WITH NOTES CRITICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE.

JANUARY—JUNE, 1860.

THE following books have been selected from the reprints and new publications for this year, as adapted to the wants of public libraries. They comprise works upon every subject, and have been chosen without regard to any other qualification than those of worth and importance.

ALISON.—The History of Europe, from the Fall of Napoleon, in MDCCCXV., to the Accession of Louis Napoleon in MDCCCLII. Vol. 4. 8vo., pp. 716. [Harper & Brothers.] $1 50

Although the deductions of this author are frequently incorrect and improper, the correctness of his facts may be relied upon, and the work will be found valuable as an encyclopedia of the history of Europe.

BUCKINGHAM (Duke of).—The Life and Times of George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham, from Original and Authentic Sources. By Mrs. Thomson. 3 vols., post 8vo., pp. 780. London. $10 00

To such libraries as pay attention to the collection of biographies of noted men, this work will be found valuable and interesting.

BURTON, R.—The Anatomy of Melancholy: What it Is, with all Kinds, Causes, Symptoms, Prognostics, and several Cures of it; in Three Partitions, with their several Sections, Members, and Subsections, Philosophically, Medically, Historically Opened and Cut up. By Democritus Junior. With a Satirical Preface, conducing to the following Discourse. A New Edition, Corrected, and enriched by Translations of the numerous Classical Extracts, by Democritus Minor. 12mo., 3 vols. Boston: Crosby, Nichols, Lee & Co. 1860. $4 00

An exceedingly beautiful and readable edition of a quaint and rare old author—one who has been, perhaps, more borrowed from than any other of the period.

CARTER.—History of the Great Reformation in England, Ireland, Scotland, Germany, France, and Italy. By Rev. Thomas Carter. 12mo., pp. 372. [Carlton & Porter.] $1 00

A compilation of very considerable interest, and one much needed.

CHAMBERS'S Encyclopedia: a Dictionary of Universal Knowledge for the People; illustrated with maps and numerous wood engravings. Vol. I. Royal 8vo., pp. 820. London. $2 50

As a popular Encyclopedia this will be found useful.

COGGESHALL.—Historical Sketch of Commerce and Navigation from the Birth of our Savior down to the Present Date (1860); with Remarks on the Beneficial Results to Christianity in Civilization. By George Coggeshall, author of the "History of American Privateers," &c. 8vo., pp. 526. [G. P. Putnam.] $2 00

An exceedingly valuable work, and one that will be found useful in any library.

COOLEIDGE, A. J., and J. B. MANSFIELD.—A New and Complete History and Description of Maine. In 1 volume, royal 8vo., 400 pages. Boston: J. B. Mansfield. $3 50

The interest in local histories is greatly increasing, and works of this nature are frequently required in public libraries.

CURTIS.—History of the Origin, Formation, and Adoption of the Constitution of the United States; with Notices of the principal Framers. By George T. Curtis. New edition, 2 vols., 8vo., pp. 518 653. [Harper & Brothers.] $4 00

This work, which has become standard, will be found a necessary accompaniment of every library of American history.

DARWIN.—The Origin of Species by means of Natural Selection; or, the Preservation of Favored Races in the Struggle for Life. By Charles Darwin, M. A., Fellow of the Royal, Geological, Linnean, &c., Societies; author of "Journal of Researches during H. M. S. Beagle's Voyage Round the World." 12mo. pp. 432. [D. Appleton & Co.] $1 25

This is probably the most remarkable work of the present year; advancing theories entirely adverse to popular belief, and even to previous scientific deductions, it has taken hold of the public mind with a tenacity not reached by any other work since Buckle.

DORAN (DR.).—The Book of the Princes of Wales, Heirs to the Crown of England. By Dr. Doran. Post 8vo. pp. 530. London. $3 50

The youthful history of the Kings of England is here collected into one volume, possessing as romantic interest as any work of the kind that could be compiled.

FICHTE, I. H.—Contributions to Mental Philosophy. Translated and edited by J. D. Morell, M. A., author of "Elements of Psychology," &c. Cap 8vo., cloth. London. $1 50

No one is better able to present the works of the German metaphysicians than Mr. Morell, who has devoted his life to the elucidation of the history and biography of the subject.

FORSTER (J.).—Arrest of the Five Members by Charles the First: a Chapter of English History Re-written. By John Forster. Post 8vo., pp. 460. $3 50

This event, probably the most important in its results of any in English history, is elaborately and minutely depicted in the vigorous language of the great English critic and essayist.

GOSSE, PHILIP HENRY.—Evenings at the Microscope; or, Researches among the Minuter Organs and Forms of Animal Life. 12mo., pp. 480. New York: D. Appleton & Co. $1 25

Combining amusement with instruction in this delightful science, this work will be found an admirable textbook. Mr. Gosse presents the subject in its most attractive light.

GRIFFITH (J. W.) and HENFREY (A.).—The Micrographic Dictionary; a Guide to the Examination and Investigation of the Structure and Nature of Microscopic Objects. By J. W. Griffith and Arthur Henfrey. 2d edit. 8vo. Illustrated by 45 Plates and 812 Woodcuts. pp. 800. London. $12 00

A complete encyclopedia of microscopic science, and the only perfect compend of the kind ever published.

GODWIN.—The History of France, from the Earliest Times to the French Revolution of 1789. Vol 1 (Ancient Gaul). By Parke Godwin. 8vo., pp. 495. [Harper & Brothers.] $2 00

Strange enough, there has heretofore existed no complete history, in English, of the French Empire. Mr. Godwin has thus far performed his task well, and the work will be found a necessary addition to every library.

HAMILTON.—History of the Republic of the United States of America, as traced in the Writings of Alexander Hamilton and his Contemporaries. By John C. Hamilton. Vol. 5. 8vo., pp. 620. [D. Appleton & Co.] $2 50

The history of the United States at this period could not have been more accurately traced than in the life of its greatest statesman. Mr. Hamilton's materials for the work are unlimited, and the work is one of the greatest importance to every historical collection.

HAYDN (J.)—A Dictionary of Dates relating to all Ages and Nations, for Universal Reference; comprehending Remarkable Occurrences, Ancient and Modern; the Foundation, Laws, and Government of Countries; their Progress in Civilization, Industry, Literature, Arts, and Science; their Achievements in Arms; and their Civil, Military, and Religious Institutions, and particularly of the British Empire. By Joseph Haydn. 9th edit., revised and greatly enlarged by Benjamin Vincent. 8vo., pp. 740. London. $5 00

A valuable and useful chronological dictionary. The present edition is greatly enlarged and improved.

HERODOTUS.—The History of Herodotus: a New English Version. Edited, with copious Notes and Appendixes, illustrating the History and Geography of Herodotus, from the most recent sources of Information, and embodying the chief Results, Historical and Ethnographical, which have been obtained in the process of Cuneiform and Hieroglyphical Discovery, by George Rawlinson, assisted by Col. Sir Henry Rawlinson and Sir J. G. Wilkinson. 4 vols. Vol. 4, 8vo., pp. 570. London. $5 00

HERODOTUS.—The History of. A New English Version. Edited, with copious Notes and Appendixes, illustrating the History and Geography of Herodotus, from the most recent sources of Information; and embodying the chief Results, Historical and Ethnographical which have been obtained in the process of Cuneiform and Hieroglyphical Discovery, by George Rawlinson, M. A., late Fellow and Tutor of Exeter College, Oxford, assisted by Col. Sir Henry Rawlinson, K. C. B., and Sir J. G. Wilkinson, F. R. S. With Maps and Illustrations. 4 vols. Vols. 2 and 3. [D. Appleton & Co.] each $2 50

A superb edition of the works of the great traveler, illustrated with notes and plates, and based on personal researches of the editor, who has labored hard in the field of Oriental restoration.

HOUGH, FRANKLIN B.—A History of Lewis County, in the State of New York, from the beginning of its Settlement to the Present Time. By Franklin B. Hough, author of the Histories of St. Lawrence, Franklin, and Jefferson Counties, and Corresponding Member of the New York, Connecticut, Vermont, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Iowa Historical Societies. 8vo., pp. 319. [Munsell & Rowland.] $3 50

As aids to the future historian of the Empire State, these County Histories will be of the greatest importance.

HUMBOLDT, ALEX. VON, Letters of, to Varnhagen von Ense, from 1827 to 1858. With Extracts from Varnhagen's Diaries, and Letters of Varnhagen and others to Humboldt. Translated from the Second German Edition. By Frederic Kapp. 12mo. pp. 407. [Rudd & Carleton.] $1 25

These familiar and piquant letters, present the character of Humboldt in its most interesting aspect, while they exhibit the habits and customs of the great minds with whom he associated better than any biography.

JAMESON (MRS.)—Memoirs of Early Italian Painters, and of the Progress of Painting in Italy, from Cimabue to Bassano. By Mrs. Jameson. New edition, revised throughout by the Author, and with much additional matter. Post 8vo., pp. 340. London. $3 50

The labors of this lamented and eminent authoress in the field of art were conscientious and praiseworthy; the century has not produced another of equal merit; and future art-historians will derive the greater part of their material from her researches.

LEE.—The Treason of Charles Lee, Major-General, second in command in the American Army of the Revolution. By George H. Moore. 8vo., pp. 115. [Charles Scribner.] $1 50

A manuscript accidentally discovered has at length settled this vexed question, to the shame of the treacherous officer. Mr. Moore has presented the subject, with notes and fac similes, in the most careful manner.

LEWES (G. H.)—The Physiology of Common Life. By George Henry Lewes. 2 vols. Vol. 2, post 8vo., pp. 480. London. $1 75

Treating science in a popular manner, and selecting its examples from every-day resources, have become usual among modern authors. This will be found to equal in interest and information any of this class of works.

LOWNDES'S Bibliographer's Manual of English Literature, comprising an Account of Rare, Curious, and Useful Books published in England since the Invention of Printing; with Bibliographical and Critical Notices and Prices. New Edition, revised and enlarged by Henry G. Bohn. Part 5, post 8vo. $1 00

To such as are unable to complete an extended bibliographical collection, this work, with its notes and additions, will be found an able assistant within its speciality.

MARSH.—Lectures on the English Language. By George P. Marsh. 8vo., pp. 697. [Charles Scribner.] $2 50

These Lectures, delivered before the N. Y. Historical Society, in their present form will be found necessary to every English scholar, as well as every student of philology.

NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA (The): a Popular Dictionary of General Knowledge. Edited by George Ripley and Charles A. Dana. Volume IX. Hayne—Jersey City. 8vo., pp. 790. [D. Appleton & Co.] $3 00

This work is useful for the amount of information it contains, and for the extended variety of the subject's treated.

NICHOL (J. P.)—A Cyclopedia of the Physical Sciences: comprising Acoustics, Astronomy, Dynamics, Electricity, Heat, Hydro-Dynamics, Magnetism, Philosophy of Mathematics, Meteorology, Optics, Pneumatics, Statics, &c. By J. P. Nichol. 2d edit., revised and enlarged. 8vo., pp. 901. London. $6 00

As a compend of Physical Science, libraries will do well to procure this work; the reputation of the author is too well established to need comment.

PARTON.—Life of Andrew Jackson. By James Parton, author of "Life of Aaron Burr," &c. 3 vols., 8vo. Vol. 2, pp. 672. [Mason Brothers.] $2 50

Mr. Parton established his reputation in his Life of Burr, and is adding to it in the present work. As a careful and eloquent biographer, he is rapidly obtaining a high position in American literature.

RHEES (WM. J.)—Manual of Libraries, Societies, and Institutions, in the United States and British Provinces of North America. Containing an Historical and Statistical Account of Libraries, Colleges, and College Societies, Academies, Seminaries, and High Schools, Institutions for the Deaf, Dumb, Blind, and Insane; Agricultural, Historical, Scientific, Mercantile, and Young Men's Christian, and other Associations. By William J. Rhees, Chief Clerk, of the Smithsonian Institution. 1 vol., 8vo., pp. 700. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co. $3 00

Presenting at one view the literary and educational establishments of the United States. A text-book for libraries.

RUSKIN (JOHN).—The Elements of Perspective, arranged for the use of Schools. 12mo., pp. 154. [John Wiley.] $0 63

Apart from the usefulness of the writings of this distinguished author, as criticisms upon art, ancient and modern, they possess extraordinary merit of language; Mr. Ruskin is probably the most fluent and scholarly writer of pure English of the day, and his works may be studied as models.

SEWARD (WM. H.), The Life of. With selections from his Works. Edited by George E. Baker. New edition, with Additions, brought down to date March 12, 1860. 12mo., pp. 434. [J. S. Redfield.] $1 00

The late prominence of Mr. Seward as a candidate for the Presidency, and his defeat, will awaken very considerable interest in his life and past career, more especially as that career is now probably drawing to a close.

SMITH (WM., LL. D.)—A Dictionary of the Bible, comprising its Antiquities, Biography, Geography, and Natural History. 2 vols. Vol. 1, A to Juttah. 8vo., pp. 1176. [Little, Brown & Co.] $5 00

Important to theological students.

- STEVENS (REV. WM. B.).—A History of Georgia, from its First Discovery by Europeans, to the Adoption of the present Constitution in MDCCXCVIII. By Rev. Wm. Bacon Stevens, M. D., D. D., formerly Professor of Belles-Lettres, History, &c., in the University of Georgia, Athens. 2 vols. Vol. 2, pp. 524. [E. H. Butler & Co.] $2 00
- THIERS (M. A.).—The History of the French Revolution. By M. A. Thiers. Translated, with Notes and Illustrations from the most authentic sources, by Frederick Shoberl. New edit., 5 vols. Vol. 2. post 8vo., pp. 480. London. $1 50
- TIMBS (J.).—The Year Book of Facts in Science and Art; exhibiting the most important Discoveries and Improvements of the Past Year in Mechanics and the Useful Arts, Natural Philosophy, Electricity, Chemistry, Zoology and Botany, Geology and Mineralogy, Meteorology and Astronomy. By John Timbs. 12mo., pp. 299. London. $1 50
- TOOKE (J. H.).—Εἰσα Περὶ πνεύματος; or, the Diversions of Purley. By John Horne Tooke. With numerous additions from the copy prepared by the Author for republication. Revised and corrected, with additional Notes, by Richard Taylor. 8vo., pp. 780. London. $3 00
- VAUGHAN.—Revolutions in English History. By Robert Vaughan, D. D. Vol. I. Revolutions of Race. 8vo., pp. 563. [D. Appleton & Co.] $2 00
- WASHINGTON.—The Recollections and Private Memoirs of George Washington. By his Adopted Son, George Washington Parke Custis. With a Memoir of the Author by his Daughter, and Illustrative and Explanatory Notes, by B. J. Lossing. With Illustrations. 8vo., pp. 644. [Derby & Jackson.] $2 50
Mr. Custis presents many interesting private memorials of the Father of his Country.
- WHATELY.—Introductory Lessons on Mind. By the author of "Lessons on Reasoning," "Lessons on Morals," &c. 12mo. pp. 240. [James Munroe & Co.] $0 75
- WHITE (REV. JAMES).—The Eighteen Christian Centuries. By the Rev. James White, author of a "History of France." With a copious Index. From the second Edinburgh edition. 12mo., p. 538. [D. Appleton & Co.] $1 25
Perhaps the most interesting historical work of the season. Glancing cursorily and rapidly at every period and every event, it slights nothing; the deductions are philosophical, and the conclusions just and logical; the language clear, terse, and vigorous; it should be in every public library.
- WORCESTER (JOSEPH E., LL. D.).—A Dictionary of the English Language. 4to., pp. 1854. [Hickling, Swaff & Brewer.] $7 50
Dr. Worcester has prepared on the basis of his old work a Dictionary exceeding in completeness and philological accuracy any ever before published of the English language.
- YOUNG (A. W.).—The American Statesman: a Political History, exhibiting the Origin, Nature, and Practical Operation of Constitutional Government in the United States; the Rise and Progress of Parties; and the Views of Distinguished Statesmen on Questions of Foreign and Domestic Policy, brought down to the present time; with an Appendix, containing the Explanatory Notes, Political Essays, Statistical Information, and other Useful Matter. By Andrew W. Young, author of "Science of Government." 8vo., pp. 1066. [Derby & Jackson.] $3 50
In a country so surrendered to politics as the United States, any political history is valuable and useful. Mr. Young has been long known in connection with the subject.

Allen, Ebenezer. Reprint of a Short Biography of Colonel Ebenezer Allen, known in the New Hampshire Grants, as Captain or Major, A.D. 1777, before and after. Also, short Biographies of Lieutenant Samuel Allen and Dr. Jacob Roebeck. In addition, some reminiscences of Lake Champlain, reprinted in part. Plattsburgh: J. W. Tuttle, book and job printer. 1852. 8vo. pp. 32.

Allen, Ethan. A brief Narrative of the Proceedings of the Government of New York, relative to their obtaining the Jurisdiction of that large District of Land to the westward from Connecticut River, which, antecedent thereto, had been patented by his Majesty's Governor and Council of the Government of New Hampshire. And also, of the monopolizing Conduct of the Government of New York, in their subsequently patenting Part of the same Land, and oppressing the Grantees and Settlers under New Hampshire. Together with Arguments demonstrating that the Property of those Lands was conveyed from the Crown to the New-Hampshire Grantees, by Virtue of their respective Charters. With Remarks on a Pamphlet entitled, "A State of the Right of the Colony of New York," &c., and on the Narrative of the Proceedings subsequent to the Royal Adjudication, concerning the Lands to the Westward of Connecticut River, lately usurp'd by New Hampshire. Intended as an Appendix to the General Assembly's State of the Right of the Colony of New York (with Respect to its Eastern Boundary on Connecticut River, so far as concerns the late Encroachments under the Government of New Hampshire), published at their Session, 1773. By ETHAN ALLEN. Bennington, 23d September, 1774. Hartford: Printed by Eben Watson, near the Great Bridge. 8vo. pp. 211.

. Referred to in Ira Allen's Hist. Vt. 52; also in a letter of E. Allen in Slade's Vt. State Papers, at p. 93.

— A narrative of Colonel Ethan Allen's Captivity, From the time of his being taken by the British, near Montreal, on the 25th day of September, 1775, to the time of his exchange on the sixth day of May, 1778, containing his Voyages and Travels, With the most remarkable occurrences respecting himself, and many other Continental prisoners of different ranks and characters, which fell under his observation in the course of the same; particularly the destruction of the prisoners at New York, by general sir William Howe, in the years 1776 and 1777, interspersed with some political observations. Written by himself, and now published for the information of the curious in all nations.

When God from chaos gave this world to be,
Man then he form'd, and form'd him to be free.

American Independence—A poem, by Freneau.

Philadelphia: Printed for and sold by William Mentz, in Cherry Alley. 1779. 12mo. pp. 64.

. The introduction to this work is signed, "Ethan Allen. Bennington, March 25th, 1779."

There have been several editions of this "Narrative," some of which, and possibly all, are noticed below.

1. The original edition, the title and imprint of which are given above. The copy of this edition which I have seen, is in the library of the New York Historical Society, and is not an unfair specimen of the book-making of the period to which it belongs. It is possible there may have been another edition in the same year, since the primal garb of the work is alluded to in the Walpole edition of 1807, as "the shabby dress of a large and ragged pamphlet."

2. In the appendix of the second volume of "Particulars of the Capture of the ship Olive Branch," written by Ira Allen. Although the second volume of the "Particulars," &c., was not published until 1805, yet the separate title-page to the "Narrative," bears the date of 1799. See Allen, Ira.

3. The Walpole edition. Following the poetical quotation on the title page, are these words:—

"To which are now added a considerable number of explanatory and occasional notes, together with an index of reference to the most remarkable occurrences in the narrative. Walpole, N. H. Published by Thomas & Thomas. From the press of Charter & Hale. 1807." 12mo. pp. 169.

4. An edition which bore this imprint: "Albany: Published by Pratt & Clark. Printed by Moses Pratt, jun., No. 162 Lion street. 1814." 12mo. pp. 144.

5. An edition called "The third edition," published at Burlington, Vt., in 1883, by Chauncey Goodrich, in the preface to which, the publisher, referring to the work, states, incorrectly, that "it is now thirty-one years since it has been published, and more than twenty years since it has been seen in any book store."

6. What is termed the "Fourth edition," bears the imprint, "Burlington: Chauncey Goodrich. 1846." 12mo. pp.

7. Styled in the title-page "Fifth edition, with notes," and is imprinted, "Burlington: C. Goodrich & S. B. Nichols. Wickware building. 1849." 8vo. pp. 50.

— A Vindication of the opposition of the inhabitants of Vermont to the government of New York, and of their right to form an independent state, humbly submitted to the consideration of the impartial world. By Ethan Allen. Printed by Alden Spooner, 1779. Printer to the State of Vermont. 8vo. pp. 172.

. This work was published in obedience to a resolve of the Governor and Council of Vermont, passed August 23d, 1779.

— An animadversory address to the inhabitants of the State of Vermont, with remarks on a proclamation, under the hand of his Excellency George Clinton, Esq., Governor of the State of New York. By Ethan Allen. Hartford: Printed by Watson & Goodwin, near the great bridge. M.DCC.LXXVIII. (Dated Bennington, August 9, 1778.) 8vo. pp. 24.

. In a letter to Gov. Chittenden, dated at Windsor, Oct. 10, 1778, Ethan Allen refers to this work, and to another written by himself in 1774, in these terms: "The allegations, thrown by New York, received a most severe shock on the perusal of my late pamphlet in answer to his Excellency Governor Clinton's proclamation, dated in February last, containing certain overtures to the inhabitants of this state; as well as from my large treatise on the nature and merit of the New York claim, and their treatment to the inhabitants of this now state of Vermont."—Slade's Vt. State Papers, 93.

— The present state of the controversy between the states of New York and New Hampshire on the one part, and the state of Vermont on the other. Hartford: Printed by Hudson & Goodwin. M.DCC.LXXXII. 8vo. pp. 16.

. This pamphlet is dated, "State of Vermont, January 17, 1782," and although it appeared anonymously, is accredited with certainty to Ethan Allen.

— and Fay, Jonas. A concise refutation of the claims of New Hampshire and Massachusetts Bay, to the Territory of Vermont; with occasional Remarks on the long disputed Claim of New York to the same. Written by Ethan Allen and Jonas Fay, Esq's. And published by order of the Governor and Council of Vermont. Bennington, the first Day of January, 1780. Joseph Fay, Sec'y. Hartford: Printed by Hudson & Goodwin. 8vo. pp. 29.

Allen, Ira. A vindication of the Conduct of the General Assembly of the State of Vermont, held at Windsor, in October, 1778, against Allegations and Remarks of the protesting Members; with Observations on their Proceedings, at a Convention held at Cornish, on the 9th day of December, 1778. By Ira Allen. Arlington, 9th Jan., 1779. Dresden, printed by Alden Spooner. 1779. 12mo. pp. 48.

. At the session of the General Assembly of Vermont held at Bennington in February, 1779, Mr. Bradley, Dr. Jones, and Mr. Bowley were, on Tuesday, the 16th of that month, appointed to distribute this pamphlet. Reference is made to this pamphlet in Ira Allen's Hist. Vt., p. 117, and in Williams's Hist. Vt., 2d ed., vol. II, p. 180.

— Miscellaneous Remarks on the Proceedings of the State of New York against the State of Vermont, &c. By Ira Allen. Hartford: Printed by Hannah Watson, near the Great Bridge. MDCCLXXXVII. 8vo. pp. 15 to 20.

. The date of this pamphlet is October 30th, 1777. The topics treated therein are the resolutions of the New York Convention, passed May 10th, 1777, and the provisions of the New York constitution. For the resolutions, see the Documentary History of New York, vol. iv, pp. 936-940; Hall's History of Eastern Vermont, pp. 292-294; Thompson's History of Vermont, part II, p. 107. I have never seen a printed copy of this pamphlet.

— Miscellaneous Remarks, vindicating the rights of the people to form a State, and in answer to a pamphlet published by the Convention of New York, dated October 2d, 1776. By Ira Allen. Hartford: Printed by Hannah Watson, near the Great Bridge. 1777. 8vo. pp. 40 to 50.

. This title is not literal, but conjectural, embracing an account of the topics discussed in the pamphlet. The preface is in these words: "The following impartial work was undertaken by and at the request of the General Convention of the district of the New Hampshire Grants, and many matters of fact are here inserted, as a short state of the disingenuous cunning of the former Government (now State) of New York, towards the inhabitants of said district. Which are humbly dedicated to the candid reader, by the author, for the good of mankind." Then follows this heading: "Miscellaneous remarks, &c.," and immediately subsequent are these words: "Our author informs us in page 7th and 8th, viz., 'It is unquestionable that the jurisdiction of this state over the territory which now comprehends the County of Cumberland, is coeval with its first formation as a colony under the crown of Great Britain.'" The words comprised within the single quotation marks, are from a report submitted to the Convention of New York on the 4th of October, 1776, by a committee consisting of William Duer, James Duane, Zephaniah Platt, John Sessions, Simon Stevens, and John Jay, copious extracts from which may be found in Hall's History of Eastern Vermont, at pages 271-275. In Thompson's History of Vermont, part II, at page 107, may be found a few items from the account-book of Col. Ira Allen. Among them is this: "1777. April 30th. To writing, a pamphlet, Vindicating the Rights of the people to form a State, and in answer to a pamphlet published by the Convention of New York, dated October 2d, 1776, and sent to the County of Cumberland, £6 0 0. To 8 days going to Hartford to get a'd pamphlet printed, £1 10 0." It is on these data that the title is founded. Consult Ira Allen's History of Vermont, p. 92. I have never seen a printed copy of the pamphlet.

— Particulars of the capture of the ship

Olive Branch, laden with a cargo of arms, &c., the property of Major General Ira Allen, destined for supplying the militia of Vermont, and captured by His Britannic Majesty's Ship of War, Audacious: together with the Proceedings and Evidence before the High Court of Admiralty of Great Britain. Vol. I. By Ira Allen, Esq., of Vermont, in the United States of America, the claimant in this cause. London: printed by J. W. Myers, No 2 Paternoster Row, 1798. 8vo. pp. vi, 405.

. In July, 1796, Ira Allen, in conformity to the written request of Thomas Chittenden, Governor and Captain General of Vermont, and for the equipment of the militia of that State, purchased at Paris, of the French Government, 20,000 muskets with their bayonets, 24 brass four-pound field pieces, 6 gun carriages, and 6 cannon-wagons. "These arms being thus purchased, the ship Olive Branch, a neutral bottom, was chartered in London to convey them to New York. She received the cargo at Ostend, and on the 11th of November, 1796, sailed from that port for New York, and on the 19th of the same month, was taken by his Majesty's ship of war, the Audacious, David George Gould, Esq., Commander, and brought to Portsmouth, and soon after libeled by the captors in the High Court of Admiralty at London." Allen subsequently laid claim to the cargo in legal form, and the proceedings which ensued, form the staple of this and the following volume.—I. Allen's Hist. VT., pp. III. IV.

— Particulars of the capture of the ship Olive Branch, laden with a cargo of cannon and arms, the property of Major General Ira Allen, destined for supplying the Militia of Vermont, and captured by his Britannic Majesty's ship of war Audacious; together with the proceedings and evidence before the high Court of Admiralty and Appeal, in Great Britain, and an account of his imprisonment in France, and persecutions by a conspiracy of the two Hemispheres: with an appendix, proposing a ship canal from Lake Champlain to the river St. Lawrence; the evacuation of Ticonderoga, and events of the war in 1777... truce in 1780, to the end of the war and a narrative of Colonel Ethan Allen's captivity, from 1775 to 1778. Bradley, Stephen R. Vermont's Appeal to the candid and impartial world. Containing, a fair stating of the claims of Massachusetts Bay, New Hampshire, and New York. The right the State of Vermont has to independence. With an Address to the Honorable American Congress, and the Inhabitants of the Thirteen United States. By Stephen R. Bradley, A. M. The Lord hath called me from the womb, from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name. And said unto me, thou art my servant, O V. . . . in whom I will be glorified. And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh, and they shall be drunken with their own blood as with sweet wine, and all flesh shall know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob. Isaiah xlix. Hartford: Printed by Hudson & Goodwin. 8vo. pp. 51.

. The following account of this pamphlet may not prove uninteresting.

"On the 24th of September, 1779, Congress, by an act, resolved to adjudicate upon the claims of Massachusetts Bay, New Hampshire, and New York, on the 1st of February, 1780. To Mr. Bradley was assigned the task of presenting, for the consideration of Congress, the views held by Vermont on this important question."

"With but little knowledge, at the time, of the extent of the subject, the young lawyer commenced his investigations, and in less than two months, had completed a faithful and well-written account of the state of the controversy. This was read before the Council of Vermont, at Arlington, on the 10th of December, 1779, and, having been approved of by them, was ordered to be published. It appeared early in the year 1780, under the title of 'Vermont's Appeal to the Candid and Impartial World,' and aided essentially in supporting the claims of Vermont to a separate and independent government. It was written with vigor, and did not want those flowers of rhetoric which adorn, and, not unfrequently, strengthen argument. Few copies of this production are now extant; but among those pamphlets written at this period upon the controversy, 'Vermont's Appeal' stands pre-eminent, not only on account of the force with which it is composed, but also by reason of the manner in which the topics of which it treats are presented. It was laid before Congress early in February, 1780, by its author, who had been previously selected to advocate the claims of Vermont at Philadelphia. Copies of the publication were also presented to many of the members, but no opportunity was granted to Mr. Bradley to appear in person before a committee of Congress, in consequence of the postponement of the consideration of the controversy question."—Hull's Hist. East. Vt., p. 596.

Among the items on the account book of Col. Ira Allen, the first treasurer of Vermont, is to be found this charge: "1778, Dec. 25. To 13 days assisting to revise Vt. Appeal, wrote by S. R. Bradley, Esq., &c., $9 16s. 0d."—Thompson's Hist. Vt., Part II., p. 107.

This pamphlet was reprinted in the Brattleboro' (Semi-weekly) Eagle, commencing in No. 57, of the date of February 24, 1851, and ending in No. 62, of the date of March 18, 1851.

New Hampshire Grants. (1). A State of the Right of the Colony of New York, with respect to it's Eastern Boundary on Connecticut River, so far as concerns the late Encroachments under the Government of New Hampshire. And also a State of the Rights of the Colony of New York, so far as concerns the Grants formerly made by the French Government of Canada, of Lands on Lake Champlain, and at and to the southward of Crown Point. Agreed to and published by the General Assembly of the Colony of New York, at their Sessions in M,DCC,LXXIII. New York: Printed by H. Gaine, Printer, Bookseller, and Stationer, at the Bible and Crown, in Hanover Square. 1773. Folio, pp. 28.

. The history of this pamphlet is as follows:

"In answer to a petition from Col. John Munnell and others, 'Interested in lands to the westward of Connecticut River,' praying that the General Assembly would adopt measures to prevent 'the success of the solicitations and interposition of the government of New Hampshire, in prejudice of the ancient limits' of New York, the House on the 17th of February, 1773, having resolved itself into a 'grand committee on grievances,' declared that the eastern limits of the colony, both by the royal grants to the Duke of York and by the orders in privy council of July 20th, 1764, were the western banks of Connecticut River. For the purpose of presenting the subject in a tangible form, they appointed Col. Philip Schuyler, John De Noyella, and Cress Brush a committee to draft a representation of the rights of the colony of New York to the lands in question. This representation, when agreed to by the House, was to be transmitted to the agent of the colony, to enable him to maintain the claim at the court of Great Britain. On Saturday, the 6th of March following, Mr. Brush gave in the report of the committee, which was adopted on Monday the 8th, and entered on the journals. It was entitled 'A state of the right of the colony of New York, with respect to its eastern boundary on Connecticut River, so far as concerns the late encroachments under the government of New Hampshire.'

"This document was subsequently printed in the form of a folio pamphlet, and, with others of a similar character, was placed in the hands of all the leading men engaged in the controversy. It was prepared mainly by the Hon. James Duane, and presented an able argument in support of the rights of New York." — Hall's Hist. Eastern Vt., § 6. Referred to also in Doc. Hist. N. Y., iv., 1025, 1065.

— (2). A Narrative of the Proceedings subsequent to the Royal Adjudication concerning the Lands to the Westward of Connecticut River, lately usurped by New Hampshire, with Remarks on the Claim, Behavior, and Misrepresentations of the Intruders under that Government. Intended as an Appendix to the General Assembly's State of the Right of the Colony of New York (with respect to its Eastern Boundary on Connecticut River, so far as concerns the late Encroachments under the Government of New Hampshire). Published at their Session 1773. New York: Printed by John Holt, near the Coffee House. M,DCC,LXXIII. Folio, pp. 28.

. This pamphlet was intended to accompany the preceding publication, marked (1), and is usually to be found bound with it. It was reprinted in the Brattleboro' (Vt.) Semi-weekly Eagle, in the issues of that paper comprehended between No. 44, published January 9, 1851, and No. 56, published February 20, 1851, inclusive.

— (3). Appendix, containing Grants, Acts of Government, and other Proofs concerning the Encroachments of the Colony of New Hampshire, and the Conduct, Claims, and Misrepresentations of its Grantees, referred to in the preceding "State of the Right of the Colony of New York, with respect to its Eastern Boundary on Connecticut River, so far as concerns the late Encroachments under the Government of New Hampshire," and also in the "Narrative of the Proceedings subsequent to the Royal Adjudication concerning the Lands to the Westward of Connecticut River, lately occupied by New Hampshire." Folio, pp. 66.

. This collection of documentary evidence was prepared to accompany the pamphlets immediately preceding, and numbered (1) and (2). It was, doubtless, printed in 1773.

— A Petition to his Majesty King George the Third. Sm. 4to. pp. ii., 5.

. At the close of this petition are these words: "Dated in New England, November, 1766, and in the seventh year of his Majesty's reign."

— A Public Defence of the Right of the New Hampshire Grants (so called) on both sides Connecticut River to associate together, and form themselves into an Independent State.

Containing Remarks on Sundry Paragraphs of Letters from the President of the Council of New Hampshire to his Excellency Governor Chittenden, and the New Hampshire Delegates at Congress. Dresden: Printed by Alden Spooner. 1779. 8vo., pp. 56.

. This pamphlet was drawn up "Pursuant to a resolve of the General Assembly of the State of Vermont, passed October 20th, 1778, 'that a declaration be drawn up, setting forth the political state of the New Hampshire Grants (so called) on both sides of Connecticut River, &c.'" and was "repeatedly read and unanimously approved" at Cornish, N. H., in Convention, December 9, 1778. It was signed, "Jacob Bayley, Elisha Payne, Beza Woodward, Committee. New Hampshire Grants, Dec. 1, 1778." It is referred to in Belknap's History of New Hampshire, II., 441; Doc. Hist. N. Y., IV., 1026.

— An Address of the Inhabitants of the Towns of Plainfield, Lebanon, Enfield (alias Relhan), Canaan, Cardigan, Hanover, Lime, Oxford, Haverhill, Bath, and Landaff to the Inhabitants of the several Towns in the Colony of New Hampshire. Norwich: Printed by John Trumbull. MDCCLXXVI. 12mo., pp. 16.

. This pamphlet, opposing the manner of legislation at that time about to be adopted in New Hampshire, was probably written by those interested in Dartmouth College, and was published in July, 1776.

— Report of the Committee on the part of the General Assembly of New York, as to the boundaries of New York. MS. folio, pp. 25.

. The above title is conjectural. The work intended to be referred to by it, is preserved in the library of the New York Historical Society. The introductory passage of the MS. is as follows: "The Committee appointed to state the boundaries of New York and the title and principles upon which they are founded, have, according to order, taken the same under consideration, and thereupon have agreed to the following report, which is humbly submitted."

— Resolves of a Convention held on the New Hampshire Grants. 8vo. pp. 4.

. The day on which this Convention was held, was December 9th, 1778.

— Some reflections on the disputes between New York, New Hampshire, and Col. John Henry Lydius, of Albany.

Qui ab altero ferè tuleris, ne inferes ipse.

To these Reflections are added, some Rules of Law, fit to be observed in purchasing land, &c. New Haven: Printed and sold by Benjamin Mecom. 1764. 8vo. pp. 24.

. This pamphlet advocates the Lydius title.

NOTE.—Besides the publications noted under this heading and other headings in this Catalogue, respecting the land controversy, there were many others of a less pretentious character, which appeared in the newspapers published at Hartford, Conn., and Portsmouth, N. H.

Phelps, Charles. Vermonters Unmasked; or, some of their evil conduct made manifest, from facts too glaring to be denied, and many of them too criminal to be justified, as follows, viz. 8vo. pp. 12.

. This pamphlet is signed, "Your sincere Friend, A Citizen of the United States. 10th June, 1782." Its author was Charles Phelps, an inhabitant of Marlborough, in Vermont. In the History of Eastern Vermont, Mr. Hall refers to this pamphlet; but he had not seen a copy of it when he wrote his work, and it will be seen he is in error in placing the date of the pamphlet as late as October, 1782. With this exception, his remarks are correct. "He," says Mr. Hall, referring to Charles Phelps, "prepared and presented for the consideration of Congress and the impartial world," a 'State paper,' entitled 'Vermonters Unmasked,' in which he called the attention of all the States to the danger to which they were exposed, if the 'audacious precedent' of dismembering States should be established, in consequence of the act of usurpation of which Vermont had been guilty, in depriving both New York and New Hampshire of a portion of their lawful and acknowledged territory. Many other points were largely discussed in this production, and the whole argument was supported by copious extracts from Grotius, Puffendorf, Vattel, and other civilians."

On the 11th of September, 1782, Phelps was presented by the grand jury of Windham County, for setting on foot an insurrection in Vermont, and for attempting to "subvert the freedom and independence of the government" of that State. In addition to these charges, it was stated, reference being had to this pamphlet, "that Phelps had brought into the State of Vermont, 'a seditious libel, tending to stir up a public rebellion'; that he had written, printed, and published abroad, 'a seditious libel, with a manifest intent, wittingly and designedly, to raise an insurrection and public rebellion against the State; and that there was the highest reason to believe that there were in his possession 'a number of books, writings, and manuscripts,' whose tendency was to weaken and destroy the government and constitution as established. A warrant for his arrest, and for the seizure of his books, was accordingly issued. The search for Phelps was unsuccessful, but his books and manuscripts were seized, and having been brought into court were retained as confiscated to the State. Such of them as were obnoxious were probably destroyed or concealed, and the remainder were sold under the hammer." Hall's Hist. East. Vt., pp. 449, 635, et seq.

III. p. 878.

"A history of the Missisco Valley, by Samuel Sumner, is now in press, under the auspices of the Orleans County Historical Society. Rev. Bernice D. Ames has nearly ready for publication a history of Charlotte. A history of Bradford, by the Rev. Silas McKean, is in active preparation. The town of Burlington voted, at its annual meeting in March, that measures be taken for having a history of the town prepared, at an expense not exceeding five hundred dollars." Ibid., May, 1861, vol. — History of Vermont, Natural, Civil, and Statistical, in three parts, with a new Map of the State, and 200 engravings. By Zadock Thompson. [State seal in a star.] Burlington: Published for the Author, by Chauncey Goodrich. 1842. 8vo. pp. iv, 224, 224, 204.

. Properly speaking, there has been but one edition of this work—that above designated. On the title page of some of the copies, however, the words "Published for the author by," are omitted. In 1868, Mr. Thompson published an Appendix in a separate volume, which is now generally bound with the work to which it belongs, in a single volume. The title of the Appendix is in these words: "Appendix to the History of Vermont, Natural, Civil, and Statistical. 1853. By Zadock Thompson. [State seal and motto.] Burlington: Published by the Author. Stacy and J. Merson, Printers. 1858." 8vo. pp. 64. Each of the three parts is often bound separately, being complete in itself. The Appendix, which, in the main, treats of the natural history of the State, is sometimes bound with part first, thus forming a full and very correct work on the natural history of Vermont.

Whittier, John G. The Song of the Vermonters, 1779.

. This ballad is properly noted here, on account of the historical illusions with which it abounds, and the spirited reflection which it exhibits of the feelings of the Vermonters at the period to which it alludes. In a communication to the Historical Magazine, Mr. John G. Whittier acknowledges the authorship of it, in these words: "The citation of this song as a genuine specimen of early ballad-making, has not escaped my notice heretofore, but I have not taken the trouble to claim the questionable honor of its authorship. The verses are mine, and were first published by my friend, J. T. Buckingham, Esq., in the N. E. Magazine." Hist. Mag., v. II. p. 152.

- . The author of this original and charming production, to which he justly gives the title of "The true history of the Conquest of New Spain," was himself one of the Conquistadores—one who not only witnessed the transactions which he relates, but who also performed a glorious part in them—a soldier who for impartiality and veracity has never had his equal. His account is acknowledged to be the only one on which we can place any reliance, and it has been the magazine from which the most eloquent of the Spanish writers on the same subject, as well as those of other countries, have borrowed their best materials. Some historians have even transcribed whole pages, but have not had sufficient honesty to acknowledge it. (J. Ingham Lockhart, his translator.) Bernal Diaz's account bears all the marks of authenticity, and is accompanied with much pleasing nateet, with such interesting details, with such amusing vanity, and yet so pardonable in an old soldier, who had been, as he boasts, in a hundred and nineteen battles, as renders his book one of the most singular that is to be found in any language.

* * First and extremely scarce edition of this work. Meusel, Ternaux, and Rich always considered the second edition as the first. Very curious details on this book and on its author may be found in O'Callaghan's History of New York, and it is only since it has become known in America that the history of New Netherlands is understood. Even in 1832, Mr. Rich spoke of the existence of a work on the New Netherlands, before the year 1670, as very doubtful; and it is owing in a great measure to the researches made in Holland by Mr. Brodhead, Messrs. Asher, father and son, and myself, that there are now no less than fifteen publications of an earlier date known." [Muller, of Amsterdam.]

Mr. Muller has this work on his catalogue priced for the first edition (the same as this) $125, and for the second edition of 1656, $100.

- . "This is the rare original edition of a book, the importance of which is, I believe, plain to every one who knows only one-tenth of the novels, imaginary voyages, books for youths, and for other people, comedies, and tragedies which have been taken from it by almost every European nation; so that to collect all that literature might be the task for a man's life. There is certainly no other book of that time which experienced a popularity similar to that of the 'Buccaniers of America,' which was, in the ten years following its publication, translated into most of the European languages; and there is a fact most curious in the literary history of all times, that the original was certainly unknown to all translators but one. They were all inclined to take the Spanish edition for the original; nay, even the learned editors of Mr. Grenville's catalogue seem doubtful whether the Dutch edition existed in print, or in MS. only. I leave it to amateurs more learned than myself to decide whether this is owing to the fact of so few people studying the Dutch language, or to the scarcity of the book, and shall only add that it is not mentioned by Rich or by Ternaux, which both contain the Spanish, English and French translations, while Ternaux notices a large number of Dutch books of minor importance. As to myself, I never saw more than two copies before, which were sold to American amateurs." [Muller, of Amsterdam.]

VALUABLE BOOKS FOR FAMILIES AND SCHOOLS.

C. S. Francis & Co., New York,

HAVE JUST PUBLISHED

A GUIDE TO THE KNOWLEDGE OF LIFE, VEGETABLE AND ANIMAL;

Being a Comprehensive Manual of Physiology, viewed in relation to the Maintenance of Health.

BY ROBERT JAMES MANN, M. D.

PRICE 88 CENTS.

"This book is by one of the scientific teachers of the time; sound in knowledge, earnest in purpose, and, above all writers on intricate subjects, gifted with wonderful powers of explanation and description. Whatever requires to be known of the portions of the body, their functions and uses, and the best means for their sustentation and healthy action, is here displayed, and intelligible at a glance. Nothing is omitted which can either gratify the curiosity or inform the mind."—Chambers's Journal.

The attention of teachers is particularly called to this book. No such comprehensive yet simple and intelligible Manual for Teaching Physiology, has ever before been published.

C. S. FRANCIS & CO., Booksellers, Publishers, and Importers,

Have for sale a very complete and extensive stock of English and American Books in the various departments of literature, including standard editions of the best authors in HISTORY, BIOGRAPHY, BELLES LETTRES, &c., finely bound in morocco, calf, etc., for DRAWING-ROOM LIBRARIES. Likewise, ornamental and richly-embellished books of plates for the center-table.

Particular attention given to orders from PUBLIC AND PRIVATE LIBRARIES. Through their London agencies, all English books of interest received at an early day after publication, and they carefully attend to the importation of BOOKS AND PERIODICALS for which they may receive orders, a small commission only being charged for the business. The same attention given to an order for a single copy as for a quantity.

CATALOGUES OF BOOKS, new and old, published in London, and Cheap Lists from the principal dealers in second-hand books, received by every steamer.

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN PERIODICALS supplied and served carefully and faithfully to subscribers throughout the city, or sent by mail to the country. Orders from any part of the world, with a remittance, or reference for payment in New York, will be promptly attended to.

C. S. F. & Co. will forward an extensive Catalogue of English and American Books, on receipt of two three-cent postage stamps.

OFFICE OF PUDNEY & RUSSELL, GENERAL PRINTERS,

79 JOHN STREET, New York.

The Undersigned take pleasure in announcing to their friends and the Public, that they have greatly enlarged their building, and made extensive improvements and additions to their establishment, by the introduction of new TYPE, and the most approved POWER PRESSES. Our capacities for serving our patrons, in all lines of Printing, being thus greatly increased, we respectfully invite their attention to the following resumé of the several branches of our business:—

Sermons, Addresses, Proceedings of Ecclesiastical Bodies, &c.

Having had a long and practical experience of work of this character, we feel no hesitation in expressing the belief that we can satisfy the taste of the most critical.

Members of the Bar, and others requiring legal printing, are confidently referred to the numerous REPORTS OF CASES, OPINIONS, ARGUMENTS, DECISIONS, &c., executed by us for the various COURTS and leading LAWYERS of this City. Appreciating the absolute importance of the minutest particularity in this species of work, we pledge ourselves to the strictest accuracy.

Colleges, Academies, Boarding Schools, and Public Institutions

generally, which require CATALOGUES, can have them printed in any style of typography.

Manufacturing and other Companies wishing PRICES CURRENT, ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUES, LABELS, &c., are particularly referred to our opportunities for doing this work in the most tasteful manner.

The Attention of Business Men, in every part of the Country, is asked to our various styles of CIRCULARS, BILL-HEADS, LABELS, CATALOGUES, CHECKS, DRAFTS, BILLS OF LADING, SHOW-BILLS, &c. In an especial manner, however, we invite their notice to our facilities for preparing Pamphlets and Circulars Descriptive of Business.

Having, in our varied establishment, persons trained to the occupation of writing for the Press, we propose to make this feature a specialty, and engage to mold into agreeable and attractive form, with a strict conformity to the canons of good taste, any facts, however roughly expressed, that may be placed in our hands for that purpose.

Authors

having works to publish, are invited to inspect our ample means for printing the largest editions in the most elegant styles. It is needless to say, that having a carefully organized corps of Canvassing Agents in nearly every county in the Union, we have unsurpassed machinery at our command, for the circulation and sale of our publications.

Orders and Directions for work in either of the above branches, may be sent by mail, and will meet with prompt attention. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

We cordially ask our friends in the city, as well as visitors from the country, to call upon us, and test our ability to serve them.

PUDNEY & RUSSELL.

COOPER'S NOVELS.

Darley's Illustrated Edition.

THIS ENTIRELY NEW AND ELEGANT EDITION OF THE NOVELS of J. FENNIMORE COOPER is issued regularly, a volume on the first of each month, SIXTEEN VOLUMES being now (May, 1860) ready for subscribers. The entire series will be completed in Thirty-two Volumes.

This edition of Cooper's Novels is illustrated from drawings by F. O. C. DARLEY, each volume containing TWO VIGNETTES ON STEEL and TWELVE SKETCHES ON WOOD, engraved in the very best style, especially for this edition. The remarkable spirit and power evinced in all the designs from the pencil of Mr. Darley, have signally and eminently characterized those illustrating the scenes and characters of Cooper's novels. The artist's long familiarity with the pages of our great novelist, and a hearty love and appreciation of his genius, have resulted in the production of a series of drawings, which, for dramatic, picturesque, and vivid interest, have perhaps no superiors in modern art. These drawings have been engraved with a faithfulness and care worthy their reputation, by the acknowledged first artists in the country, exclusively in Line and Etching, and with a scrupulous regard to the requirements of first-class art. In their nationality, and their great superiority over ordinary book illustrations, they especially commend themselves to all connoisseurs of the Fine Arts.

Printed on superior, calendered, and toned paper, elegantly and uniformly bound in embossed cloth, with beveled edges. Published by subscription at $1.50 per volume.

LEONARD SCOTT & CO.'S

REPRINT OF THE

BRITISH REVIEWS,

AND

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.

L. SCOTT & CO., NEW YORK, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz.:

- I.—THE LONDON QUARTERLY (Conservative).
- II.—THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig).
- III.—THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church).
- IV.—THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal).
- V.—BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory).

These Periodicals ably represent the three great political parties of Great Britain—Whig, Tory, and Radical,—but politics forms only one feature of their character. As Organs of the most profound writers on Science, Literature, Morality, and Religion, they stand, as they ever have stood, unrivaled in the world of letters, being considered indispensable to the scholar and the professional man, while to the intelligent reader of every class they furnish a more correct and satisfactory record of the current literature of the day, throughout the world, than can be possibly obtained from any other source.

EARLY COPIES.

The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty-five per cent. from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works. Thus: Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

POSTAGE.

In all the principal cities and towns, these works will be delivered FREE OF POSTAGE. When sent by mail, the Postage to any part of the United States, will be but TWENTY-FOUR CENTS a year for "Blackwood," and but FOURTEEN CENTS a year for each of the Reviews.

N. B.—The price in Great Britain of the five Periodicals above named, is $31 per annum.

OUR REPRINTS VERSUS ECLECTICS, ETC.

As we have for many years been paying more than $3,000 annually to the British Publishers for the matter furnished in these Periodicals, thus VIRTUALLY BECOMING CO-PARTNERS WITH THEM IN THE PROFITS OF THE REPRINTS, we trust the public will consider this in bestowing their patronage, and give us the preference over ECLECTIC and other PATCHWORK publications, whether monthly or weekly, which now extract so liberally from our works and PAY NOTHING either to the FOREIGN PUBLISHERS or to us for the same. As to CHEAPNESS, nobody can complain of paying $10 a year for the four leading British Reviews and Blackwood's Magazine, and by taking these works ENTIRE, subscribers are not obliged to be guided by others in the choice of the articles they may desire to read. Moreover, taking into consideration the style in which our Reprints are published, and their acknowledged fidelity to the original editions, and also the advantage of an early issue by means of the advance Sheets—our series will be found as cheap as any of the competing publications to which we have alluded.

Remittances should always be addressed, post-paid, to the publishers,

A. ELIAERS' PATENT Extending & Reclining Chairs.

(GENTLEMAN'S CHAIR.)

The Gentleman's Reading Chair.

This Chair is intended for comfort and convenience, and is greatly approved by the medical faculty, as is shown by numerous orders from them. The space it occupies is precisely the same as a common easy chair, which it resembles when not extended. It is quite low, the principle of its extension admitting that; and when extended, will accommodate a tall or short person, the party who occupies, regulating it. It extends by a slight push of the hand; it then gradually falls back to any angle that may be desired, even to a horizontal position, at the same time the adaptation to the figure is complete and luxurious; the arm of the chair maintains the same height, being undisturbed by the movement; a pivoting desk can be attached to the arm, as in the cut, for the support of books, or for the convenience of writing, and can be detached, or turned on the pivot to one side, so as to admit of greater freedom. The prices of the Gentleman's Chair range from $25 to $100; the price of the Lady's Chair is less, being from $23 upwards.

Fig. 1, Patented Five and Three Step Library Chairs. $30 and upwards.

A comfortable study Chair, easily converted, by a single movement of the hand, into Library Steps, as in fig. 2.

It is proper to observe that the construction of these Chairs and Steps makes them strong, durable, and safe; at the same time they are elegant and of rich material.

Fig. 2, Library Steps.

We obtain these steps by a single movement, which reverses the back of the chair, seen in fig. 1. It is then of a sufficient height to enable you to obtain books on the highest library shelf or to closely examine pictures on the walls.

Patent Port-folio and Music Stand, self-locking at any angle required.

Patent Port-folio. $24 and upwards.

This Port-folio and Music Stand is superior in form, construction, and finish, to all others. The support to the leaf is always perpendicular, which imparts strength, and the leaf lays down to any angle required, without the possibility of slipping. One principle or movement is used in all these articles by Mons. ELIAERS, and it is the principle that he has patented throughout.

PUBLISHERS OF THE

NATIONAL SERIES

STANDARD SCHOOL BOOKS.

THESE WORKS ARE PREPARED BY THE BEST EDUCATORS IN THE COUNTRY, AND DESIGNED WITH special reference to the thorough Education of the Youth of our land. Great care has been taken to exclude sectional or sectarian matter, so that the series is regarded as truly the NATIONAL SCHOOL SERIES. The favor which these books have received from all parts of the United States, warrants the Publishers in calling upon their friends to examine each of the works comprising this series (provided they have not already done so), with a view of making them their STANDARD TEXT-BOOKS. The following is a part of the series:

THE NATIONAL SERIES OF ARITHMETICS AND MATHEMATICS. By Prof. CHARLES DAVIES, LL.D., formerly of the United States Military Academy, and now of Columbia College. (The standard of New York, Baltimore, New Orleans, Buffalo, Rochester, Milwaukee, and other large cities.)

THE NATIONAL SERIES OF GEOGRAPHIES. By JAMES MONTEITH and FRANCIS McNALLY. (The standard of New Orleans, New York, Buffalo, Milwaukee, Newark, Brooklyn, and other cities.)

THE NATIONAL SERIES OF SCHOOL HISTORIES. By EMMA WILLARD and JAMES MONTEITH. (Daniel Webster said of Mrs. Willard's History of the United States: "I keep it near me as a valuable book of reference, accurate in facts and dates.") It was also highly recommended by Henry Clay, and many other of our most illustrious Statesmen and Educators.)

THE NATIONAL SERIES OF SCHOOL READERS AND SPELLERS. By RICHARD G. PARKER and JAS. M. WATSON. Recommended wherever they are known, as the most beautiful and the most practical Readers and Spellers ever published.

THE NATIONAL SERIES OF ENGLISH GRAMMAR. Illustrated with Diagrams. By S. W. CLARK. Clark's method of teaching this hitherto dry subject makes it one of the most interesting studies in the language.

JOHNSON'S PHILOSOPHICAL CHARTS.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR APPARATUS.

Illustrating, with Diagrams and Colored Figures, the Principles of Natural Philosophy.

They never get out of order, are always ready for use, and cost but little.

The Charts, which are TEN IN NUMBER—each being 84 by 52 inches—are well bound, and strongly mounted on cloth and rollers. They are printed with white lines on black ground, and most of the drawings are colored, making them distinctly visible from any part of the largest school-room, preventing them from becoming soiled, besides giving them a neat, lively, and ornamental appearance.

[From BENJ. SILLIMAN, LL. D., Prof. Emeritus in Yale College.]

"Dr. Johnson's Philosophical Charts are well worthy of the attention of all teachers and learners of the different branches of Natural Philosophy to which they relate.

"The diagrams drawn in colored or contracted lines, upon a black ground, are perfectly distinct and intelligible, and the large size and handsome mounting of the charts give them a striking and attractive appearance.

"To teachers without apparatus they must be an invaluable acquisition, and a very useful one to those who have the instruments. BENJ. SILLIMAN."

Testimonials from many other scientific and literary gentlemen, as well as from hundreds of practical teachers in nearly all parts of the country, have been received.

Price of the Ten Charts, mounted on cloth, with rollers, with Key, $15; Mounted on paper, with Key, $12; Unmounted, with Key, sent post-paid, per mail, $6.

PROSPECTUS.

LIBRARIANS, BOOKSELLERS, SUPERINTENDENTS OF COLLEGIATE AND EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS, AND THE LITERARY PUBLIC IN GENERAL, ARE RESPECTFULLY INFORMED THAT THE UNDERSIGNED WILL ISSUE ON THE 1ST OF JUNE NEXT, A LITERARY AND CRITICAL JOURNAL, 256 PAGES, ROYAL OCTAVO, ENTITLED THE NATIONAL QUARTERLY REVIEW,

EDITED BY EDWARD I. SEARS, A. B.

THE new Periodical will not be the organ of any clique, or party. It will know no such distinctions as North and South, except as indicating the integral parts of our common country; in short, it will be American in the broadest and most legitimate acceptance of the term.

Although devoted mainly to Literature, Art, Education and general Culture, it will contain occasional articles on the prominent political questions of the day.

While giving due prominence to American Literature, it is our intention that no foreign work of decided merit, whether French, German, Italian, Spanish, &c., shall be overlooked. The best will be examined in the original, and such new facts or interesting theories, as they may be found to contain, will be brought under review, and discussed in a liberal, cosmopolitan spirit.

Reviews of remarkable works on Christianity, by writers of different religious denominations, will be admissible.

Educational publications will receive careful attention, especially Greek and Latin Text Books. From twelve to eighteen pages will be devoted to brief critical notices of new books, translations, &c. A list containing the full titles of all publications received during the quarter, will be given at the end of each number. In a word, nothing will be omitted, which should be expected in a critical journal of the first class; no pains nor expense will be spared to render it in fact, as well as in name, THE NATIONAL QUARTERLY of the United States.

TERMS.—The Review will be furnished only to annual subscribers, at the rate of Three Dollars for a single subscription, or two copies for Five Dollars.

Nevertheless, in order that the community shall be enabled to judge adequately of the merits of this new publication, the publishers will furnish a SPECIMEN COPY OF THE FIRST NUMBER to those desiring to inspect its plan and arrangement, upon the transmission of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS to them, at any time prior to the day of the proposed publication.

The early attention of literary men, and of librarians, is therefore deemed to be absolutely indispensable.

Business communications to be addressed to the publishers. Communications relative to the literary department, to be addressed to Mr. E. I. Sears, who will promptly examine all articles sent, cheerfully returning, if desired, such as may not be deemed suitable.

We obtain these steps by a single movement, which reverses the back of the chair, seen in fig. 1. It is then of a sufficient height to enable you to obtain books on the highest library shelf or to closely examine pictures on the walls.

Patent Port-folio. $24 and upwards.

This Port-folio and Music Stand is superior in form, construction, and finish, to all others. The support to the leaf is always perpendicular, which imparts strength, and the leaf lays down to any angle required, without the possibility of slipping. One principle or movement is used in all these articles by Mons.
ELIAERS, and it is the principle that he has patented throughout.
